comparatively firm cables brought out a fairly good demand for both December and May wheat at the start and December and May wheat at the start and December opened %50% higher at 77% 177%. Ufferings were light early in the day and with a lair advance in the price of December at Minneapolis the market here showed good gains, the price advancing to 77% within the first hour. Later in the day the sentiment changed and sening became general. Stop loss orders came out on the decibne and there was also considerable short selling, which added to the general weakness. Closing prices were at about the bottom, with December %c lower at 70% c. after it had touched 70% c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 144,00 bu. Primary receipts were 1.00,000 bu., against 1,314,000 bu. a year ago. Minneapolis, Cabcars, against 9.8 cars last week and 976 cars, against 9.8 cars last week and 976 cars, against 9.8 cars last week and 976 cars a year ago.

Corn ruled extremely weak after a firm opening During the first half hour the market showed a fair degree of firmness on small receipts, unfavorable weather and early strength in wheat, but later in the day a flood of selling orders appeared in the pit and prices took a severe slump. Commission houses and local bear leaders led in the selling pressure. After selling between 42c and 43% December closed at 424,24% c, a loss of 56%. Local receipts were 155 cars, 5 of contract grade.

Oats enjoyed a fairly steady market until the corn break set in and then the selling pressure was renewed and prices declined steadily. A feature of the early trade was buying of December by cash houses, and that option was quite firm, but the close was weak, with a loss of 56% c and 35% 234c, after selling between 35% c and 35% 234c, after selling between 45 cars, 5 of contract grade.

Provisions were steady early in the day on a good cash business and on a strong demand for lard, but later, with grain prices showing weakness, the market turned weak. Packers and local traders sold early, which helped Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 125 cars; corn, 235 cars, cats, 250 cars; hogs, 23,000 head.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market Swamped Under Terrent of Pennsylvania Stock Which Was Sold.

General Tone of the Market Weaker and Transactions Are Fairly Henvy on Lower Prices in Most Lines.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Today's stock market was literally swamped under the torrent of Pennsylvania stock, the total sales of which numbered almost as much as the aggregate sales of shares of all other stocks sold during the day. Even when it is allowed that the total number of Pennsylvania shares sold, being 500 per share, should be halved for comparison with sales of other stocks, the volume of selling of this stock which had to be absorbed in the market was truly formidable. During the early part of the day the contrary movement in United States Steel preferred served as an offset, held the downward course in Pennsylvania, but the persistence of the latter movement ultimately undermined the market and determined its general tendency. As a result, net losses of 1 to 1½ are indicated for many of the prominent active stocks. United States Steel preferred is not included, that stock again having closed unchanged from last night and from the night before. It ranged as high as 1% over last night's level, and lost its rise in sympathy with the weakness of Pennsylvania. The large volume of new bond issues by subsidiary companies, ocupied with the recent expansion in the company's own capital stock, and the consequent large increase in the requirements on earnings in order to matinaling the present rate of return on bonds and stocks, was an acknowledged factor in the liquidation. Subscribers to the recent issues at 120 may be counted among the disappointed holders at the present level.
