is just fifteen years old, the first links in country having been established at being John Reid, J. R. Upham, Harry Hol-brook and H. O. Tallmadge. The links consisted of but six holes at first, and the game was first introduced through Robert Lockhart, a member of the St. Andrew's Gelf club of Scotland.

The second course in the United States is what is still known as Shinnecock Hills, of the Ame ican wo nan golfer. In this rewhich was organized August 22, 1891. In striking contrast to those days, it may now be stated that every state in the union boasts of a multitude of golf courses, a good many more in the eastern states than in the west, but with the strides the game is making in the west, it is assured beyond a doubt that every town and village of any pretentions whatever, will eventually have its golf course. Today in the state of New York there are 177 golf courses, 168 in Massachusetts, 114 in Pennsylvania. Golf courses in the west are not so numerous, because the game is younger.

The game has become firmly established TALK FROM TRACK AND STABLE everywhere that it has been once put to the test. As a health promoter it is today and has been for some time recommended by physicians in every city in the United States. A prominent business man in Omaha when on the verge of consumption three years ago was advised by his physician to take up golf, and although at that time he was scarcely able to wield a club, today he can play a larger number of holes than many of his companions and does not feel as tired as his competitors. Much of the popularity of the game during the past two years has been attained by reason of the fact that It has attracted to it and has retained, a vast number of women, and this insures its purification and stability, although on many of the courses there is an ironclad rule which will not permit of the women playing on Saturday because of the congestion of the

The other day a discussion arose as to whether there is or was such a thing as a standard golf course, reference being had solely to the question of length. In this connection it may be stated that there is no such thing as a standard golf course. A golf course of 6,000 yards, or thereabouts, is supposed to be what may be designated as an ideal and a satisfactory course. A course which is in excess of 6,000 yards is not inviting for the reason that a premium is placed upon a long game, and if the lover of this sport cannot drive a long ball he is at a disadvantage and stands but little show against one whose long game is golf under advantageous circumstances, providing the holes are apportioned properly as regards the matter of distance. The about which so much has been said during the last half-century, and which is referred to today as the "whole thing," does not ally trapped and bunkered, and that these | world's records to his credit;

The view of the latter was sustained and the other man was compelled to play the match with him.

The third case was where one of two players had failed to include in his card for a stroke competition an extra stroke which ate a mile in less than 3 minutes, drew he had taken on one of the holes where he cart that weighed more than twice i had lost a ball until fifteen minutes after much as the pneumatic affair pulled the cards had been handed in, and then he Lou Dillon when she circled the Memphi thought of it and went to the tourner com- course in 1:584, or exactly 1:0% faster than mittee and apprised it of the fact. The method of counting one point for the first nine holes, one point for the second nine and another point to the winner of the match seems to find great favor in the east and at Chicago, where it has been put to trial, and the indications are that in west next summer this method will be adopted.

The announcement which has recently been made that bowling clubs do not have the contests which are to be waged in the to belong to any organizations in order to compete at the big tourney in Cleveland in February, under the auspices of the American Bowling congress, is a matter of gen eral interest, but it will have little bearing one way or another on the Omaha bowlers. # UMICSO! Cures rheumatism

Uricsol not only cures the common forms of Rheumatism but it does what no other remedy ever has succeeded in accomplishing before.

It dissolves and eliminates deposits in the joints, where they have been accumulating for years. Records are in our possession, not of one but of many cases where the joints of the fingers were so thickened as to be practically rigid and useless; where the hip or knee joints were so filled with the deposit as to render the patient wholly unable to walk, and who have been restored to health and activity by the systematic use of Uricsol.

An occasional case is found which refuses to yield to treatment, but these are rare, and we can truthfully claim the remarkable record of 90 per cent, of cures, where a proper opportunity is given the remedy to accomplish the result.

Uricsol Chemical Co., Los Angeles, Cal .-Gentlemen: Having had the opportunity of testing your preparation for the treatment of the Uric Acid Diatheses, very appropriately called Uricsol, it is a pleasure to be able to say that it has made itself deserving of much esteem and confidence. The opportunity was one of which the manufacturers had neither knowledge nor intimation. The incident of acquaintance was brought about by a happy chance. Edward U. S. Holmes was in China at the earlier date of the Boxer outbreak, and the first Pekin horror drove him from the Celestial Kingdom. Suffering from terrible exposure before he sailed, and still worse exposure while a passenger on a freight steamer, he reached this country invalided with Rheumstism. At a place called Turner, not far from Salem, Oregon, he found friends. The disorder, muscular and articular combined, had possession of him in a most aggravated form: It was then that his friends obtained Uricsol from Woodward & Co., Portland (druggists). His report, as given August 6, on his coming to Newark, was in four words: "It cured me promptly." The case was one of much interest, although full particulars were not brought, and led to the laboratory acquaintance, the samples being bought through a Salem druggist, the person ordering it having the impression that Woodward & Co. manufactured it.

I have no "testimonial" to write. Mr. Edward U. S. Holmes was in China at the
