WANTED-MALE HELP.

NEBRASKA BUSINESS AND SHORT HAND COLLEGE, BOYD BUILDING, CORNER 17TH & HARNEY, OMAHA, NEB.

A. C. ONG, A. M., President. A. J. LOWRY, Principal. COLLEGE NOTES.

A large number of students have taken positions during the last fortnight, three within the last ten days. We had three calls from the Standard Oil Co., and all were filled.

The records being made by the students in attendance this year are the finest ever attained. he following letter from Mr. Currie speaks attained.

The following letter from Mr. Currie speaks for itself:
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17, 1903.—Professor A. C. Ong. Omaha, Nebraska.—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in saying that before I entered the N. B. C. I thoroughly investigated the merits of the different schools of Omaha, as my time was most limited in which to qualify myself for the position of private stenographer and secretary to Congressman Kinkaid, Washlington, D. C. To state that I am more than pleased with what I have achieved would be putting it mildly.
When I began I knew not a letter of shorthand. I entered school September 17th last and quit October 20th. By dint of hard work on the part of my instructors and myself and by reason of the excellent methods, fine discipline and splend'd system of the institution I am today enabled to hold a position that ordinarily would have required one from six to nine months. I know I have reason to congratulate myself in the selection of a school where every possible attention is given students and where no failures are allowed.

Thanking you for your most excellent in-silowed.

Thanking you for your most excellent instruction and the deep interest taken in me, I remain, with best wishes for the N. B. C. Yours very truly.
The Nebraska Business College has reason to be proud of the record made by Mr. Currie, as it clearly demonstrates what is being done for the students who enter this institution. We would not have it understood that every one can make such a record, as it requires the average students from three to six months to complete the course, yet the above statements show the possibilities in a school where every advantage is offered.
