

THANKS, TURKEY AND SPORT

Outlook for Thursday Points to a Busy Day Around Omaha.

CHURCHES ARRANGE FOR PUBLIC SERVICES

Foot Ball Players Are Ready to Do Their Part and Several Good Games Are Now Promised for the Day.

Turkeys are again on a strike, and demand more money, as they did last year, but this will not prevent Omaha people from observing Thanksgiving day in a royal manner.

Not only in the homes of the rich and the poor are preparations being made for Thursday's feast, but charitable and correctional institutions in this city and throughout the state are planning celebrations for the unfortunate within their walls.

Union services will be held by the downtown churches at the First Presbyterian church, at which the address will be made by Rev. E. Dodge Smith.

Church services for the day include the following: To the union services which are to be held at the First Presbyterian church a general invitation is extended.

Services will be held at the St. Barnabas church on Thanksgiving morning at 7:30, and a second service will be held at Trinity cathedral at 10:30 a. m.

Early communion will be held in St. John's Episcopal church, Twenty-sixth and Franklin streets, at 7:30 a. m., with high celebration and services at 9:30, under the leadership of Rev. Lucius D. Hopkins, rector.

Announcement is made that Alpha camp Woodmen of the World and Alpha Grove, Woodmen Circle, will entertain members and friends at their hall, Sixteenth and Capitol avenue, on Thursday evening.

First Church of Christ, Scientist—Thanksgiving service at 11 a. m.

Foot Ball for the Day. The two foot ball games are the biggest event of the year from the foot ball standpoint.

MORGAN AND HANNA TALK

Latter Denies Statement Regarding McKinley Made by the Former.

ALABAMA SENATOR USES WARM WORDS

Characterizes Action of Administration in Panama Canal Affair as Unwarranted and Says President Disregarded Pledges.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Immediately after the convening of the senate today Senator Frye, president pro tem, presented an invitation from the governor of Louisiana, inviting the senate to attend the centennial incident to the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the transfer of Louisiana territory to the United States.

Without disposing of the subject the senate passed the routine business, after which Mr. Carmack's resolution for the investigation of the conduct of the Postoffice department was laid before the senate and upon motion of Mr. Penrose was referred to the committee on postoffices and post roads.

Mr. Morgan was then recognized to continue his speech on the Panama canal and in his speech on the Panama canal question. As on yesterday, he sharply criticized the course of the administration and of others who opposed the Nicaraguan route.

As to Panama, the senator said an elaborate treaty had been prepared, a commission sent here and then back again to create a government with power to ratify a treaty.

He charged that the treaty with Colombia had been drawn largely by a corporation lawyer. Speaking of the report of the Istian Canal commission, favorable to the Panama route, Mr. Morgan characterized that report as "the dynamite that has rent in twain the Republic of Colombia."

Different if McKinley Lived. He said further that the report was a desperate adventure. He declared that if President McKinley had lived the protocol with Nicaragua and Costa Rica would have been observed.

"But he is dead," the senator went on, "and a new Richmond comes upon the scene and he seems not to feel the obligation of good faith that a more enlightened view of the administration breaks on the field of his ambitious spirit."

He declared that it was President Roosevelt's ambition to have all the glory for constructing the canal for his own administration. "He has not presented," he said, "any excuse for the failure to carry into effect the agreement with Nicaragua and Costa Rica, unless it be resentment toward Colombia and gratification of personal ambition which the law deprives of the further power to indulge. Whatever the incentive he will fall to carry the people with him in his wild and reckless raid."

No plea of "reasons of state" is acceptable, "For," said he, "reasons of state are out of place in a republic and are regarded only as the plea of a tyrant."

In abandoning the McKinley policy, Mr. Morgan declared that the president had destroyed the rights already acquired at much expense of time and effort.

Colombia Levied Blackmail. He declared that Colombia had levied blackmail to the extent of $7,000,000, and that instead of acting on the instructions of the president the secretary of state had entered into an agreement that might make it possible to collect on the levy. Neither the eagerness of or the ambition of the president could have supplied the fulcrum for this transaction.

At this point and having spoken for two hours Mr. Morgan requested the privilege of taking his seat while he continued his delivery. There was no objection and the venerable senator sat down, remarking under his breath as he did so: "My old limbs are getting as shaky under me as the republican party must be in the presence of truth."

Mr. Morgan reviewed at length the Colombian revolution of 1902, declaring that Marroquin's triumph was not due to his own prowess, but to the assistance of the United States. "All roads that the president travels," he said, "lead to the Panama canal, but some of his discreet advisers should caution him not to burn the bridges behind him."

Hanna Challenges Statement. That was, he said, had deserved the condemnation of all Christendom, because of the brutality of Marroquin's conduct, and yet, notwithstanding this conduct, was such as would have done discredit to the bearer of a scalping knife or a tomahawk, the United States was usually with that order throughout the conflict. He referred especially to Marroquin's confiscatory decrees and said that President Roosevelt must have known of them. At this point and after speaking for about three hours, Mr. Morgan concluded his prepared speech by saying that he had no objection to the adoption of the motion to make committee assignments, which motion had been utilized by him as the basis for his speech.

Mr. Hanna challenged the statement of Mr. Morgan that President McKinley had been favorable to the Nicaragua route. "I know of my own personal knowledge," he said, "that when in 1899 it was known that the Panama company's property could be purchased he gave the question serious consideration and investigation, and at his instance provision was made in the river and harbor bill for an appropriation of $100,000 for the investigation of all routes. That this request was made because of his interest in the Panama proposition I know of my own personal knowledge. President McKinley had decided to follow the recommendation of his commission and that is what the present administration is doing, so that there is no change in policy."

Mr. Morgan replied that he had spoken only on the public record of President McKinley and not from private views. "I know," he said, "that he entered into compact with Nicaragua and Costa Rica to secure the Nicaragua route and there is no record to show that he changed his mind."

Mr. Hanna: "It is incorrect to say that McKinley preferred Nicaragua. He preferred the Panama route that he had secured."

At the request of Mr. Spooner the vote on the committee assignment motion and also to renew the Newlands resolution were postponed until tomorrow.

At 4:30 the senate went into executive session, adjourning a few moments later.

Program for Florence. NORFOLK, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—President C. E. Heston of the Nebraska State Volunteer Firemen's association has assumed subjects which are to be treated by the members in the convention that meets at Fremont in January. It is expected that an especially fine program will be rendered, and Norfolk and north Nebraska are planning on sending good delegations. The program is as follows: "Our National and State Association and Their Relation," J. L. Senick, Beatrice; "What Can Be Done to Increase the Income of Local Departments?" John Wilson, Kearney; "Why Do We Attend This Association?" F. D. Hunter, West Point.

BELLEVUE'S ANSWER TO DOANE

Presbyterians Hold Fast to Title of State Collegiate Champions.

BELLEVUE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Information has been received here that supporters of the Doane college foot ball team have and are questioning the legality of Bellevue's title to the Nebraska Intercollegiate league pennant, claiming that Doane defeated the former only by re-creating a questionable fumble and that even then the victory might have belonged to Doane, had he been given their own man, neglected to blow the whistle when the ball bounced out of bounds. They also held a meeting at the residence of Coach Bellevue across the line for a touchdown, and upon the way to the field, Coach Bellevue's captain Moore to kick the ball between the best Doane players from both sides, ultimately resulted in a touchdown for Bellevue. Had this not happened, they go on to protest, the score would have remained 5 to 0 in favor of themselves.

What the Bellevue people think of this matter is summed up in the words of Coach Pinal. "The protest is unimportant and unbecoming an adult."

When a person considers the argument urged, it does seem rather juvenile. Spelling's rules are set forth in the note under rule 11 page 13, the following statement: "Time is not to be taken when the ball goes out of bounds," which would settle that point.

When Captain Moore kicked goal from field Doane boys, apparently through sheer ignorance of the rules of the game, held the ball in their hands and the referee to recapture the ball. This point however was allowed to be held in question, and was the subject of a discussion by Coach Stagg of the university of Chicago, to whom by mutual consent it was submitted, allowing Bellevue the score of 12 to 5 over their opponents. Moreover, Hastings of the western best Hastings 40 to 6 and again the game had to be called off just when the Bellevue lads were scoring almost at every down, this time on account of darkness.

The above is coupled with the one that it was Doane college that protested the "practical" contest last year on doubtful grounds, tend to show that institutions in the light of a habitual kicker and he doubted if it could maintain itself in any league for any length of time.

CORNHUSKERS PRACTICE ENDS. Coach Booth Speaks a Good Word for the Scrubs on Dismissing Them.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—The Nebraska Cornhuskers have put the finishing touches on their preparations for the Thanksgiving day contest on the gridiron against Illinois at Urbana. Practice is concerned, Coach Booth decided today that it was taking needless chances of injuring his men and heretofore only signal practice will be permitted. Before dismissing the scrubs Booth lined them up and in a short speech thanked them for their aid. He assured the scrubs that they had contributed as much toward the success of the varsity as had the latter, and he concluded by urging every member of the scrub squad to come out for practice next year and work their best to make the scrubs and the varsity cheer the varsity, both squads joining in when cheers were suggested for Booth and his two assistants, Westover and Drain.

Booth is fairly sanguine that his pupils will win the measure of Illinois Thursday. He expects that it will require serious effort on Nebraska's part. The betting odds are 2 to 1 in Nebraska's favor, with little Illinois money in sight.

WITH THE BOWLERS. On the Harney street alleys last evening the Armours took three straight games from the Krug Parks, and moved farther into the lead in the league race. The Armours are rolling a steady, consistent game and proving that team work will show where the same men bowl together right along. The men have confidence in each other and that is half the game.
