Commends Munyon's Paw Paw.
Prof. Ross S. Wallace, A. M. and

Great Reputation, Gives His Opinion of Paw Paw.

Arcadius Avellan, Dr. Litt, Dr. Pitt, is one of the most distinguished and widely known savants and scientists in the world. His attainments are familiar to the greatest educators, both in foreign lands and in America, and in the most exclusive educational circles he commands the highest respect and admiration. In a recent letter to Prof. Munyon he says: "I used to wonder when in the land of Paw Paw why some clever physician or chemist had not brought that wonderful fruit before suffering humanity and nerve tonic, as I know from actual use that it had rare virtue in that direction. Seeing that Prof. Munyon, with characteristic energy and enterprise has worked the thing out, I tried his Paw Paw and find it all that it is represented to be. Its effect upon digestion, its control of the nerves and purification of the blood is something wonderful. I congratulate Prof. Munyon sincerely on this, which I consider his 'crowning achievement' in the realm of curative remedies."

Ross S. Wallace, A. M. and A. C., is one of the most distinguished analytic and consulting chemists in the east. His home is in Haddonfield, N. J. After a careful analysis of Munyon's Paw Paw, he writes as follows:

"The sample of Munyon's Paw Paw submitted for examination shows that it is a highly concentrated vegetable compound of exceptional merit as a digestant and tonic for both stomach and nervous centers. It contains nothing injurious to the most delicate organs."

Druggists say they have never handled a medicine that gave such universal satisfaction.

Paw Paw gives new life and strength to the stomach, so that it digests everything that goes into it. Its effect upon the nerves is marvelous. It seems to relieve them of all strain and irritation. For insomnia it is proving a great blessing, as scores of people declare that Paw Paw soothes and quiets the nerves so that one can enjoy a good night's rest and get up in the morning feeling strong and refreshed.

Prof. Munyon especially asks every weak and debilitated person to try his Paw Paw remedy. He says it makes old folks young and weak folks strong. That it will take away all need and desire for alcoholic stimulants. Alcoholics drink lifts but lets you fall. Paw Paw lifts and holds you; it gives exhilaration without intoxication. Sold by all druggists. Large bottle, $1. Munyon's Laxative Pills, 50c a bottle. (The editor of this paper will be pleased to hear directly from anyone who has been benefited by the use of the Paw Paw samples given away at our office, or from the use of a large bottle subsequently purchased from druggists.)

TO PUT IN WELSBACH LAMPS

Agent of Company Makes New Proposition of Lighting Streets.

COUNCIL ASKS FOR A WRITTEN OFFER

Letter Will Be Submitted and Receive Consideration at Meeting Tonight—May Reduce Number of Burners.

R. W. Bingham, representing the Welsbach Street Lighting Company of America, presented a new proposition for gasoline lighting to the council yesterday afternoon. He proposes to replace the 300 common burners with the Welsbach device and increase the cost per lamp from $18 to $30 a year. He said he thought that from 200 to 300 of the improved lamps could be made to serve the purpose instead of the larger number of the old type now in use. The council instructed him to present a written offer at the meeting tonight, stipulating a minimum of 200 lights.

Gasoline lighting in Omaha is now carried on by the Globe Light and Heat company, which is another name for the Welsbach company, also designated the "trust." Two years ago the contract with the Globe company at $18 expired and has not been renewed, but the city has continued to receive the service and foot the bill.

Now, Mr. Bingham says, the time has come for a change because the company is losing money owing to the high prices of labor and gasoline—especially gasoline. He told the councilmen that if they did not accept the new offer and cared to go on with the old arrangement the plain burners would cost $1 a year in the future.

Gasoline Price Soars.
"When we first came into Omaha five or six years ago gasoline cost us about 7 cents a gallon. Now it costs 14 or 15 cents and the Standard Oil company reaps the profit that used to be ours. The improved lamp gives sixty candle-power or over and is fully as efficient as a gas lamp."

The present gasoline lamps in the outlying districts beyond the gas mains are a source of continual complaint. The report of the gas inspector for November showed many of them not burning, and Chairman Dyball of the lighting committee has secured that a deduction of $400 was due from the monthly bill. There was some uncertainty about the report, however, and action was delayed a week in order to have the benefit of the presence of Gas Inspector Lynch.

The Welsbach company is not altogether alone in its field, although it claims to control patents covering all incandescent street lighting now possible. In Cleveland and St. Paul the Cleveland Vapor Light company recently has secured contracts for this kind of lighting.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

At a meeting last week the ideal club of Council Bluffs celebrated Federation day in a manner befitting its name, at once fulfilling the object of the day and providing the members an altogether enjoyable and profitable afternoon. The program of the afternoon was provided by Mrs. Theron Metcalf, at whose home it was held, assisted by six other members of the club, and was a surprise to the other members. The early part of the program was devoted to a mock federation meeting, which was addressed by notices of congratulatory, each presenting in turn one of the several matters of importance that are claiming the attention and effort of clubdom at present. The hostess, charmingly groomed, represented the ambitious member, who has an eye to the national presidency and set forth her qualifications and rights to the office in a delightfully humorous address.

Mrs. P. J. Montgomery, in cap and apron, represented Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall and made a plea for domestic science for men and boys as well as for the women and girls. Mrs. D. W. Bushnell, in the quaintest of Puritan garb, as Priscilla Plymouth, represented the advantages of a "family tree." Mrs. H. B. Jennings, as Maria Jenkins Audson, wearing a hat trimmed with every variety of feather and topped with a miniature hansom rooster, made a plea for the organization of an Audson society. Mrs. S. S. Smoot, "the beloved thirteenth wife of Senator Smoot," was impersonated by Mrs. N. C. Phillips, who in silk and lace and jewels, vehemently advised club women to mind their own affairs and let her husband alone. Mrs. B. S. Terwilliger, as Mrs. Potter Palmer argued for more of elegance and elaborate entertainment, suggesting that carriages and footmen be provided to conduct the visiting delegates from the depot to their places of entertainment and to the convention. In the midst of this plea for elegance Mrs. Carry Nation, in person of Mrs. F. L. Reed, burst upon the meeting, bonnet, hatchet, shawl and all and insisted upon the immediate adoption of resolutions advocating prohibition, and that every member present immediately sign the pledge. Mrs. Nation was in turn interrupted by Mrs. J. P. Organ, who as Mrs. Rhoda Brown Wayback, was "set against clubs," and so energetically did she berate the women for their neglect of home and family that the meeting adjourned to the dining room where an old fashioned New England supper was served. The Federation day program was quite as attractive as the farce and touched upon the various topics of interest.

A bill has been introduced in congress by Mr. Shafer of Colorado providing for the setting aside as a government reserve of a section of land five miles wide and ten miles long which includes the famous Cliff Dwellings of Colorado. It is to be known as the Colorado Cliff Dwelling park, and the preservation and restoration of much of this tract is due to the women of an association organized for that purpose, and if the bill passes this park will be a splendid monument to the efforts of the women.

The lunch and rest rooms of the Young Women's Christian association will be open evenings during this week for the benefit of the Christmas shoppers.

This week's meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union has been postponed and the next meeting will be held Wednesday, January 13.

The Denver Women's club cleared $1,000 at their bazaar held the first week in December. On a previous occasion the club cleared $5,000 at a doll bazaar.

Mrs. J. M. Pile of Wayne, a prominent club woman of the state and a member of the educational committee of the General Federation, will address the Nebraska State Teachers' association on "Some of the Vital Needs of Our Public Schools," December 31, at 9 o'clock, at the University club Lincoln. Clubs are cordially invited to send representatives.

LAUGHLAND'S SCHEME DIES

Plan to Make Dog Pound a Refuge and Increase Master's Pay Falls Through.

Foundmaster Laughland endeavored to interest the councilmen yesterday in a scheme to make the dog pound during the winter a haven for "homeless, friendless and crippled dogs." The scheme is said to have the sanction of the city engineer, although it has not been applied to the council for permission. The foundmaster's proposition carried with it an appropriation of $100 for himself for combined services as watchman and custodian during the winter. Two or three councilmen brought up sign it and the subject was not brought up.

PROTEST AGAINST M'GOUGH

Some Councilmen Prefer McLaughlin for Position of City Electrician.

Protests against the confirmation of Ferguson M'Gough as city electrician have been filed with Chairman Dyball of the lighting committee and that committee has been authorized to bring in its report tonight. In the council there is a tendency to hold the place open for Superintendent McLaughlin of the street light company, who will resign the first of the year, owing to a division of jurisdiction in his present position.

Gardner Held for Shooting.
SPEARFISH, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Nathan Gardner, charged with the shooting of H. Lewis at Spearfish two weeks ago, had his hearing before Justice L. H. Henderson in Spearfish and was bound over to the next term of circuit court, his bond being fixed at $2,000. This he has been unable to produce and is consequently in the Lawrence county jail. The preliminary examination attracted much attention and the justice court room was crowded throughout the hearing. The evidence against Gardner is purely of a circumstantial nature, the main circumstance being that tracks at the scene of the shooting, which talked closely with the shoes Gardner had on when arrested. A motive for the shooting is furnished by the state in the case of a woman who is said to have entered prominently in the previous circumsstances.

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST

Residents on Locust Street Rebel Against Oathers-Burbank-Wright Deal.

DECLARE THEY WILL FIGHT IT TO THE END

Petition Council to Head Off "Cold-Blooded Taking of Public Funds" for Private Gain.

Willis Strader of 2223 Locust street appeared before the council committee yesterday afternoon and asked that action taken to buy parts of Locust and Twentieth streets from John T. Cathers and Byron G. Burbank, who claim to represent clients, be annulled. He presented one petition signed by fourteen Locust street residents and another signed by nineteen in the immediate vicinity, protesting against the deal, which they term "a cold-blooded taking of public funds."

The councilmen decided to hear the case next Monday afternoon, by which time they will have received from the public the petition of the petitioners.

Context of Petition.

We, the undersigned residents upon and owners of property abutting on Locust street between Twentieth and Twenty-fourth streets in the city of Omaha, respectfully show to your honorable body that Locust street has been in constant use as a public street for more than fifteen years and that the property owners now have a decree of the district court, affirmed by the supreme court, enjoining Albert Willey, Orrin R. Cain, Byron G. Burbank and Virgil O. Strickler from in anywise interfering with Locust street from Twentieth to Twenty-fourth streets and from claiming or asserting any claim to any part thereof.

In spite of this decree the above parties are now attempting to railroad a resumption of the property to give them a large sum of money for this street. Under the said decree this street can never be taken in any manner by said parties, and it would be an outrage to allow the part of the street, as he knows that if the city does not buy soon he will be forced to get his property into the market.

The undersigned are the people most interested in having this Cathers strip opened, and if we are opposed to the purchase and are with the public, certainly there is no such public demand as would warrant this large and useless expense at this time.

No petition of any sort has ever been filed asking for the proposed opening, although statements to the contrary have been made in the papers.

We, therefore, repeat that we already own Locust street from Twentieth to Twenty-fourth streets, except a strip on the south side of the street between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets belonging to Mr. Cathers, and we insist that he must be forced to dedicate this strip within a year.

We protest against any payments to these parties and again give notice that we will fight to the last attempt to burden our property with a tax, either general or special, to pay for such a cold-blooded taking of public funds.

Names on Petition.

It is signed by these Locust street residents: Willis Strader, R. H. Longerson, W. P. Mink, H. W. Curtis, V. A. Johnson, Catharine O'Connor, Mrs. L. M. Rohrer, A. Lewis, Stephen Maloney, May O'Connor, P. M. Shlesler, Mrs. G. Schanberger, Jesse W. Jennings, A. L. Graves.

Rev. J. W. Jennings, who is the presiding elder of the Methodist church for this district, was given a deed calling for property at the center of Locust street. It is said. However, he is willing to waive any rights which he may have and not interfere with the street which has been in use so many years.

and National Wool Growers' association at Portland, Ore., January 11 to 15; Truitt Midson of Pierre, C. J. Buel of Rapid City; J. W. Reedy of Bismarck. Alternates: William Host of Pierre, H. C. Anderson of Sturgis, J. Q. Anderson of Chamberlain.

The matter of further action on the part of the independent packing organization will probably be completed at this meeting of the Live Stock association and the location of the new plant which they expect to erect will probably be settled by the directors of the packing association, which will be held at the same time and place of the stock meeting.

CONLEY'S SENTENCE AFFIRMED

Must Serve Two and a Half Years' Time in Prison for Selling Liquor to Indians.

Bloux Falls, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Assistant United States Attorney Porter returned today from St. Louis, where he represented the government in arguments before the federal court of appeals on the appeal of Thomas Conley, formerly of Peever, but now of Webster County, who was found guilty at the April term of court in this city of selling liquor to Indians and sentenced by Judge Carland to imprisonment for a period of one and one-half years in the Bloux Falls penitentiary. He was released upon furnishing bonds in the sum of $1,000 for appearance. When the court of appeals acted upon his case Assistant Attorney Porter reported that the circuit court of appeals, immediately upon the conclusion of the arguments, affirmed the action of Judge Carland. Conley will now be required to serve the term of imprisonment imposed upon him by Judge Carland.

James M. White of Groton, who at the October term of United States court in this city was found guilty of selling liquor without having paid the special tax, was today released from custody. He was sentenced to a term in jail and fined $100. He had completed the jail sentence and to escape serving an additional term for the fine before United States Commissioner Conway and took the poor debtor's oath.

Another Coal Find.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Considerable excitement has been created by the discovery of a vein of soft coal about five miles southeast of Webster county. A bed of coal eight feet thick was struck at a depth of sixty-five feet by workmen digging a well. The quality is good and burns readily. This is probably the same vein which was struck about three miles north of Warner recently at a depth of 100 feet and again on another farm near there at a greater depth. These discoveries are attracting public attention and are of the utmost importance to this section of the state, especially to Aberdeen, where large quantities of fuel are consumed.

Stock and Wool Dealers Named.

PURDIE, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Governor Harrell today appointed as delegates and alternates to the seventh annual meeting of the National Live Stock association and the bank were a number of notes given by the bank officers as collateral for loans without any security. The conditions, as indicated in the report, show a woeful lack of business methods in transacting the work of the bank.

Indians to Be Good Customers.

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Merchants about the Cheyenne river reservation northwest of here, are looking for a harvest within the next few weeks, as the Indians on that reservation will receive about $60,000 from the leases of a large part of their reservation to cattle men. The merchants in that section will get a large share of this and are preparing to handle the business which will come to them.

For the Children's Home.

ABERDEEN, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—The subscription here toward the support of the Children's home at Bloux Falls has already reached nearly $500. As soon as this amount is raised it will be forwarded to Bloux Falls.

Reds Make White Black and Blue.

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Jailer Logan was called upon to settle an active dispute between William Kuzscoke, his white prisoner, and two of the Indian prisoners. There has been trouble brewing for several days and today they started a rough-and-tumble argument, in which Kuzscoke was badly wounded before the jailer could interfere.
