AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Live Stock Exchange Nominates a Ticket for New Year.

PARKHURST PICKED FOR PRESIDENT

Glickrest for Vice, Stephen, M. R. Murphy and Laverty for Directors—State Appears to Have No Opposition.

A well attended meeting of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange was held yesterday afternoon and officers for the year 1937 were nominated. The nominations were: D. B. Parkhurst, president; R. Glickrest, vice president; W. I. Stephen, M. R. Murphy, Jay Laverty, directors for a term of three years. Samuel Acker was named by the executive committee to serve on the committee on arbitration for the year 1937. The committee on arbitration was made. These nominations will be made at a meeting to be held some time next week.

Captain D. S. Parkhurst has served four terms as president and his nomination yesterday makes the fifth nomination he has received at the hands of the exchange. R. Glickrest is an old timer in the vice president's chair, he having served a number of terms. W. I. Stephen and Jay Laverty were re-nominated for directors.

President Parkhurst was directed by the exchange to select nine delegates to represent the South Omaha Live Stock exchange at the annual convention of the National Live Stock association, which meets next year at Portland, Ore. The date of this convention is January 11.

In the making of nominations the work was transacted rapidly and the voting was almost unanimous. After the nominations had been made there was no talk of an independent ticket and it looks now as if the nominations would be ratified at the election in January without any trouble.

Boy Kitchen Arrested.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Briggs arrested Roy Kitchen, colored, and locked him up at police headquarters. Just what charge will be placed against Kitchen has not been determined. Thursday night Kitchen called at the home of Police Judge King for a warrant for a negro who had broken into his room. While the judge was making out the papers Kitchen is alleged to have slipped a pocketbook belonging to one of the children into his overcoat pocket. The purse contained only five cents, but Miss May King missed the purse and called her father's attention to the loss. Kitchen protested his innocence and acknowledged his willingness to be searched. The purse was found in Kitchen's overcoat, which he had removed along with his hat when he entered the house. Kitchen made a break for the door and got away, leaving his overcoat and hat, and also the warrant he had asked for. Judge King treated the matter as a joke and stated that if Kitchen was tried it would have to be before some justice of the peace. The negro has been employed at Armour's.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

At the Sunday club of the Young Men's Christian association, Sunday afternoon, Rev. C. C. Chaffin will deliver the second in the series of addresses to meet on "A Young Man's Battle," his topic for this meeting being "The Struggle for Character." JUROR SIEFKEN EXPLAINS

Says Forth His Connection with Recent Charges of Jury Tampering.

OMAHA, Dec. 11.—To the Editor of The Bee: In the issue of your paper of December 10 there appeared an article headed "Lawyers Want Protection." As my name is mentioned therein as the foreman of the jury in question, and the article as written is liable to create a wrong impression on the minds of the public reference to the part I took in that matter, I trust you will give me space in your columns to make this correction.

It is an error that I accused some unknown party with trying to bribe one or more of the jurors. I simply stated to the court that one of the jurors claimed that some person tried to bribe him. Whether I believed the statement of this juror to be the truth or considered it an attempt to lead juror to create a feeling antagonistic to the defendant in this suit, I need not discuss here, suffice it to say that I considered it my duty for the sake of good government and to justice to the defendant by means of "evidence" and the jurors in this case to bring this matter to the attention of the court in order to have it thoroughly investigated. A committee appointed for that purpose made its investigation and made its report.

Let me further state that this investigation and report will go a long way toward attaining the end desired by the lawyers mentioned in your article, for it will have a salutary effect upon people who are proven to have made statements, thoughtless or malicious, intended to malign their fellow men or influence any jury in favor of one or the other party to a suit. If they know they may be called upon to prove what they assert. This is another reason why this matter was given publicity.

ADOLPH SIEFKEN.

Baxter Grants Indemnity.

The case of H. W. Allwine against the Union Dental college, which was begun before Judge Baxter yesterday, came to a decision last evening when the court granted a permanent injunction against the defendant. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant by means of "evidence" and misrepresentation had seriously injured his business by inducing parties inquiring for Allwine's rooms, which are in the same business block as those of the defendant to go into rooms of the latter. The court also allowed judgment to issue against the defendant for a sum approximately fixed at $6. The plaintiff had asked for a judgment on the ground the Union Dental college had taken money from some of his patients.

HARCOURT DIGS UP RECORD

Quotes Speech of Chamberlain Eighteen Years Old to Answer Him Today

REFERS TO BAD EFFECT OF CORN LAWS

Says Present British Government is but Derelict Wreck of Fortitious Atoms Washed About by Waves.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt, speaking to his constituents at Harcourt tonight, drew a parallel between a speech delivered in Birmingham in 1888 by Joseph Chamberlain and the present policy of the former colonial secretary. "In 1888," said Sir William, "Mr. Chamberlain spoke as follows: 'It is improbable that the working classes of this country will ever again submit to the sufferings and misery inflicted by the corn laws. If this is the policy of the Tories we have only to recall the history of the times when protection starved the poor and the country was brought to the brink of revolution.'"

Sir William said he would leave Mr. Chamberlain with his political and historical conscience, and discuss that gentleman's immediate policy. He did not think it worth while to take up time with Mr. Harcourt's plan. The government at this time was nothing that really could be called a government. It was, Sir William said, "only a derelict wreck of fortitious atoms, which had lost its best officers and was being washed about by waves over which it had no control."

The speaker pilloried Mr. Chamberlain's statements concerning his policy and predicted that the result of the adoption of this policy would be ruinous to the poorer classes and would end in trying the hands of Spence ministers in the future.

Object to Foot Ball.

The annual report of the board of education of the District of Columbia submitted today contains the following in regard to foot ball:

The board has had its attention directed to a growing strabousness and carelessness in inflicting injury in the foot ball games between the schools. While highly appreciative of the value of foot ball, the board should tolerate such manslaughter in the name of athletics and the board will not fail to take notice of brutality in play, and it need be, to stop it. It prohibits the same in the schools.
