DUFFIE FILES SUPPLEMENTAL OPINION

Combats the Argument of Commissioner Kirkpatrick that the Law Is Valid in Its Insurance Feature.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 30 .- (Spec.al.)-The tevargued before the supreme court tomorrow, as was expected. This morning the attorneys for the respondents in the case asked and upon a close examination of the food for further time in which to prepare their of which the patient had eaten crystals briefs, and it is likely this will be granted, of arsenic was found in abundance in the the arguments going over until the next sitting of the court, December 15. who as one of the commissioners heard the arguments in the case when it was first submitted and who declared the entire law invalid because of the unconstitutionality of the insurance sections, still believes that WILL TEST SCAVENGER LAW way and today filed a supplemental opinion answering some of the contentions of Commissione. Kirkpatilick, who believed the law good in its entirety. His opinion follows:

Duffie's Supplemental Opinion.

In the opinion filed November 23 it is said hatinguished from other corporations and taxed in a special manner, it is propably true that distinctions may be made between true that distinctions may be made between insurance co.porations in regard to the manner in which they may be separately taxed, but it cannot be true that these discriminations may be made arbitrarily by the legislature or without some reisonable basis for the classification to rest up.m." This observation was made after an examination or some of the cases from limited construing the constitution of that tate and I lear without a sufficient consideration of the difference between the lilinois constitution and our own.

Judge Dume calls attention to section 1, article 2 of the Illinois constitution, which article 9, of the Illinois constitution, which gives the general assembly power to tax persons or corporations owning or using canchises or privileges in such manner as it shall from time to time direct by general law uniform as to the class upon which it operates." He then cites section i, article 3, of the Nebraska constitution. calling attention to the tax upon fran chies. He continues:

calling attention to the tax upon franchles. He continues:

"It will be noticed that our constitution directs that the franchises of corporations and other parties having franchises are to be taxed as property upon a valuation while the Illinois constitution franchises and privileges are put in the second subdivisions of the section and may, as held by the supreme court of that state, be taxed otherwise than on an assessment which determines the valuation.

I do not think it can be successfully claired that the several classes mentioned in the second subdivision of the constitution can be subdivided or further classified than is done by the constitution itself, it being the evident purpose of the framers of the instrument to allow the legislature to levy a tax upon the business conducted by the several classes named and the business pursued by each class must be taxed by a general law uniform as to each. In other words, the constitution should be construed as if it read, "and it the (legislature) shall have power to tax peddiers, suctioneers, brokers, etc., in such manner as it shall direct by general law uniform as to each of the classes above named."

There must have been some object in view by the framers of the constitution in taking out of the latter part of the section the property of a corporation known as a franchise and putting it in the first part of the section which requires all property to be laxed upon a valuation and that object undoubtedly was to depart from a rule of the Illinois constitution and to require franchises to be assessed and taxed as other property, as the section with that require franchises to be assessed and taxed as other property, as the section with that exception is a copy of the Illinois constitution, which was followed and adopted literally in many respects. If this be true and the construction which I place upon the constitution is a correct construction, it follows that the classification contended for by Judge Kirkpatrick cannot be made and that all property of a corporation, including its franchise, should be assessed and that we are set to the corporation and not in some other method devised by the legislature. ire franchises to be assessed and taxed

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 30.-(Special relegram.)-While to Omaha Saturday Senator Dietrich was interviewed in remarshall to succeed T. L. Mathews, whose term will soon expire. He said that he had decided to withdraw his concession to Senator Millard, by which the latter was the position. Mr. Dietrich explained that he made the offer to Senator Millard, believing that he would recede from his stand in favor of W. S. Summers for district attorney, which would have the effect of making the way clear for the appointment of H. C. Lindsay. Mr. Dietrich's withdrawal from the compact is due to Mr. Millard's continued insistence upon Summers' reappointment.

When questioned today regarding the appointment, Mr. Dietrich said that he had decided to recommend the reappointment of Mr. Mathews; in fact, he had already written and signed a joint letter of endorse ment, which was forwarded to Mr. Millard for his approval or disapproval.

Silas Big Head, Charles Ewing, George Frerer, Fritz Grumbeck and James Young pleaded not guilty. The court assigned attorneys to defend them and the accused were taken back to jail.

Another batch of prisoners indicted by the grand jury were arraigned for pleading at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Judge Munger ordered the discharge of John Brady trom custody in the Douglas county jall, where he was held on a charge of selling liquor to Indians. The grand jury had failed to find a bill against Brady, and Judge Munger delivered a rather caustic address to the assistant district attorney for holding Brady in jail for five days after the jury had tailed to indict him. United States circuit court reconvened Monday. There being no cases ready for trial, Judge Munger excused the petit jury until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The federal grand jury reassembled at 9 o'clock. The chief matters for the consideration of the jury this week will be the Alma, Oxford, Arapahoe and Orleans post-

We are living in an age of specialists; an age when success can only be attained by the concentration of every thought upon the unswerving pursuit of a single object. We are precisely such specialists. This accounts for the difference between success and failure in the treatment and cure of diseases of men. The physician who tries to explore and conquer the whole field of medicine and surgery becomes proficient in no particular branch. We have confined ourselves entirely to a single class of diseases and their complications and mastered them. We do not scatter our faculties, but concentrate them on our particular specialty. We have made a life study of diseases and weaknesses peculiar to men, spending thousands of dollars in researches and evolving a special system of treatment that is a quick, safe and certain cure for all skin, blood and private diseases.

Our name has been a household synonym for over a quarter of a century for remarkable skill and ability in the treatment and cure of

and all diseases and weaknesses of men due to inheritance, evil habits, excesses or the result of specific diseases.

By our system of electricity and medicine combined we cure quickly, safely and thoroughly all diseases and weaknesses of men after all others have falled. Our object is not so much to do the work that other doctors can do, but rather to cure obstinate diseases which they cannot successfully combat. All that deep knowledge, expert skill, vast experience and thorough scientific office equipment can accomplish are now being done for those who come to us for the
