Running Expenses of State As ociation Likely to Be Reduced

BALANCE IN TREASURY RUNNING LOW Educational Council and County Superintendents Hold Session While

Normal School Instructors Confer with Fowler.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 29 .- (Special.) -- At the business meeting of the State Teachers' association in all probability there will be introduced a resolution to cut down the expenses of administration. At the last meeting of the association a committee was appointed to draft a resolution for a in the plan of the board were unnecessary change in the constitution that would unify the work and cause the teachers to work more harmoniously than heretofore, and from Kearney made concessions in order the matter of cutting down the expenses was the outgrowth of this. The association but that the board will get the contract will be asked to reduce the number of let for the building at its earliest conmembers of the executive committee from five to three and to give to the president, discretions, abuses, and recklessness often cause a temporary cessation of vital power that instantly yields to the wonderful treatment discovered by the great be his advisers.

When the expense matter comes up be fore the association there will likely be some pretty warm argument, for the books of the treasurer show that there has been saved out of all the money taken in last year $13.61. With the $273.86 on hand at the beginning of last year added to the amount taken in at that meeting the teachers had in the treasury $1,880. Out of this sum $1,866.29 has been spent and the books show that over $500 of it has gone for the expenses of the officers. The fact that the office of vice president has been created and added to the executive committee will make this expense greater in the future. Expenses of some members of the executive committee, it is said, seem to be much greater than they should be and for this reason the discussion of the plan of retrenchment is likely to be rather splcy. The revenue of the association is derived solely from the sale of membership tickets and should the railroads be blockaded or anything else happen that would cause a shortage in the attendance then the executive committee or some one would be held responsible for the shortage. For this reason a general senument is prevalent that the treasury should be in a condition to withstand such a state of affairs. In years past the association has, after paying all expenses, had a balance on hand of over $1,000 and now that it contains only $257.47, when last year the attendance was the largest in the history of the association, there is little doubt but strenuous efforts will be made to cut down the ex-

Kearney Not Shirking.

Among the prominent educators here at tending the association is Prof. A. O. Thomas of Kearney, and besides looking after considerable of the work of the association, being one of the examiners Prof. Thomas is also putting in a good word for Kearney and the normal school to be located.

"No one in Kearney has any idea o shirking his responsibility in carrying out our agreement made to secure the school, said Mr. Thomas. "We intend to get to work immediately on the repairs of the Green Terrace flats and have these ready for use as a dormitory at an early date We did submit plans to the normal board after the board had sent us its plans for approval, but we did this because we believed that many of the things mentioned and that the plans we had drawn were better. Both the board and the committe for us to get together. We have no fear venience and that we will get the school. We are not the least uneasy that the board will allow the appropriation to

Prof. Thomas evidenty believes tha eternal vigilance is the road to success and he is certainly mixing much with the board members and so far with commendable success, inasmuch as a meeting of the board will be held a week from Sat-urday to take up the normal matter. Estimate of Lincoln Population. In response to a request of Postmaster

Sizer, who recently received a communication from the census bureau asking for an estimate of the population of Lincoln. City Clerk Pratt today sent to the postmaster an estimate which places the population at 46,817. His letter to Mr. Sizer follows:

In answer to your letter enclosing inquiry from Mr. North of the census bureau, I beg leave to reply that under the schedules returned by the tax commissioner for the year 1900, a comparison of those figures with the population for 1900, as returned by the census department, together with the schedules returned in following years, makes the estimated population for 1901, 43,656; for 1902, 44,185; for 1903, 46,817.

I believe that these figures are fairly accurate in showing the actual growth in population since 1900, and they exincide with my judgment as to population based on other sources of information.

ROOSEVELT AND WEBSTER

This is Republican Sentiment as Expressed by Republican Executive Committee.

WEBSTER FAVORS TWO CONVENTIONS

Chairman Lindsay Advised to Call Full Committee Together the Middle of January to Prepare for Campaign.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Dec. 29 .- (Special Telegram.) All six members of the executive commitee of the republican state committee wer present at the conference called here to night by Chairman Lindsay, although Mo Lindsay himself failed to connect with his train and had to telephone his message Most of the state officers and a number of invited guests were present, including John L. Webster, Governor Mickey, Treas urer Mortensen, Secretary of State Marsh Attorney General Prout, Land Commis sioner Folmer, Judge Barnes, Assistant Secretary of State Walt and Charles J Green. More than an hour was given over to hearing the views of these gentlemen on the question under consideration, namely, the time of the state convention, whether one or two conventions should be held and whether any changes should be made in the methods of endorsing the candidates

It developed that Mr. Webster favored holding two conventions, one for the selecthe Board of Public Lands and Buildings tion of the delegation to the national conwill allow its asylum appropriation to vention at Chicago as early as possible lapse, is recommended to be calm by the and the other to name the state ticket board members, for the asylum will surely later, in midsummer. Most of the views were favorable to this proposition, but the sentiment was pronounced for making the delegation a Roosevelt delegation, as well as a Webster delegation.

After discussing among themselves, the committee simply expressed its sense that the chairman call the full state committee together not later than the middle of January, to take action with reference to preliminaries to the 1904 campaign. Byron Clark of Plattsmouth presided temporarily, in the absence of Chairman Lindsay. The other committeemen present were Victor Rosewater of Omaha, Thomas Chilvers o Plerce, Hugh McCarger of Crete, E. G. Titus of Holdrege and Charles A. Robinson
