Saloonmen in No Way Connected with the Fight Are Much Worried Over the Matter and Fear All Will Suffer.

There were no new developments of parlcular interest yesterday in the saloon fight, although it was generally admitted that it now rests with the Storz Brewing ompany to bring the trouble to a close. Attorney Benjamin's clients have issued their ultimatum and it is that the Store ompany's local representative must be moved elsewhere. They insist that he cannot continue in the liquor business in Council Bluffs and that if the Storz company does not see fit to move him elsewhere every saloon owned by the company in Council Bluffs will be closed and kept closed.

the saloon business generally. That this was the animus of the suits against the Storz saloons, which started the general war, was practically admitted by Attorney Benjamin last evening. He was frank in damitting that unless the Storz company employed some other agent in Council Bluffs in place of Mr. Wells, every saloon owned by or in which the company had an interest in this city would be closed. Saloon men who are in no way cor cerned in the fight being waged against the Storz company and its local agent are much perturbed over the controversy, as no one can foretell where the trouble will end if both sides stand pat. Seek Pardon for Thordsen.

The mother of John Thordsen is circu lating a petition for his release from the Fort Madison penitentiary on parole. Mayor Morgan and Chief of Police Tibbits have both signed the petition and Mrs. Thordsen is sanguine that she will be successful in securing her son's parole. John Thordsen was convicted inst spring on charges of committing midnight raids upon hen coops and other premises in the vicinity of the city and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. His wife, Lizzie Thordsen, was alleged to have acompanied him on these raids attired in man's clothing. She was indicted and tried on one charge, but was acquitted. After being in jail for several months waiting trial on another charge she was released, owing to her ill health, and it is not thought likely that she will ever be brought to trial again. Thordsen, at his preliminary hearing before Justice Oures, said that his wife hypnotized him and forced him to commit thefts.

GETS A GOOD-SIZED VERDICT Young Woman Receives Pay for Work

Done for A. Glese and Also Damages.

The sealed verdict returned late Tuesday night by the district court jury in the suit of Bertha Quatter against August Glese and wife, when opened by Judge Preston yesterday morning was found to be for $2,010:44, the full amount sued for. The plaintiff, a young woman now 19 years of age, became an orphan when 13 years old and was placed with the family of the defendant with the understanding that she was to be treated the same as his own children. This agreement, Miss Quatter testified, had not been carried out, but instead she had been made to work during the six years she remained with the family as hard as any of the farm hands. Not only was she compelled, she testified, to do practically all of the housework, but she was made to don overalls like the male help and assist in the heavy manual labor on the farm. She told of how she had not been permitted to attend school, much less Sunday school, and that on one or two occasions she had ben punished for leaving the house and going to Sunday

As soon as she became of age she left the Gleses and at once brought suit for the wages which she claimed to be due she received, as she sileged, from the hands of Mrs. Giose armed with a broom handle. The jury evidently believed the testimony of the young woman, as it brought in a verdict for the full amount claimed by her, together with interest.

County Attorney Killpack, after inspecting in company with Special Agent Holsington of the government land office, five of the tracts which originally formed part of the swamp land apportionment to Pottawattamie county, reported to the Board of County Supervisors yesterday afternoon that as far as the five tracts inspected were concerned there was little likelihood of the county being able to prove up a claim for refund. As there are several tracts which have not been inspected the board declined to take action yesterday in the matter of signing a waiver, but left the matter in the hands of the county attorney, who was appointed county swamp land agent for the purpose. Mr. Killpack declined to recommend that the board sign a waiver until he had inspected the tracts in Rockford township, which he will do in the next few days. The main obstacle in the county recovering from the government on these unadjudicated swamp land claims is the loons against which petitions were filed difficulty of procuring testimony to prove the condition of these tracts between the years 1850 and 1855. The session of the board yesterday was devoted almost entirely to the usual large grist of bills. Among the larger bills allowed were those for the care of the insane at St. Bernard's hospital, amounting to $802.72 for September and $773.28 for October. The bills of Sheriff Cousins for fees in insane cases amounted to $169.30.
