DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Better Feeling in Iron Trade, but Actual Conditions Not Satisfactory.

Developments are not emouraging as to cotton spinning, but there is evidence of better conditions in the iron and steel industry, while retail trade feels the awail impetus as the holidays approach. Ideness among New England lumber mills is offset by increased activity in the south. Owing to pressure of grain there is still delay in handling freight promptly at a few western points, but as a rule traffic facilities are adequate and railway earnings for November show an average gain of 4 percent over last year. It is significant evidence of the attitude of consumers that while the output of pig Iron declined to about 1.986,600 tone in November, the lowest point in several years, furnace stocks rose to 558,170 tone, exceeding all records. Such a striking discrepancy indicates clearly the extent of contraction in this leading branch of manufacture. From present indications it seems almost certain that the situation will show some improvement by the end of this month, although inventories always retard operations in December. Throughout the industry, however, there is a growing sentiment of hopefulness reparding the new year. Priors have steadled and orders are being placed more liberally. Structural steel is sought freely, several large contracts being under consideration, and many amanifer orosets have been actually placed. The chief event among the minor metals was a manipulation in it, which forced prices sharply upward, but demand for consumption is not brisk.

Footwar manufacturers report new business seasonably quiet, but plants are taxed to their fullest capacity, in most cause on cld orders, and wedget jubiterly demoralized by the raw mantacturers report new husiness seasonably quiet, but plants are taxed to their fullest capacity, in most cause on cld orders, and wedget jubiterly formeralized by the raw material situation. The margin between buyers and sellers is wide and little business is reported. Quotations of cotton goods are now practically nominal. In the woolen goods division new lines of overcous

The improvement in crude iron apparently holds, judging from small price advances at several markets.

Eastern shoe manufacturers are still shipping heavily on winter account, have an average spring business booked and report fair orders for next fail.

Railway carnings are really good and will show a gain of fully 5 per cent over last November.

Improved demand for the next three months delivery and advance demanded of 25 to 26 cents in prices, with refusals to book beyond that time, lead to the belief that the iswest point has been seen in the iron trade. The drop is finished products has not been in proportion, nor is the awakening in demand for these products so marked, but it is noted that wire and nais, structural from and plates are rather better at Pittsburg, with more inquiry noted for rails at Chicago. Other metals show no particular change. Hardware is in fair demand for this season. Lumber is rather quiet, as is usual at this period, and the outlook for next year's building is not as yet clearly defined. Coal shows the effect of heavy anticipatory sales last summer and autumn. Coke prices ignd lower.

ROOT ON MACARTHUR'S REMARK

War Secretary Says He Will Do Nothing, as General Has Sufficiently Explained.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.-The statements attributed to General MacArthur, as ecotained in last night's dispatches from Honolulu. in which he predicted war in the near future between Germany and the United States, have come to the notice of Secretary Boot.

In an interview with an Associated Press representative today the secretary said the only information he had on the subject was what he had seen in the papers. He did not regard it as a case calling for action by him inasmuch as the disputch quoted General MacArthur as saying that the statements in Colonel Jones' report to Governor Carter did not correctly repre sent his views in any particular, and utterly misrepresented them in some. Becretary made the assertion that remarks of this character delivered in private conversation would not necessarily shield an officer from the requirement of an explanation, but he says that General MagArthur's denial carries with it the weight of an explanation. He therefore would take no action in the matter, At the meeting of the cabinet today ! is said that the matter was discussed, as a result of which it seems likely that Secretary Root will modify his view, and, in the interest of fairness to General Mac-Arthur, call upon him for an explanatiupon his arrival in the United States the latter part of this mouth.

sit down with something good ead. The Sunday paper that gives him the best is the one lie naturally prefers. This is why The Sunday Bee is the most popular paper in the west. Not only is it the recognized newspaper of an unlimited territory, but its magazine supplement is conceded to be with out a peer throughout all the great region comprehensively referred to as the west. Each week it comes with something fresh, and always with something of general interest and this without dealing with sensational or meretricious matters. Its columns are clean, entertaining and instructive, and its popularity is therefore based on the solid foundation of intrinsic merit.

GUY DE MAUPASSANT has long been recognized as the prince of short story writers. Many of his little romances have been published in English, but a great many more have not. The Bee has arranged with a New York publisher, who is bringing out a complete translation of the works of this great French author for the right to publish a number of his short stories that have never before been translated The first of these will appear on Sunday. It will be followed by others during the winter, and will afford additional attraction to the readers of The Illustrated Bee.

PARIS, Dec. 11.-Dr. Perriquet, considered the Seading witness in the Fair will. ase, testified today before Commissioner Eiser of New York!

He said he arrived on the scene an hour after the automobile accident and found both Charier L. Fair and his wife dead. The body of Mr. Fair was already rigid. but that of his wife was not rigid, indiouting that the former died first. From the condition of Mr. Fair's body, the wit ness believed his death was instantaneous The condition of Mrs. Fair indicated that her death was not instantaneous. Dr. Perriques related the case of a woman who was murdered near the scene of the accident. Her wounds, which were in the end, were almost identical with those of Mrs. Fair, the victim living for many hours. The witness further testified that, while he was unable to swear positively whether Mr. Pair or Mrs. Fair died first. yet his positive opinion was that Mrs. Fair must have survived her husband. The court has received a letter from Les Cour," an official of the local mayor's office, near the scene of the accident, saying that the porter's wife, who found the bodies, told him she saw Mrs. Pair's head move after Mr Fair was dead. The cross-examination of Lr. Perriquet will take place Monday.
