report Captain Charles Young, acting sup-erintendent of Sequois and General Grant national parks of California, in which many giant trees are located, urges the acquisition by the government of the land in these parks which is owned by private individuals. In Sequola park there are many large tracts thus owned, and after waiting in vain for years for the government to purchase their property, the owners are beginning to sell off the large

"Many of them are tired of walting." he said, "and where these big trees grew close to the county road, the owners have cut them by the wholesale and put the lumber upon the market, so that where later in the United States. About this time the entire right-of-way granted by Seponce was a fine forest of magnificent giant trees, there is now but devastation and ruin in the shape of stumps and sawdust piles on either side of the high road. It is but just to the owners and for the best interest of the government that the turchase of these patented lands within the park limits be authorized by congress the parks are to be continued." He mays the lands can be secured for reasonable prices. Captain Young says game is

Conditions at Yellowstone Park. John Pitcher's report on Yellowstone park is devoted largely to the condition of the game in that preserve. He recom mends that provisions be made for feeding game in the park in the winter. The langer of loss by starvation, he says, is increasing yearly, owing to the fact that the country around the park is settling up, thus limiting the range. He thinks would not be a difficult matter to feed the antelope and sheep, as their winter ringe is close to Fort Yellowstone. ROADS'AFTER MONEY FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Railroada' Earnings Continue Satisfactory, Though Action of Managers Indicate They Are Anticipating a Decline.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Henry Clews in his weekly Wall street letter says:

Speculative conditions in the stock market show moderate improvement and increasing resisting powers. Confidence revives slowly, but there is a marked absence of the unsettling rumors which affected the stability of values during the last two or three months. Now that the weakest spots in the situation have been eliminated, the market is more likely to be under the influence of natural conditions and its future to be more safely gauged by ordinary judgment. High grade securities have already shown a fair recovery, but their further improvement is temporarily impeded by the monetary outlook and by the perpicious effect on the general market caused by the excessive weakness in the United States Steel shares. During the hext few weeks good rates for money are likely to prevail, and it is quite conceivable that occasional furries may be encountered meanwhile. It must be remembered that the crop movement is two to three weeks late in most localities, and even four weeks late in some, so that these demands have appeared later than usual, and funds will be correspondingly late in returning. This will be especially true of the south, where the high price of cotton, the rapidity with which it is being marketed, and the lateness of the crop all tehd to upset all ordinary calculations as to the southern movement. The efflux at this time has also been undoubtedly augmented by shipments to strengthen western financial institutions; hence, while the heavy liquidation of last summer has saved the money market from the strain that was feared earlier in the year, other demands which could not have been foreseen are imposing themselves, and these effectually prevent easy rates.

New Securities on Market. NEW YORK, Nov. 8 .- Henry Clews in his weekly Wall street letter says:

New Securities on Market.

New Securities on Market.

Just at this juncture corporation demands assert themselves. Pennsylvania and some of its subsidiary concerns, also Lake Shore, taking advantage of the first favorable opportunity, are putting additional millions of new securities on the market, and certain other leading railroad corporations are likely to follow suit in order to provide funds for improvements that cannot be indefinitely delayed. The probability of these demands asserting themselves as soon as market conditions improve cannot be overlooked. Such issues as may be forthcoming are likely to be of the best class, and will, no doubt, find a good market among investors; but in present congested financial conditions they will hardly be deemed bull arguments, and indifferent securities are likely to be neglected. The only source of relief to the monetary situation in case of stringency is in gold imports. Europe is rather disposed to retain surplus funds, although the best opinion is that if New York needs gold it will come. That is assuring, and probably true. Our foreign trade movement is growing more favorable to gold imports, for the reason that the exports are decreasing. The latter is a new feature, the result of depression here and a lessened demand for luxuries, and is having the effect of decreasing national revenue at a time when national expenses are at a high-water mark.

Railroad Earnings Satisfactory.

Railroad Earnings Satisfactory, both gross and net, although decreases in the latter grow more frequent. Railroad managers, however, are often making strenuous efforts at retrenchment, not only in improvements, but also in ordinary operating expenses. Whether this is due to increased costs of labor and material, or to an anticipated decline in business, does not appear. But the movement is significant, and is probably partly owing to both causes Bank clearings for several weeks have been showing declines of 15 to 29 per cent, compared with last year, the heaviest shrinkage, of course, being in the eastern financial centers, while the western clies still continue to show gains over last year. A conservative policy seems general in business circles. The sharp declines in lipsn products attract attention, and at first exert a deterrent effect. Eventually, flowever, or as soon as it is evident that more settled conditions have been reached, a new run of orders will be received, for it is well understood will be received, for it is well understood. Railroad Earnings Satisfactory.

As already intimated in these advices, the market shows a tendency to differentilate, the high grade securities auting away from the bad. A fair recovery has been made, and now much depends upon monetary developments. Stringent money would probably mean cheaper stocks, and vice versa, international politics may have a slight effect upon the world's security markets, but the danger of an outbreak in the far east is not immediate. In our own political situation there is also nothing to cause uneasiness. Congress will do little or nothing until after the presidential election, a year bence, and no disturbance need be expected from that quarter. One of the most important uncertainties is the Northern Securities case, a decision being expected from the United States supreme court in December. Upon this decision some most important financial operations will certainly depend. Investors Are Particular.

Foreign Financial. LONDON, Nov. 8 .- The week's business LONDON, Nov. 8.—The week's business on the stock exchange has again been duli, with prices irregular. Regular attention has been paid to the position of the American market, more than to the question of far eastern politics. The renewed break in Steel stocks has been a disturbing influence in the railroad list, but prices recovered considerably Saturday. Colombian fell heavily on the news of the revolution on the isthmus of Panama, but other South American securities remained steady. American securities remained steady, Bonds showed little change. Kaffirs con-tinued weak, with an almost total absence of business, and with no prospect of im-provement until the South African labor trouble is solved.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 8.—The cloth market during the last week showed a hardening tendency, in consequence of the higher price of cotten, checking trade with China. While the demand from India showed an inclination to lag, moderate parcels were sold as the result of prolonged negotiations. The trade with South America was more active.

Is now a strong demand for yearlings as well as for choice fleshy feeders. Such kinds may be quoted from $3.75 to $4.00. The fair to good grades go from $3.00 to $3.50 and common kinds and horned cattle from $2.50 to $3.00.

The big bulk of the receipts all the week consisted of western grass cattle, but only a few of them were good enough for killers. The quality, though of the bulk of them was far from being good. The demand has been in good shape and prices are generally 10%15c higher than the close of last week. Good to choice grades may be quoted from $4.00 to $4.50, but very few are coming good enough to bring those prices. The bulk of the medium grades sell from $3.00 down.

HOGS—There was about the usual number of hogs on sale this morning and the market improved a little at all points. At this market the advance amounted to just about a nickel. The heavy hogs sold largely from $4.75 to $4.50. The top price was paid for pigs. Trading was not very active, but still all the early arrivals were disposed of in good season, the same as usual, though there were some late trains, so that the day was well advanced before the market rame to a close.

For the week, receipts have been about 2,000 head heavier than for last week, but about 10,000 head less than for the corresponding week of last year. Prices have moved steadily downward ever since Monday, with the exception of today, and a net loss of about 20c is noted Light weights are still selling at the top prices and bigs also frequently top the market, but they must be good. Pigs that show the effects of sickness are sold subject.

About noon today several cars of hogs arrived and packers seemed to want them. They changed hands freely at prices fully as good as those paid earlier in the day. Representative sales:
