

ALL SAINTS IN NEW ORLEANS

Quiet Observance of a Religious Holiday in the Crescent City.

DECORATING THE CITIES OF THE DEAD

Entire Population, from Highest to Poorest, Pay Tribute to Departed Friends—An Impressive Spectacle.

All saints' day is one of which persons in many cities may have to be reminded, because, whatever the deliriums of Hallowe'en, the first day of November certainly has no special significance in most sections of the United States.

New Orleans celebrates this festival in a way that justifies the title of the carnival, the Creole and the crab. Of fetes and festivals there is no end in the Crescent City, and the celebration of All Saints' day is in its way hardly less memorable than the better known observances of Mardi Gras.

Practically all the old customs of the day, dating back to 1868, when it was instituted by the Abbot of Cluny, are still regarded.

The whole population attend mass in the morning, and then during the day repair to the cemeteries, where floral wreaths and other emblems of love are laid on the tombs.

Nor is this a mournful occasion, for you are greeted everywhere by a profusion of gay flowers, and outside the cemetery gate florists, cake vendors, refreshment dealers and praline vendors stand in line, not unlike vendors at a country fair, save that there is no vociferous hawking of wares.

Perhaps nowhere else in the world is the term 'city of the dead' so appropriate to a cemetery as in the city of the living.

The sight of a New Orleans cemetery on All Saints' day is not easily forgotten by a northern visitor.

Many a stranger on All Saints' day enjoys musing in the oldest cemetery of the city, St. Louis No. 1, for here, among the tombs huddled together in confusion, are interesting reminiscences of the olden days.

Probably the quaintest of the city's burial places is the little cemetery on Louisiana street, known as the Pape Lulu, called after a famous Spanish reverend of that name.

The other cemetery of New Orleans—and there are many—are among the show places of the city, and are easy to access, because the routes of the New Orleans street railway are so arranged as to include them all.

A Famous Shrine. A little shrine which has become famed for its cures has given name and fame to the cemetery in which it stands.

Curiously enough—no tradition has it—although the shrine is of recent date, it is a member of Father Thevia's church choir. The good priest remembered his vow, and with his own hands built the little chapel from which St. Roch's Santo Campo cemetery takes its name.

Young girls seeking husbands, especially frequent the shrine of St. Roch. It is said that a devout prayer for a husband has never yet been denied to a New Orleans maiden.—New Orleans Post-Opinion.

REPUDIATE FILIPINO WIVES

Efforts of Some Army Officers to Shed Matrimonial Burdens Assumed in the Philippines.

The suit of First Lieutenant Eddy E. Burbank, Sixth infantry, against Mrs. Concepcion Yarbuz, a Filipino woman, to set aside an alleged marriage, will come up for hearing in the Leavenworth district court next week.

The suit will be watched with great interest in army circles, for dozens of prospective weddings hinge on the outcome of the suit, having been held up on account of the order issued in the Burbank case that marriages of officers who had native wives in the Philippines would not be countenanced.

Very Important

Sweeping Sales in the Cloak Dept.

Over three hundred women's coats purchased within the past ten days for spot cash of the leading coat makers of New York. This purchase includes

- Two Hundred Fine Kersey and Women's Silk Waists
Zibeline Coats
Opened for Monday's sale, 100 fine Beau de Soie Silk Waists—in black, white, light blue, pink, red and gray—such a waist as all our dealers ask $5.50 for—our price Monday only 3.95

Special Monday Bargains in our Silk and Dress Goods Department.

- All of our odd pieces of Fancy Velvets—sold from 90c to $1.25 per yard—Monday at—per yard 48c
Special Black Silk Offering
19-inch Black Taffeta—worth 90c yard—at—per yard 59c

Ladies' Plaited Wool Vests and Drawers, Blue Clouded

Silk lined Vests, crocheted finish and fine Jersey ribbed—French hand Drawers—put them on sale at—per garment—worth $1.50 per garment—75c

A Few Notions from Our Notion Department

- Ironing Wax—per stick 2c
Towel Pins—per dozen 10c
Common Pins—per paper 1c
Wire Hair Pins—per bundle 1c

Bargains in Stoves

We are determined to move our stock of Stoves. We have too many, and in view of lighter needs for Christmas and the holidays, the space they occupy, both in our storehouse and in our hardware department is highly valuable.

Big Sale of Skates

Every known reliable kind of Skates can be had here at bargain counter prices.

Turn Light on Lama's Land. Largely unexplored, but the people and its rulers were unlike any others in the world.

MYSTERIES OF BUDDHIST WORLD

Civilization Knocking at the Gates of Tibet with Several Guns.

Controversy Over a Buffer State Between Russia and England Starts

Close observers of the far eastern situation are inclined to view the impending conflict between Anglo-Indian troops and the Russo-Tibetan forces as almost as portentous as the war cloud over Manchuria and Corea.

DAYTON CHIEF IS RESTORED

Head of Police Department Reinstated After Suspension for Failure to Suppress Gambling.

Beginning Monday and Continuing Until December 15, We Will Give Double Trading Stamps in All Departments on Our Second Floor.

This floor is occupied by six live departments—the Crockery and Chinaware, Ladies' Cloaks and Suits, the Millinery, the Art and Picture Frames, the Pianos and Music, the Toys and Santa Claus Novelties.

To induce early Christmas shopping—particularly in those departments that will feel the holiday rush more severely than most other departments of the house—we have determined to give double the usual number of Green Trading Stamps from tomorrow to the 15th of Dec.

NOW IS YOUR TIME TO PUSH FORWARD THE FILLING OF YOUR BOOK.

$ OPENING OF TOYDOM IN OMAHA

Monday morning Toydom has its annual reopening. We want everybody in Omaha, man, woman, boy and girl, to see the entrancing display of Toys and juvenile delights, Dolls, Doll Furniture, Wagons, Sleds, Games, Building Blocks, Trains, Engines, Automobiles and hundreds of mechanical contrivances that are marvelously cute and astonishingly low priced.

Everything is new—no left-overs whatever. Everything is substantially high grade and everything is wonderfully low priced.

We Have the Products of the Best Factories of America and Europe

Our reputation for headquarters will be more vigorously maintained than ever before. Increased floor space, improved facilities, extra help, a bigger purchasing power, all combine to produce an elaborate display never before attempted.

But Come and See the Show.

Here's a Special! The Latest Game With a Charm in It!

Miss Helen's Kindergarten Spectrum—come and see how to work it—demonstration on Toy floor Monday 10 a. m. Book of Rainbow Rhymes, telling all about how to play the game, play board, box of players and all for 1.00

Crockery! Crockery!

Famous American Present glass, rich and showy; an exact reproduction of the famous Belmont pattern of rich cut glass. Everything from a punch bowl to a salt and pepper.

To introduce this ware we will sell a rich bowl (like cut) for less than the price of plain glass—only 25c

Haviland 100-piece decorated dinner sets 22.50

Rare Values in High Class Ware

Royal Austrian china, 92 pieces, nicely decorated, for $10

Pure white Syracuse china tea cups and saucers, the new shape, each 10c

Wellsbach gas burners, complete with chimney, shade and mantle, each 29c

From 8:15 to 9:15 a. m. we will sell McBeth's No. 2 Rochester chimneys, each 3c

ART! ART!! ART!!!

YOU'LL HAVE LOTS OF NEEDS FOR CHRISTMAS. Why not get them now? NOW, while our stocks are not shot to pieces, and first choice really means an advantage.

New Things in Pyrography Supplies

Illustrations Free

Furniture, Carpets, Curtains

- Reduced from 27.00
COMBINATION BOOK CASE and Writing Desk—made of selected quarter-sawn oak—hard carved—large French mirror—19.95
Reduced from $21.00
TOILET TABLE—made of genuine mahogany—pattern French mirror—with hand carved frame—large, shaped top and serpentine front—15.95

Five Specials in Stair Carpets
No. 1—Hemp Carpets—eighteen inches wide—stripe effects—13 cent value—yard for 12c

Matting Samples
Two yards long—worth up to 60 cents a yard—your choice Monday—each 10c

Interesting Lace Curtain Values

- Nottingham Lace Curtains—full length and width—$1.50 value—98c
Nottingham Lace Curtains—full length and width—$1.00 value—value at—pair 1.50

Something that's unique in the Drug Dept.

Meyer's Grease Paints

Exora Powders, Rouge Creams, Etc.

Endorsed by the leading actors and actresses of the day

China sharing the work. Russia under-taken the reorganization of the military on European model and China is in charge of the economic development of the country—that is to say, Chinese merchants are to have a practical monopoly of foreign trade.

This convention signed, Tibet became in fact and name a Russian province, commercial privileges alone being reserved to China. For the first time in history, too, English and Russian borders met.

Owing to the proximity of Tibet to India the change is more of a menace than would be the extension of Siberia to the Himalayas. The Dalai-Lama's claims as pontiff of Pan-Buddhism are gradually being accepted by the Buddhist clergy of Assam and Burma, both in British India, and his influence is growing at a marvelous rate.

The Dalai-Lama refused to treat with Colonel Younghusband when he journeyed into Tibet recently, until he and his mission returned to Indian territory. He fortified his camp, refused to move and is bringing reinforcements to decide the issue.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

QUAINT FEATURES OF LIFE.

Francis King, 92 years old, slightly deaf and with failing sight, walked into Itaska, N. Y., from his home in Danby, nine miles away, and through a local paper challenge any man of his age to run a foot race of five rods' distance. The challenge is understood to be directed specially at Joseph Snyder, who lives in Varna, five miles from Itaska.

Archbishop Ireland, who is never without a good story, tells one that he holds to be one of the best illustrations of faith as well as of confidence in individual supplication at the throne of grace.

William Windell, a farmer of Washington township, Harrison county, Ind., thirty miles northwest of Louisville, is engaged in pride himself on being the most sprightly nonagenarian 'in all York state.'

Cora Johnson, a cook in the employ of Mrs. Mary McDonald of Philadelphia, was discharged a few days ago. When her mistress refused to pay her a month's wages the girl brought suit to recover the amount in Justice Darlington's court.

Judge G. M. Perkins, editor of the negro paper the Oklahoman Guide, publishes the following editorial in a recent issue of his interesting sheet: 'Yesterday we went to the office of the Elk hotel, at Guthrie, about 10 a. m., and were allowed to speak to the cook. We asked to be let by the man that was attending the office that we could, by going out the front door, go down the alley and have a look at the back door. This man must have been dragged up in the west on a ranch, for man raised north or south would ask a gentleman to go in that dirty alley. But if the unmanly clerk had looked in our face he would have seen an expression that said, 'I will see you dead, damned and delivered.' 'Judge' Perkins labels the editorial 'The Check of a Brass Money.'