

WHICH MEN ARE NOT ALL HAPPY

Dyspepsia is Their Greatest Trouble Nowadays.

Croesus, the John D. Rockefeller of Lydia, and also king of that ancient nation, was very well-to-do in worldly goods and chattels. "As rich as Croesus" is a saying about 2,500 years old. He had his troubles, however, and some of them were full-grown. He was taken captive once by Cyrus the Great and only saved himself from being burned alive by quoting a saying of Solon, the Sage. He finally had to flee his kingdom for parts unknown.

Many of the rich man's troubles to-day come from high living and could be avoided. They are brought on by eating all kinds of rich, heavy foods at irregular times, lack of proper exercise, undue mental strain, unnatural stimulants, etc., and are commonly known as indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach. They are serious troubles all right but not only can they be avoided, but they can also be cured, and that without loss of time or proper food and nourishment.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the certain relief of dyspeptics, rich and poor alike. There is no such thing as stopping their onward progress now. A great nation has placed its stamp of approval upon their noble work. The thousands and thousands of cures they have effected and the happiness resulting therefrom have made their name a household word throughout the land.

The story of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be told in a word. They actually do the work that the weak and wasted stomach is unable to do and allow it to recuperate and regain its strength. They contain all the essential properties that the gastric juice and other digestive fluids do, and they digest the food just as a sound, and well stomach would. They relieve the stomach just as one rested and refreshed workman relieves the one on duty that is tired and worn, and Nature does her own work of restoration. It is a simple natural process that a child can understand. You can eat all you want without fear of bad results when you follow the meal with one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c. a box. The druggist never fails to have them in stock because the demand for them is so great and so pronounced that he cannot afford to be without them. If he did not keep them, his business would not last long; for people who could not get them of one druggist would go to another, and would get in the habit of buying their other drugs there as well as their Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

SEES A NEW LIGHT IN EAST

William B. Price Says Bryan is More Popular There Than Ever Before.

ONLY DEMOCRACY CAN SAVE COUNTRY

Lincoln People Adding to the Attractions with Which They Hope to Entertain Visiting Teachers from Over the State.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 24.—(Special.)—William B. Price, who in all probability will be a candidate before the next democratic state convention to go on the delegation to the national convention, has returned from his pilgrimage east and in considerable measure has declared for a period in its national life where W. J. Bryan, W. R. Hearst, Grover Cleveland, Henry Watterson and Senator Hoar should lay aside all personal differences and help to place the government back into the hands of the people and thus "save our free institutions and again prove that a government of the people, by the people and for the people is not a failure."

Outlining the next democratic platform he said: "If the next national democratic platform is drawn by thirty-loving, patriotic men and declares for a tariff tax commensurate with the needs of the government, honestly and economically administered, and for a tariff commission selected by the legislative departments of each state and territory and clothed with authority to change, alter or remove the tariff from any article when it is controlled or manipulated by any trust or combination; and also declares for sound money, as defined by the constitution, and making every dollar a good dollar; and also declares for the expenditure of millions of money for the defense of the nation and the protection of our commerce, but not one dollar for the purpose of making it a war power or to prey upon weaker nations or to oppose the God-given right of self-government by strong in favor of declaring all transportation corporations, public highways, for the use and benefit of all the people upon equal terms and without discrimination, and when the platform is finished, the delegates should be notified to stand upon it in whom there is no selfishness or shadow of turning, and the God-fearing, liberty-loving, patriotic people will place them in power and in one solid phalanx march to Barthold's statue of liberty enlightening the world and tear the deep veil of mourning off that has shrouded it since 1864.

Junior Normal Instructors. State Superintendent Fowler has announced his corps of instructors for the junior normal school and these will meet with him Tuesday afternoon to discuss school matters. It is expected that the enrollment this year in these schools will reach 1,000. The term opens June 13 and ends August 13. The instructors are as follows:

Alliance—Superintendent W. H. Bartz, Alliance, principal; Mrs. Sarah Brindley, Columbus, primary instructor; Superintendent C. C. Danforth, Sidney; Prof. C. W. Phillips, Lincoln High school.

Holdrege—Superintendent A. A. Reed, Holdrege, principal; Miss Nellie M. Schler, Lincoln, primary instructor; Superintendent J. V. Owens, Aurora; Prof. A. J. Mercer, Lincoln High school; Miss Sadie H. Smith, Holdrege.

McCook—Superintendent George H. Thomas, McCook, principal; Miss Anna Chase, Lincoln, primary instructor; Superintendent S. H. Martin, St. Paul; Prof. C. H. Miller, Lincoln city schools; Miss Eva C. Smith, Holdrege.

North Platte—Superintendent R. H. Gardner, Auburn, principal; Miss Grace Groves, Fremont, primary instructor; Superintendent E. E. Magee, Fairmont; Superintendent James E. Deland, Lexington; Miss Corn O'Connell, Fremont.

Valentine—Superintendent R. H. Watson, Valentine, principal; Miss M. E. Watson, Lincoln, primary instructor; Superintendent M. R. Snowgrass, Wayne; Superintendent J. W. Snowgrass, Wayne; Superintendent J. W. Snowgrass, Wayne.

The Knight divorce case was still on in Judge Holcomb's court today and most of the time Knight was on the stand in his own behalf. He denied all of the sensational charges of his wife and spoke at length of the blood-sweating he had done because of his wife's accusations and her jealous disposition.

Grain Exchange Incorporates. The Omaha Grain exchange filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The articles are signed by twenty-five people and it will require just 100 in all before it can begin to do business. The capital stock is $250,000 and the membership is limited to 500. The shares are to sell for $500 each. The business of the corporation is set forth in the articles in this paragraph:

The general objects and purposes of this corporation are to facilitate the buying and selling of products, to inaugurate, to facilitate the speedy adjustment of business disputes, to acquire and disseminate valuable commercial information, and generally to secure to its members the benefits of co-operation in the furtherance of legitimate business pursuits and to advance the general prosperity and business interests of the city of Omaha and the territory tributary thereto.

William Jackson Disappears. Another man has disappeared and his family and friends are getting very anxious about him. William Jackson, who lives on West A street, left home by Tuesday morning to come to his work in Lincoln and since that time he has not been heard from. He lives at that place with his mother, and she says this is the first time her son has ever gone away without letting her know about it. She is afraid something has happened to him. E. F. Dubois reported the matter to the police and asked them to assist in the search.

It was current here at the time Mr. Price went east that he had been sent for by eastern democrats who desire to control the next democratic convention in order to discuss with him the chances of the conservative wing of the party in defeating Bryan in the west and especially Nebraska. Mr. Price did not say whether he was giving out the outlines of a platform that his eastern brethren had charged him to make possible or from his own conviction arrived at without the aid or consent of any other nation.

Entertainment for Teachers. Among the nice things set apart for the entertainment of the teachers next week is the exhibition given by Chief Clements and the firemen. No one has yet consented to set a match to any of the big buildings of the town, but unless this is done the chief will make a run each evening at 5 o'clock with all the apparatus just for the benefit of the teachers. Another of these enjoyable events will be the rendition of Will Maupin's "Nebraska" by his collaborator on the song, Will O'Brien, and his chorus class. Miss Miller will ring the McKinley chimes each noon and each evening.

The local committee has also added to the list personally conducted excursions, under the management of Mr. E. C. Bishop, which have been planned for each day of the season. The first excursion will take place Wednesday, December 31, starting at 1:30 p. m. The asylum, the Home for the Friendless and the penitentiary will be visited. Arrangements have been made at each place so that the teachers will receive complete instruction in regard to the condition and management of these public institutions. It might be well to state in this connection that arrangements have been made for the teachers to get out safely from these institutions, as well as to get into them. Other excursions that have been planned are as follows: Havelock and University Place; College View, including a visit to the home of Hon. W. J. Bryan, and the state farm. The latter excursion is being planned by Prof. Davison.

A new feature this year will be free instruction in primary drawing and water color. Prof. Caldwell, art instructor at the Perce State Normal, will give a series of concise one-hour lessons on the work he has found valuable for teachers in perspective as applied to the cube, cylinder, prism and related objects. Miss Webster, director of art instruction in the public schools of Lincoln, will give a similar brief course in beginning water color, enabling any one to paint vegetables and simple objects, and to teach the fundamental processes of water color work for any grade. This work is planned to give any one who takes either course a series of practical exercises which she can use as soon as she gets back into her school room. It is especially for those who have never before tried the subject, in the belief that the knowledge gained will be a direct benefit to their school work as well as being in itself a subject of growing educational importance.

Uncle Bill Snowden Holds Reunion at the County Court House.

MAKES A FINE PRESENTATION SPEECH

Reviews with "the Boys" Days that Are Gone and Presents Gift to Judge Vinson.

Uncle "Bill" Snowden held "open house" at the court house yesterday afternoon and showed the pleasant side of life to many callers despite the fact that he is 75 years of age. For a number of years Uncle Bill held away in the office of the county judge. When Judge Vinson came into office in 1900, he was at his post of duty, and as the judge confessed yesterday afternoon, Uncle Bill had frequently revered him on points of law, but always with the right on Uncle Bill's side. In view of the close relations he had sustained with the attaché of the county judge's office, he was called in yesterday afternoon to renew old acquaintances. Judge Vinson had an automobile to be sent for Uncle Bill and he was brought up to the south door of the court house shortly after 2 o'clock.

Uncle Bill speaks. With slow and painstaking effort, Uncle Bill mounted the steps and finally found his way into his old corner in the office of the county judge. Here he was quickly besieged by a small army of friends. After a social chat had been indulged in for some time, Judge Vinson's was invited into the play of the office, headed by Uncle Bill, who wended their way in to where he sat. Uncle Bill was then called upon to make a speech of presentation of a beautiful Christmas present of the office to Judge Vinson.

English and Sullivan Draw. NORFOLK, Neb., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—Tommy Sullivan and Clarence English of Omaha, who have been trying to get together for some time past, met in a mill at Atkinson last night and fought for several rounds without a decision. Sullivan got the better of the punching. These are the same two boys who met in Norfolk not so very long ago. It was reported that English did not appear, but as a matter of fact he came over from Sioux City under disguise and left the city again at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Christmas Trade Good. FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—The merchants of Fremont report an exceptionally good Christmas trade this year. The fine weather and smooth roads have brought the farmers out in good numbers and their purchases have been of more expensive articles than is frequently the case. Furniture dealers report an exceptional demand for high grade goods. Turkeys are as scarce as at Thanksgiving and bringing the same prices. Other poultry has been plenty and low.

Oscola Merchants Mighty Happy. OSCOLA, Neb., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—Oscola merchants have their faces wreathed in smiles these days and they have wondered where all the money comes from, for their patronage seems to have "made" off it and the holiday trade for the different merchants has been larger this year than in any year in their history. Some of the merchants' cash trade in a day has been as high as $1,500, breaking all past records.

Send Old Man to Relatives. FREMONT, Neb., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—An old man in poor health and partially demented was picked up by the police on the streets last evening. He gave his name as John Ingram and thought he was in Fairfax, S. D. It was later learned that he had relatives in Raymond, Neb., and he was sent down there this morning.

AINSWORTH, Neb., Dec. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—The 4-year-old daughter of Charles Goslin, living fourteen miles north-east of here, is lying at the point of death from playing with kerosene near a stove this morning.

FACE'S FACE TO FOLLY

PAPILLION, Neb., Dec. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Mr. Facey attempted this morning to drive across the track ahead of a fast train. The horses were just on the track when the train struck them. The horses were badly hurt and the shafts of the wagon broken.

PLEASURE TURNS TO MOURNING

Husband Returns Home with Christmas Present to Find Wife Dead by Own Hand.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—B. L. Righter returned to his home, 204 L street, early this evening with Christmas presents for his wife and son and found the former sitting in a chair dead, the result of a dose of strychnine self-administered. The woman's features were not distorted and she sat in a natural position, her head thrown back as though asleep. Righter opened the door, placed the bundles on the table and then went to the side of his wife. He placed his hand on her face and discovered the awful deed. A bottle that had contained ten grains of the poison lay empty in another part of the room.

The distracted husband called physicians, but they were of no avail. The death is particularly pathetic because tonight, at Hebron, Ia., a sister of Mrs. Righter was to have been married. The death message was sent from here at an hour that would cause its receipt by the bridal party at the wedding hour.

Mrs. Righter was 39 years of age and was the mother of a 9-year-old son, who, with his father, survive her. She had been in ill health and this is supposed to have occasioned her suicide. The family is in moderate circumstances and their home is nicely furnished. Righter is a liveryman.

ASKS FOR BRYAN'S REMOVAL

Widow of Philo S. Bennett Says Nebraskan Has Divided Duty.

ALLEGES INTERESTS ARE INIMICAL

Plaintiff Says that Executive Has Preferred His Own Interests Personally and as Trustee to that of Legatees.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 14.—Application for the removal of William J. Bryan as executor of the will of Philo S. Bennett was made by Mrs. Bennett and other residuary legatees in the probate court today on the ground that he has neglected his duties and because his interests personally and as trustee are inimical to those of the legatees under the will.

In the petition is this paragraph: "Said Bryan, by appealing from the order of the court, will, and by prosecuting said appeal is preferring his own interests as an individual and as an alleged trustee to his duty as executor of said will, and put himself and his interests as an individual in antagonism to the legatees under said will, to their interest, as such legatees, and to his duties as such executor and said conduct of said Bryan is inconsistent with his retention in office as executor of said will and has rendered him an unfit and incapable person to continue exercising the duties and enjoying the emoluments of said office."

The signers of the petition are Mrs. Grace Imogene Bennett, the widow; Mrs. Della A. Bigelow of Waterville, N. Y., and George A. Cable of Yonkers, N. Y.

South Dakota Wealthy.

STURGIS, S. D., Dec. 24.—(Special.)—The Meade county bank of Sturgis has compiled some very curious and valuable statistics, mainly of a financial kind, the principal object being to contrast the six counties of the Black Hills with the rest of the world. It is found that South Dakota, for six successive years, has produced more wealth per capita than any other state in the union; has more banks per capita than any other state. There are twenty-three banks in the six counties of the Black Hills, having, at the close of business November 11 last, deposits of nearly $5,000,000. This is an average of about $25 per capita, and is about two and a half times greater than the average deposits per capita for the entire United States. All the larger mining corporations have their deposits in the eastern cities and do their banking business with eastern banks, and the larger cattle companies have but a meager portion of their capital here.
