CORN MARKET SHOWS SAME TENDENCY

Oats Are Comparatively Firm and Steady, with Provisions Higher on Advance in the Price of Hogs.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Weakness in the wheat put nere today was enanged to strength by higher prices in torenen markets and by marge clea ances at the seatonard. The crose was strong, but all the ross was not regained. May being on $2c at the finish. May corn closed le lower and pats were down 150°4c. Provisions were the higher to loc lower.

Wheat opened ye, peryous and weak Wheat opened very nervous and wrak. There was an early reling rush from outside interests influenced by an advance in consols and on reports of conditatory measures to be adopted by Rus an in regard to the situation in the lar east. The opening price on may ranged between 85% and 57%, or a loss of 1% to 1% from saturday's closing figures. The weakness was only momentary, however, good sustaining orders being quickly placed and offerings readily absorbed. The leading long was an open buyer on the break. The European markets were higher, the war news still showed some alarming symptoms and flour was reported to have advanced at Minneshowed some alarming symptoms and flour was reported to have advanced at Minneapolis, so that in connection with all tiese the market soon ranies. May acvancing to 87%c. Front taking caused another deciline but a ound 26%c the price became comparatively steady. There was a large trace at times with great activity whenever any pronounced buying or saling started. A strong tone p evailed at the close although all the early loss was not recovered. May was $c lower at $65.c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to $6,10 bu. Primary rec lpts were 1,11,100 bu. against $6,62 bu. last year.

The amount on passage decreased 1,243,000 bu. whils the visible suppy increase 1,538,000 bu. Minneapolls, Du uth and Chicago reported receipts of 781 cars against 1,535 cars last week and $29 cars a year ago.

The corn market trailed along after wheat. There was extreme weakness early and a marked recovery shortly afterwards but enough profit taking was in evidence throughout the session to cause a net loss for the day. Reports of disappointing yields still continued to come in and this in connection with the war scare and higher cables helped to sustain prices. Closing prices were firm although May was one cent lower than Saturday. May opered between 164ct and 474@174c, closing at 464. White to 144ct and 474@174c, closing at 464. Oats were comparatively firm and showed only slight losses. Firmal receipts and a good shipping demand were the principal influences outside of the wheat market that had any influences. Opening unchanged to lower at 384ct and 384c, dosing 384c. Docal receipts fix cars.

Weakness prevailed in provisions at the start, due to the break in the price of grains. As soon as the grain markets steaded, however, there was a good demand from commission houses and a raily occurred. An advance of 10c to 2c in prices of hogs was the main bull factor. The close was steady with May pork up 74c at 33.674c; May lard unchanged at 31.174; ribs, lee lower at 58.90.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 65 cars; corn, 380 cars; oats, 140 cars; hogs 37,600 head.

> Prospect for Continued Easy Money Market Causes Subsequent Hardening of Market, with Some Net Gains,

NEW YORK, Jan. 4—Today's stock market was much less subject to the influence of war news than on Saturday. The ferming that some other event than an outbreak of war between Russia and Japan might be overhanging the market had something to do with the sharp reaction from the early buige. But the influence of the war news was not entirely lacking in the reaction, as London renewed its selling on London and here and Japanese bonds in London and the here and Japanese bonds in London and London renewed its selling on London and London renewed its selling on London and London renewed the part of those who sold Saturday. The recoveries of the first hour were quite violent in some cases and were quite generally as much as I to 2 points. All but a small portion of these gains were lost in the second hour. The london was allowed the bank statement of its unfavorable influence and pointed to the conclusion that, the $18,000,000 loan increase was largely due to the annual interest and dividend requirements such as would not be released to the market again. The was the factor in the final herdening of the slock market, which left a fair showing of net gains at the end of the day.

Corporation buyings are still counted upon, but the reflux of funds from the Interior is looked to to replenish the local butk reserves. The return of funds to the New York banks is commonly heavy during the month of January. LONDON. Jan. 4.—Money was abundant in the market today, rates were very easy and there was little liquitry. Dis ounts were weak the political uncertainty inducing couling. NEW YORK, Jan. 4-DRY GOODS-The market continues to show exceptional strength. Buyers have found considerable difficulty in securing deliveries at prices approaching previous figures. Notwithstanding high prices, however, buyers may find it necessary to purchase goods and this opening appears to be saining ground steadily. Transactions today were of a moderate character and principally confined to immediate wants. Jobbers have opened their lines of wash fabrics for COURT HOUSE ANNEX IN FAVOR Proposed Addition is Meeting with Much Encouragement Around the County Building. The project looking to the building of a west wing to the court house, as outlined in The Bee, is the subject of general cenversation about the county building.

Members of the district bench and certain of the county commissioners agree that the present structure is not adapted to the increasing volume of business which Douglas county requires to be transacted "The addition to the west of the court house, as proposed by the district bench and fathered by Judge Day, would afford ample room for two judges, the county treasurer and recorder of deeds," said one of the advocates. "It also would afford the 125 jurors necessary for each term of couritheir unoccupied moments and where they could smoke and read without discommeding the visitors at the court. This is the prime motive on the part of Judge Day and others who are behind the project. At present the entire jury panel is often found sitting in the dark corridors of the court louse, smoking their pipes and Havanas. filling the air with clouds of smoke and making the corridors quite impassable.

"The new move has the hearty endorse ment of all the county officials. It therefore remains a question as to what the county commissioners will do in the matter. But little hope is entertained that the commissioners will take up the matter with any degree of relish, but the movement is gaining such strength as to indicate that some action on the part of the commissioners cannot long be delayed."
