Consults Attorney and Will Return in Forty-Eight Hours from Hastings to Proceed with Matters.

"I reiterate everything I have said about my innocence of these malicious charges and I will demand a prompt, speedy and thorough trial," declared Senator Dietrich on his arrival in Omaha yesterday from Washington.

The senator left for Hastings to attend to some private business and will return to Omaha within forty-eight hours to take up the case with his attorney, Charles J. Greene, with whom he is in consultation at this time Monday morning.

"I am an innocent man and have been maligned for malicious and vindictive purposes and I shall not be made a fool of by allowing this thing to be dropped without a searching investigation and airing. I want the same publicity and exposition made of the details of this entire case as has been made of the charges against me, and I shall leave no stone unturned to see that this is brought about. I shall consult further with my attorneys and then will be ready to proceed."

NO DEFECTS IN WATER MAIN

Big Pipe That Burst Bears Test of Careful Examination. WILL NOT FIGURE IN APPRAISAL

No Word Heard from Board of Appraisers as to Time for Reopening in Omaha.

Investigation by the city engineering department failed to show defects in the 18-inch water main that burst on North Sixteenth street last week, said City Attorney Wright yesterday.

"Since the appraisers left Omaha no word has been received from them as to when they will convene in Omaha again. Meanwhile maps and schedules are being checked by interested parties.

"Conflicts over ideas as to values will come later," said a city hall official. "The first question will be whether the distribution system will be based on the prices current for iron at the time the complete figures are submitted or on the prices existing when the board makes its final report."

Pumping Stations' Values. "Other broad differences will come in as to the worth of the pumping stations at the foot of Hurt street, on Poppleton avenue and the other stations. The rip-rapping and river improvements at Florence will prove a large-sized bone of contention. The water company, probably, will seek to get as much as possible of the original investment returned, while the city will insist upon appraisal on the actual worth of the improvements, regardless of how much may have been spent for experiments, etc.

"A factor that has not been considered is what has been termed the 'going value' of a plant—that is, that part of its worth which lies in the fact that the laterals are all in, connections made with dwellings, business houses and factories and the customers for the produce already obtained. In the Kansas City appraisal antecedent to municipal ownership this species of value was considered and an amount awarded for it.

"The contention as to why Omaha should buy the South Omaha mains is a vexatious one that must be carried into the courts after the appraisers' report is filed."

SOCIALISTS LOSE THEIR SUIT. New York Court Decides Their Organization, Though Unincorporated, Must Pay Debts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A verdict of $1,500 has been awarded in the city court to Peter Feberg against Elmer Forbes, as treasurer of the socialist labor party, for money loaned to the newspaper called The People, which is managed by a board of trustees elected by the socialist labor party. Consul for Forbes argued that the party, through its treasurer, could not be sued because it was an unincorporated association, but Judge Seabury charged the jury that the board of trustees was an agent of the party, with power to borrow money if necessary to continue the publication, and that the party was bound by the acts of its agent.
