Announcement.
V. P. Chiodo begs to announce that for the first time since his return from Europe in September he is able to take orders for gowns on short notice, on account of having engaged additional help, who have just arrived from Paris. Chiodo's reputation which has made Mr. Chiodo's reputation what it is with the highest class of patrons. His famous special walking skirts will be included at the reduced prices for this month only.

Announcements of the Theaters.
Matinee and evening today will be the last two performances of this week's bill at the Orpheum.
For the week commencing tomorrow, ex-Champion of the World James J. Corbett will deliver a refined monologue. Others on the program are: Monroe, Mack and Lawrence in a comedy sketch entitled "The Two Senators," Clarice Vance, coon singer; Bonner, stabled the horse with the human brain; Rice and Elmer in "A Rubie's Visit to Chinitown;" Mr. and Mrs. Watrous, with entirely new moving pictures projected by the kinodrome to complete the program.
The play at the Krug, beginning with the Sunday matinee, Messrs. Heuck & Fenway's magnificent scenic production of a great heart story melodrama, "The Charity Nurse," abounds in thrilling situations and climaxes. Its story is laid 'mid the hills of New England and in the great metropolis of New York. The lurid away of a blind clergyman's talented daughter by a knave who promises to make her famous, and the supposedly bogus marriage of the heroine to the villain, forms the foundation of the story.
This afternoon and evening Mr. Tim Murphy will present his unquestioned success, "The Man from Missouri," at the Orpheum. The engagement closes tonight. Beginning with a matinee on Sunday, "The Smart Set," a satirical farce comedy, comes to the Boyd for four performances. This is another of the season's new offerings and is said to be very near the top in the line. Forty-five people are employed in its production, among them some of the cleverest farceurs in the country.
We are working night and day to get our big purchase of lace curtains in shape to sell. They will be ready Monday morning, January 11. It will pay you to see them. ORCHARD & WILHELM CARPET CO.
