Announcement.

V. P. Chiodo begs to announce that for the first time since his return from Europe in September he is able to take orders for gowns on short notice, on account of having engaged additional help, who have just arrived from Paris.

Mr. Chiodo's recent voyage abroad was for the purpose of procuring the newest and most exclusive designs in ladies' wear and to purchase the necessary high class materials and trimmings to produce them. Now, having advantage of competent tailors, who are able to carry out the Parisian styles, and in order to introduce their work to the ladies of Omaha and vicinity, he will make a material reduction from his usual prices on all orders taken during the month of January only. This reduction will be for the same grade of workmanship which has made Mr. Chiodo's reputation what it is with the highest class of patrons. His famous special walking skirts will be included at the reduced prices for this month only.

Announcements of the Theaters.

This evening at the Boyd theater Mr. Tim Murphy will open his short engagement in his new play, "The Man from Missouri." In this piece, which has been hailed as a success wherever it has been seen this season, Mr. Murphy creates the character of a Missouri cowboy in his native surroundings and at the national capital. A story of genuine merit is used as the basis for the play and the comedy is of the natural sort. Mr. Murphy's role is pronounced the best he has had since he gave life to Maverick Brand. His company includes Dorothy Sherrard and a number of other capable actors. The engagement lasts two nights with a matinee on Saturday.

"The Charity Nurse," one of the "big melodramatic successes of the season, will be seen at the Krug Sunday matinee and for the first half of next week. "The Charity Nurse" is a sensational melodrama in the true sense of the word. It is one that is entirely free from anything bordering on the morbid or gruesome, but is a well told story full of heart throbs and lashed down with an abundance of the most ludicrous comedy conditions. It is a truthful story of life as we see it every day.

Change in Sunday Trains.

The morning train on the Minneapolis & Omaha, leaving Webster Street depot at 6:30 for Sioux City, and the train arriving from Sioux City at 9:10 p. m., will not run Sundays after this. No change in the week day running of these trains.
