The Milks' Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind.: Gentlemen-In December I was taken with a severe case of la grippe, which brought on the worst cough I ever had, and for four weeks I was under a doctor's care. Part of the time I was not able to leave the house. My physicians said it would be a wonder if I staved off pneumonia. This frightened me, and, remembering some very strong testimonials I had seen in a Terre Haute paper about Milks' Emulsion curing so many cases like mine. I decided to send for a box. I received it about 6 o'clock in the evening. took three doses before retiring, and in two bours' time I could feel my chest loosen up, and by the next morning the soreness had all left me, and in two or three days I was entirely well and attending to business. I feel that I cannot say too much for Milks' Emulsion, as I believe it to be a truly wonderful remedy. Very truly yours. J. C. DAILY, Manager, Republic Oil Co. January 23, 1908. Evansville, Ind.

The Milks' Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind : Gentlemen-Yours at hand and in reply would say I have used Milk's Emulsion with excellent results. It helped my cold and cough immediately and I shall recommend it to my friends whenever I have a chance. Bespectfully yours

DEMOCRATS DENOUNCE HEATH

Sera'e Spends Day Talking of Postoffice Investigation by Congress.

CARMACK'S RESOLUTION IS SENT OVER

Investigation is Passed Until Friday, When it Will Be Further Considered.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 .- When the senate ng that the president has no power to delars war was read, but at the request of Mr. Morgan it went over for the day.

the postmaster general to send to the senate the papers connected with the Postffice department irregularities and providing for a senatorial investigation, was taken ip and Mr. Lodge moved its reference to he committee on postoffices.

Mr. Carmack resisted this motion. laring that if departmental irregularities were to be investigated only by the departments themselves it would not be long until they would be "a stench in the nostrils of the people." The only safeguard was in congressional investigation, he said. Mr. Teller expressed the opinion that the Postoffice department would make a thorugh investigation, but contended that the egislative branch should retain the right make an inquiry.

Mr. Clay expressed surprise that there hould be opposition to the resolution and he called attention to the declarations by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Brisow and Counsellors Bonaparte and Conrad that the investigation should be carried further. He declared that the Bristow reort "demonstrates the absolute guilt of the first assistant postmaster general, Mr. Heath." "He (Bristow) mays himself that this leading high official was guilty and the proof overwhelming. If this is true, Mr. Heath should have been indicted. I will do Mr. Bristow the credit to say that his report shows that the frauds of the Postoffice department originated in Heath's office. If so, he must have had cognizance of them Then why should the subordinates in that office be indicted and the principal be allowed to escape?"

Heath Should Be Tried.

Mr. Clay quoted extracts from the Brisow report to substantiate his argument. "If," he said, "this report speaks the truth, Perry Heath originated all the frauds n his office."

"If." he continued, "the report is not orrect the fact should be known and Mr. Heath vindicated. If the charges are well founded Mr. Heath should be indicted and mished.

As for himself, he said, he did not want o do any injustice to Mr. Heath or others and for this reason he desired the investi-

Reference also was made to the negotiations with D. S. Richardson concerning the Montague indicator, in which Mr. Clay said there were many suspicious features pointing to Mr. Heath.

Mr. Clay declared his conviction from a thorough reading of the Bristow report that Mr. Bristow had been satisfied beyond a doubt that the guiltiest party of all was the first assistant postmaster general, yet he has not been indicted or arrested.

"In the interest of fair play, in the interest of justice, in the interest of good government and clean administration," he said, "there should be an inquiry, and I am surprised that I find the senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Lodge) should object." Mr. Clay declared that the president reflected seriously upon Mr. Heath and dethe secretaryship of the republican naonal committee.

Penrose Favors Investigation. Mr. Penrose expressed his wish that here should be an investigation, but added hat inasmuch as there was disagreement as to the phraseology he preferred to have the entire question referred to the com- HOTEL MEN ARE ORGANIZED Mrs. Howard's millinery and Kenyon & mittee on postoffices, pledging himself to call an early meeting for the purpose of taking the question up.

Mr. Teller sald that for no other reason than that criminal charges were made against senators and members of the house of representatives an investigation should be made. Later he spoke of the reports that a leased postoffice building was owned by a United States senator, and quoted the press reports, saying the Postoffice department had explained that the lease in this building could be secured at a lower price than any other.

"That," he said, "is most astounding. When did the postmaster general or the president, for that matter, get the right to suspend the statute forbidding this prac-

Mr. Foraker said he understood the senator purchased the building after the lease was made. In the discussion which fol-lowed part was taken by Mr. Foraker, Mr. Carmack, Mr. Spooner, Mr. Lodge and Mr. Gorman. The latter in his remarks expressed a willingness to do justice to the resident in "this time of trouble in his official household," but said he could not understand why the republicans in the senate had persistently refused to give to the minority official information concerning the departments. He declared that the determination to ignore the wishes of the minority had been manifest at this session for the first time since he had been a memher of the senate. He called attention to the resolutions introduced by himself, Mr. Carmack and by Mr. Penrose, asking for the Bristow reports of the postoffice investigation and declared that every effort get this information had been thwarted by the republicans.

In conclusion Mr. Gorman said he wanted to warn the republicans that the information would be had in some manner, as that great power, the press, he believed would give it to the country.

A severe denunciation of the charge of suppression of information was made by Mr. Lodge, who said that he was thoraughly tired of that old weasened story that had been made over and over again by senators on the other side. He said had been quite true that the republicans had nearly two-thirds of the members of the senate, and he wanted to inform the other side that they were thoroughly responsible for their conduct of affairs and as they were responsible they proposed to conduct their affairs in their own way. Continuing, he said: "We are not afraid of daylight, we are not afraid of the senator from Maryland and least of all we are not afraid of that old-time worn story of suppression of public in-

Politics Enters Biscussion. Mr. Lodge said it was apparent that all the democrats wanted was to get the information in that matter for making a little campaign capital. Mr. Teller arraigned Mr. Lodge for the tatement that the republicans were reponsible for the government by saying that he wanted to place his caveat on the

Mr. Teller said perhaps it was merely that the republicans had a leader so suave and permasive that he was able to controi the republican votes and that he was responsible for the solid front offered by the republicans on the vote of the Cuban

Mr. Spooner wanted to know if the democrats who voted for the Cuban bill were controlled by the republicans, and Mr. Teller answered that the democrats were divided according to their individual be-

It was not true, be conlinued, that the republican senators were massed as one man on all questions, and he hoped the time would never come when either party would be so bound.

Discussion Goes Over.

Teller recalled that Mr. Spooner had cast many independent votes, but he thought that in late years there had been a growing tendency on the republican side o consolidate. He spoke of the duty of senators to act in accordance with their own convictions, when Mr. Burton interrupted him to ask if he had reference to the recent decision of the democratic caucus for party solidity on questions coming before the senate. Mr. Teller replied by saying that possibly he knew nothing of such

"I do know this, however," he said, "that while I sat on the republican side of the chamber I never yielded my personal judgment to a majority and I never expect to to so so long as I sit here.

An agreement was reached to postpone further discussion until Friday, and at 2:34 the senate adjourned.

BRIEF TALK OF HAWAIIAN BILL Absence of Prince Cupid Sends the Measure Back to Committee on Territories.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.-When the house onvened today Mr. Robinson, ind., from the Indian Territory, called up a bill to ratify, approve and confirm an act duly enacted by the legislature of the territory of Hawaii to authorize and provide for the distribution and supply of electric light and power on the island of Oahu, territory of Hawaii, and its consideration was begun.

Mr. Payne (N. Y.) asked why a franchise was given for thirty-five years instead of ten. Mr. Hitt (Conn.) said it gave too much power to a corporation. Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio) said the bill con templates giving a valuable franchise without affording protection to the people, adding that no power is given under the provision of the bill to modify or change the franchise for a period of thirty-five

Mr. Lilley (Conn.) replying to Mr. Rob inson said it certainly would not appear that Hawaii had any friends on the floor of the house if they permitted a franchise to be granted charging the prices proposed for in the bill. Mr. Lilley registered his opposition to the bill in its present form. Mr. Robinson said the committee labored under some embarrasment by the absence of the delegate from Hawail, the author of the bill, but was satisfied that he would have no objection to the present consideration of the bill. Mr. Hamilton, chairman of the commitsired the retirement of Mr. Heath from tee on territories, said it might be as with a view to safeguarding the interest of the people of Hawaii. On motion of Mr. Robinson the bill was recommitted to the committee on territories. At 2.14 the house adjourned until to-
