Deadlock in Negotiations.

On the return trip the trains encountered Wo at Forty-first street new obstructions in the way of a plugged cable slot, while the manholes, cleared of bricks, stones and rubbish on the downward run, were found to have been filled again. Meanwhile peace negotiations were making but little. headway. The strikers' 'executive commit- Con tee spent a greater portion of the day in the offices of Attorneys Darrow and Prentiss, while representatives of the railway company conferred in the offices of Attorney Bliss. Rumors that both sides were approaching a deadlock were given more credence as the day wore on and the an ticipated joint conference was delayed.

A large crowd followed the State street cars southward from the business center. An average of twenty minutes was reguired to each block, owing to the obstacles placed in the way, and it was feared that night would overtake the trains before they could reach the barns again. This afternoon, at the request of President Hamilton of the rallway company, Mayor Harrison sent out a call to the aldermanic mediation committee to meet him in his office. The City railway officials informed the mayor that they had a communication to make to him and the aldermen. A report became current that the difficulty preventing the return of the men to work was that while the company was willing to make a verbal agreement to take the strikers back without discrimination, there was a halt when it came to putting the clause in writing.

Much Augered.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Nov. 24 .- (Special.)-At noon today Judge Carpenter sentenced Frank J. Keefe to four years in the penitentlary for manshaughter. Keefe killed Polloemen Baxter and King at Rawlins last spring, his case being brought to this ounty on a change of venue, as it was held he could not get a fair trial in Carbon county.

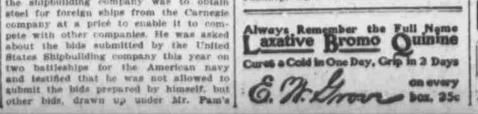

Judge Carpenter delivered a ten-minute talk in rendering his decision and Keefe ous hearing that his only knowledge of responded. He said he thought he should have been acquitted. He admitted killing Baxter and King, but said he was on his own property and the killing was done in the heat of passion. He believed the jury should have followed the court's instructions and found him not guilty. He gave notice that in all probability he will appeal the case to the supreme court, his motion for a new trial being today overruled by Judge Carpenter. RAWLINS, Wyo., Nov. 24 -Feeling here wer the verdict and sentence in the Keefe case is very strong and it may be difficult to land Keere in the penitentiary. There is said to be talk of lynching. The killing of Baxter and King was considered by many to be a cold-blooded murder. Keefe had ruled the roost in Rawlins during his drunken carousals and the people are determined to make an example of him.
