Also Asks Court to Compel the Trans. fer of Enough Stock to Make Him Half Owner in the Company.

Henry I. Forsyth, general manager of the Union Transfer company, against whom sensational charges were made recently in a suit brought to recover $16,000 alleged to have been misappropriated by him from the funds of the company, secured a temporary injunction from Judge Scott of the Superior court restraining O. P. McKesson and W. A. Southard, stockholders in the company, from holding a stockholders' meeting last night, the purpose of which, Forsyth alleged, was to by Rev. Stephen Phelps, former pastor of oust him from office as manager of the corporation.

The call for the meeting to be held at 8 o'clock last evening was issued in the with Forsyth and his wife, own all of the stock of the company.

In his petition for a restraining order Foreyth sets forth that originally the stor of the company was owned by C. R. Ha nan, J. S. Gretzer, O. P. McKesson, D. Selby and himself and wife. In Octob 1902, he alleges that he and Southard e tered into a verbal agreement by while they were to acquire all of the stock owner by Hannan, Gretzer and McKesson, and that in pursuance of this agreement South ard purchased the stock of Hannan and Greizer, and held the same in trust as to one-half thereof for him, Forsyth; that subsequently Southard, in further pursuance of the agreement, acquired by purchase all the stock of McKesson, but under exactly what terms was unknown to Forsyth except that McKesson still held part of the stock as security for the purchase price

The petition then refers to the suit brought against Forsyth a few weeks ago. which it is alleged was for the purpose of not only destroying his property rights in the company and its business but also his good name and standing in this commun-The further allegation is made that McKesson and Southard, in pursuance of the plan to destroy his (Forsyth's) good name and business standing, have agreed to vote as a unit in any action looking to the deprivation of Forsyth of any office or onnection with the management of the husiness of the company.

Regarding the call for the meeting for Monday evening, issued by McKesson and Southard, it is asserted that they would control more than two-thirds of the capital stock, and could therefore vote to oust Forsyth from office. REWARD FOR SLAYER OF RICHARD ROBSON Gambling Houses in Des Moines Are > Closed as Result of Complaints Filed by Constable Dailey-Part of City Campaign.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Dec. 23.-(Special.)-Will liam E. Miller of Bedford, Taylor county, was this afternoon appointed by Governor Cummins to be judge of the district court in the Third judicial district to succeed Robert L. Parrish, who has resigned to enter the practice of law in this city. Miller is about 35 years of age and has been twice elected county attorney in Taylor county. He was a candidate for the nomination when his predecesso was named and on one ballot it is asserted that he had an actual majority of the ballots, but before it was announced changes were made that deprived him of the nomination. Miller was born in Davenport when his father, Rev. Emory Miller, well known in the Methodist ministry, was pastor of Grace church. Dr. Miller after wards had the First church in Des Moines and young Miller graduated from the West Des Moines High school, afterwards taking the law course at the State university.

He practiced law here for a year and then went to Taylor county. There were half dozen candidates for the place when Judge Parrish resigned, but the contest immerci down to three, including Miller, H. K. Evans of Corydon and Judge R. C. Henry of Mount Ayr. Miller will hol until his successor is elected and gulified. about a year hence, but he will be a can didate for the nomination himself. Offers a Reward.

Governor Cummins this afternoon Is sued a proclamation offering a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the person who killed a farmer boy in Audubon county last month. Richard Robson, aged 16, was left by his father at work in the cornfield gathering corn on the afternoon of November 11, when the father went to Exira, eight miles away on an errand. On the father's return the boy could not be found, but the horses were found late in the evening. Search was made for the boy by the parents and by neighbors, but no trace of him could be found and the conclusion was reached that he had run away from his home. But on December 8, Mr. Kline, a neighbor, cros sing the cornfield, came upon the dead body of the boy lying only a short distance from where he had gathered some corn on the fatal day. There was evidence that he had been struck over the head and killed, but all efforts to locate the criminal have failed, hence the offer of reward made today. The affair is mysterious. since it was not known that the boy had

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Dec. 28.-(Special.) -The epidemic of measies now raging in the city is becoming serious. There are about twenty-five homes quarantined.

Aggravated.

The disease is not prevalent in a mild form, but an aggravated type. Unlike the smallpox and other "breaking-out" discases, the measles are given out in their worst form while the patient is still in the catarrhal state or before any breaking out securs. In other diseases of this kind con tagion is not present until the breaking out period. The city authorities are mak ing every effort to check the run of the disease. Like all children's complaints however, it is a hard matter to check. The mumps are still raging also. The authori ties make no attempt to quarantine for the latter disease, hence it will run its course before the city will be rid of it. In measles no definite quarantine is made. The red card is put up and taken down at the discretion of the physician attending the case.

In this vast area thousands of herds and locks find both winter and summer range, and should the secretary's recommendation become a law grazing would be prohibited and many large outlits would be compelled o go out of business. In the present case all stockmen are menaced alike and are thoroughly determined to win out in this as they did in the forest reserve fight with the department last summer. At that time meetings of protest were held in all parts of Wyoming and a petition sent to the president signed by nearly 2,000 citizens redding on or near the reserve, praying for the restoration of the open lands to the grazing interests of the state. In this the people succeeded in having nearly 2,000,000 acres restored to them, and the sheepmen secured valuable grazing concessions therecfore denied.
