BUSINESS TALK FOR OMAHA

Mambers of Commercial Clinb and Grain Exchange Get Together.

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITY

John R. Webster Suggests that Local Capital Show Its Faith by Putting Up a Big Mill to Start a Market,

Only about forty members were present at the meeting of the Commercial club, called Thursday to consider the advance ment of the grain exchange. Most of them were members who were not present at the meeting held about one week ago. Owing to the absence of both the president and vice president of the organization N. Merriam was elected chairman for the evening. after the meeting had been called to order by Secretary ULL

Chairman Merriam stated the object of the meeting, which was to consider the building of mills, and promote the general welfare of the city, after which he said in DATE:

part: Beveral people have asked me during the hast week if Prosident Stickney has done anything to promote the weifare of Omaha. I think he has done a great deal of good before Mr. Stickney came if was an im-possibility to get a car of grain shipped by the Northwestern to St. Louis. Con-ditions were the same on the large system which covers the southern part of our state. President Stickney has opened the door to Chicago and St. Louis for grain shipments. It is not supposed Stickney can fight all our battles for us. What can we do ourselyes:

Time for Young Men.

H. W. Yates said: "I never had so much faith in the future of Omaha as I have at the present time, but we must work up some enthusiasm, we must get the young men interested. It is they who should do the work and not the older men. All the hard fighting to build a great city here has been done. The fight and hardest fight was with Council Bluffs and we won. but the fight continued for years. It is about over now, and Omnha will become a great city in splite of us. In speaking of this grain exchange, I would say that it is not an impossibility to build up a great grain market here, and to prove my assertion I will refer you to our stock market on the south. If you had told anyone twenty years ago that some day such a market would be in existence there they would have looked at you in great wonder much the same as people look at you now when you speak of a grain market. Yet it is there, and greater difficulties have been overcome in building it than the citisens of Omaha will have to overcome in building up the proposed grain market."

How to Start Something.

C. F. McGrew and John L. McCarue aroused considerable enthusiasm by a few remarks on the subject of what can and should be done in forwarding the interests. of the grain exchange, but John R. Webter seemed to tauch the responsive chord of the evening. Mr. Webster said:

About the evolution and, we esser and: About the only talk we hear in connec-tion with this grain market proposition is on grain which have been favorable to Omaha for years and which should bring to this city 100,000,000 bushels of grain an-nually. Any railroad man shows that I speak facts. Admitting this, it cannot be the rates which keeps it away. It is be-cause we have no market for it here. Let us make a murket. Let us build up loop and we will build a figuring ople that the venture is a will want to take a hand and you know we will have

We spend fortunes on cleanliness.

We clean every tub, every boiling vat, tank or barrel, every pipe and pump, every time we use it.

We bore wells down 1400 feet to rock for pure water.

We cool the beer in filtered air.

We filter the beer by machinery.

We store Schlitz beer for months in refrigerating rooms, until it is well fermented-until it cannot cause biliousness.
