Worn Out Insulation Gives Bulls and Bears Warm Time-Defective Alarm Boxes Cause Delay.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.-Fire today was dis overed in the new Stock Exchange building, and because of defective fire alarm boxes the fire department was delayed in arriving. In the meanwhile the building was threatened with serious damage and a messenger of the Western Union Telegraph company was overcome by smoke. The fire broke out in the cable room of the Western Union Telegraph company and was discovered by messengers. An attempt to ring in an alarm from the box in the Stock exchange was unsuccessthe finmes to rescue the littles ones, and ful, as the box was out of order. Boxes at Beaver and Broad streets and Pine and Nassau streets were found in like condition, and a messenger was finally hurried to the engine house on Stone street. It was thirty-five minutes after the blaze was discovered when the department arrived. The fire was caused by the burning out of insulation. The building was filled the Pacific. Asked what sort of a trip he had, he said he believed it was a trip unique in winter transatiantic travel. There were two and a half days of storm starting and five days of glorious weather almost dead calm, and then the last couple of days very rough and very high seas. "I don't think we said anything of public interest. You must remember that I know less of what has been going on in this country during the last two months than in any two months of my life."

He expressed himself as greatly shocked when informed of the great loss of life in the Iroquois theater fire. Asked about the great men he had visited

Mr. Bryan said he thought Mr. Balfour, England's premier, one of the most scho arly men he had ever met. He spoke in terms of high praise and gratitude of th manner in which he had been received and helped by Ambassador Choate and all the other American representatives to whom he had applied.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT:

(FROM NEW YORK WORLD.)

(FROM CHICAGO TRIBUNE.) Long may Mme. Yale's work continue and her teachings bear fruit. Long may this beautiful Queen wield her magic power over ugliness and delight us with her charming presence.

(FROM THE BOSTON HERALD.) (FROM THE BOSTON HERALD.)

To describe Mme. Yale is an attempt to describe the indescribable. One cannot put into language the beauty of the flower nor paint the grandeur of the soul. Human lovliness lies not alone in physical perfection; it is that indefinable something which results when the sum of all the virtues is combined with grace and symmetry. Beauty, is charm of contour and amiability of expression. The type of a perfect woman is one in whom there is a perfect development of the body and the mind. Beauty is truth in its fullest expression. Mme. Yale represents truth. Hers is the development of Nature. There is nothing of sham, nothing of artificiality.

(FROM THE ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMO-

Yesterday a crowd of ladies were seated in the auditorium of the Olympic Theater by two o'clock, all anxious to behold and hear the famous Mme. Yale, the high priestess of beauty whose fame has spread over the civilized world. Dazzling was the vision which greeted them as the curtain was rolled up and disclosed the most beautiful woman of this day posing as "Heien" beside the ruins of Troy—a perfect figure with the soft outlines of childhood, garbed in a Grecian tunic of white sause threaded with silver, a zone of jewels set in gold girding the waist, and a tiara of precious stones blazing in the soft masses of golden hair. Many were the exclamations of admiration and delight from the assembled fair.

falls can furnish sufficient power to supply every industry on this continent and lilumination for the entire Western headisphere besides. The buman mind cas scarce conceivs the enormous power of Niagara falls—but there exists a still greater power than Niagara, at which millions have marveied, and that is the wonderful power of Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound over disease. From early past of the civilized world letters come daily, telling of the almost miraculus cures it has effected. Rheumatism, Catarth. Constipation, Nervous Trouble, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all diseases of the blood and stomach yield quickly to its healing influence.
