Speaking of the movement recently in-augurated by Joseph Chamberiain to federate the English colonies on the basis of imperial protection against the world, Premier Ross said:

Premier Ross said: It requires no argument to show that the establishment of commercial relations within the empire on the basis of prefer-ential tariff would greatly strengthen the ties which bind all the colonies, including Canada, to the empire, and remove still further in the background whatever in-ducements remain for choser commercial relations with the United States. Premier Ross said that he did not desire to leave the imprements that the Colonies to leave the impression that the Canadians looked with aversion upon the American form of government and the activity which this nation has exhibited in every department of human enterprise but cited many stances in which Canada had followed the lead of the United States, greatly to its own advantage.
