

MAXWELL PROPOSES PLAN

Urges Omaha Commercial Club to Get in on Irrigation Funds.

WORK FOR RECLAIMING ARID LANDS

Secretary of National Irrigation Association Outlines a Plan Which He Thinks Local Men Should Follow.

George H. Maxwell, secretary of the National Irrigation association, appeared before the Commercial club executive committee yesterday at a special meeting and made some suggestions as to the formation of an active working party to further the cause of reclamation of arid land.

President A. C. Smith of the club, Euclid Martin, Secretary Utt and others commended the plan of Mr. Maxwell, and it was arranged that Mr. Utt go to Lincoln tomorrow with Mr. Maxwell, who speaks at two meetings there, and on his return lay the facts before the irrigation committee of the club, which reports at the meeting after next some plan for action.

"Before submitting this rough plan, I am glad to inform you," said Mr. Maxwell, "that I have just heard that the Sweetwater dam in Wyoming will not be built. Not enough land could be found in that locality to pay for the work or use of the water. The location has been changed so that Nebraska land will get a large part of the North Platte water, and not be deprived of it, as there was a danger until this change."

The Proposed Plan.

Mr. Maxwell's plan of action is:

1. That an active working committee be appointed by the Omaha Commercial club as a committee on forestry, irrigation and the public lands, act as a committee on organization and legislation, both state and national.

2. This committee to appoint a secretary, treasurer, Omaha organizer and state organizer, their compensation and expenses of correspondence carried on by the committee to be provided for by a fund subscribed by Omaha firms, regular commercial memberships, as in Los Angeles.

3. Omaha organizer to canvass for members in Omaha and vicinity, and also for subscriptions and advertisements for the association publications, a commission on all money taken from such sources to go toward his compensation.

4. State organizer to canvass the entire state and personally visit every town and city in the state, organize in each a local section of the association; also, to personally visit every farm in the state to secure memberships or subscriptions for publications.

5. Secretary of committee to conduct continuous correspondence with western firms until every eastern firm selling goods in Omaha is a member of the association.

6. Monthly progress reports to club luncheon to be made to which luncheon all members of the National Irrigation association should be invited on payment of the price for the luncheon.

7. The purpose of this state organization in Nebraska of the National Irrigation association to be:

(1) To promote the influence and strength of the national irrigation movement so as to secure all funds necessary for the immediate construction of the great reservoirs and canals to be built to utilize the flood flow of the North Platte and other Nebraska rivers and thus rapidly increase the population of the state.

(2) To secure the adoption of a system of range control under which the unsettled public lands will be treated as range reserves and annual grazing permits be granted to graze stock therein, but no public lands ever be leased.

(3) To secure the adoption of the public land policy advocated by the National Irrigation association, under which the Timber and Stone act, Desert Land act and Commutation clause will be repealed; rest stumpage sold from public forests, instead of selling the land so as to preserve the young timber, and the land five years before they get it.

(4) To promote tree planting and the planting with forests by the National government of large areas in Nebraska of now barren land and the encouragement of the building of small reservoirs by farmers wherever suitable sites exist and of pumping for irrigation.

(5) The encouragement of irrigated agriculture generally and of a practical training for it in all the public schools of the state, and in this connection the establishment of experiment stations by the national government, which will be practical demonstration farms to prove the large profit resulting from the intensive cultivation with irrigation of farms of small area.

(6) To hold an annual interstate irrigation convention each year at Omaha of delegates from Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Colorado, Colorado, Kansas, Iowa and other nearby states. It should be made clear that the convention should be held each year and every year in Omaha and not to be changed to other places from year to year.

Trade Association Reports.

At the end of the irrigation discussion, Chairman Merriam of the grain committee made a report. This showed the present business of Omaha to be as follows:

One elevator in Omaha and two in Council Bluffs with capacities of 3,000,000 bushels and handling from 15,000,000 to 17,000,000 bushels yearly, mostly from the Union Pacific and mostly in package. Two flour mills, capacity of 300,000 bushels a year, largely sold here; one distillery using 750,000 bushels; one malt house using 100,000 bushels of barley; one small vinegar factory; fifty firms selling feed and grain in amount 700,000 annually; twelve firms in the flour trade, two exporting, and twenty active grain and provision houses. This is in addition to the South Omaha grain trade and forms the nucleus of the grain market.

An Important Trademark Decision.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals recently handed down a decree which makes it unlawful to use the name of a NATURAL product as a designation for an artificial manufactured product.

The decree was rendered in the case of one Wm. T. Thackeray in Chicago and enjoined him from using the word "Hunyadi" on his artificial Hunyadi Geyza water which he had been manufacturing from Lake Michigan water doctored with chemicals in imitation of the Imported Hungarian Natural Mineral water, Hunyadi Janos.

This decision should act as a protection to the public against unscrupulous imitators.

Announcements of the Theaters.

This evening at the Boyd "On the Bridge at Midnight," a spectacular production of much pretension will be the attraction. Two carloads of scenery and realistic effects are carried by the company, and some sets of amazing realistic force are shown during the performance. One of these is the noted "jack knife" bridge across the Chicago river in full operation. This is one of the heaviest pieces of scenery ever put on the stage.

On Thursday evening Millie James opens her engagement in "The Little Princess," Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's great play for the little folks.

Odd Fellows, Attention.

Members of Omaha lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., are requested to assemble at Odd Fellows' hall, on Tuesday, November 10, at 1:30 p. m. sharp, to attend the funeral of our late brother, Fred G. Holden. Services at All Saints' church, Internment at Forest Lawn. Members of sister lodges invited.
