Mayor of Chicago Desires to Try Efficiency of City Ordinances.

WOULD BURN THE RUINS OF THEATER

Plans to Have Building Where Many Lost Their Lives Used to Demonstrate Efficacy of Required Devices.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 -- As soon as the coroner's jury releases its control of the Iroquois theater the play house will again be given over to the flames, if plans evolved by Mayor Harrison and Walter L. Fisher of the City club are carried out. Experts who will fight over again the Iroquois conflagration will have trained fire fighters at their elbows to see that the demonstrations of the plans do not bring about any property loss outside the partially ruined play house. The purpose of again firing the theater is to test the sufficiency of city ordinances, present and prospective.

At a conference between Mayor Harrison and Mr. Fisher this subject was discumed exhaustively, and it was decided that nothing that had been done in Chicago for many years would approach this plan in the amount of good for the public. With men who understand every detail flames and gases and to regulate effects by the manipulation of the ventilators and doors, it was urged that the benefits to accrus from the fire test would be pracstage filled with excelmor and rubbish and a fire raging, the conditions being like those of the fatal afternoon of December 30, the experts expect to learn a great lives away. J. R. Freeman, an expert on fires, will be asked to take charge of the Gruesome Relie of Fire. A human hand and some money and jewelry have been found in the debris of the Iroquis theater.

The hand was that of a man and apparently had been severed from the wrist in an attempt to get possession of rings. As no body was found from which a hand had been taken, the supposition is that the body may have been consumed

The police found $30 in bills encased in mois skin bag, and also a five-carat epal among the fragments of broken glass

Building Inspector Edward Loughlin, on the witness stand today, flatly denied the sworn statement of Building Commissioner Williams yesterday that after an inspection of the Iroquois theater Loughlin had told Williams the building was completed and everything was o. k. Loughlin testified that what he did tell Commissioner Williams was that the theater was practically finished and as far as the structural parts were concerned all city ordinances had been bserved. Loughlin claimed to have nothing to do with fire protection.

Coroner's Jury Hears Enough. CHICAGO, Jan. 14.-Coroner Traeger was handed a communication today from the foreman of the jury investigating the Iroquois theater disaster stating that it was the unanimous desire of the jury to eliminate all further testimony which does not relate directly to responsibility for the catastrophe. The letter suggests that better results could be obtained by calling the owners, lessees and managers of the Six additional churches were ordered closed today. A number of lodging houses will also suffer in consequence of the strict enforcement of city ordinances.

Theaters Must Stay Closed. From action taken tonight by the city council it is evident that Chicago theaters will not be able to reopen for some time. The meeting of the council was for the purpose of considering the redision of building ordinances and it was generally expected that the proposed amendment would be considered and adopted so that proprietors of theaters would know what ould be demanded of them and would be able to begin alterations at once.

When the measure was called up tonight Alderman Mayor moved that consideration be deferred, that all the proposed amend-

Honored Son of Georgia Laid to Rest in State of Birth-South Mourns Loss of Famous Leader.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 14.-Attended by military honors and with the homage of nis state and the southland, General John B. Gordon, soldier, statesman and citizen and the south's last great figure of the civil war, was buried in Oakland cemetery today.

The memorial exercises, which were conducted in the house of representatives at the state capitol, were attended by thousands. Governors and distinguished statesmen of the south and confederate leaders and veterans who fought in the civil war gave their eulogies to Gordon's name. A salute of seventeen guns was fired during the day, the courts and schools were closed and many of the business places suspended during the hour of the funeral. The memorial exercises were begun at 19 of the test to watch every action of the o'clock and were presided over by Governor Terrell.

Following the memorial exercises, which were concluded at noon, the remains were carried across the street to the Central inestimable. With the Iroquois Presbyterian church, where the services were conducted. They were of the simplest

During the funeral the different organizations of military, veterans and civic bodies deal about the flames that swept so many were formed outside the church. Five thousand men were in line, the procession consisting of the Sixteenth regiment, U. S. A., the Second and Fifth regiments, Georgia State guard, a detachment of the Florida militia, three troops of cavalry and the different posts of United Confederate veterans and Sons of Confederate veterans. A long line of carriages followed the procession. The services at the cemetery were simple, consisting of a salute by companies and the sounding of taps. The casket was placed in a vault near the confederate monument.

Manager of Union Pacific.

APPOINTMENT COMES AS SURPRISE

Where Mr. Harriman and Board Meet - President Burt Leaves Road,

W. H. Bancroft of Salt Lake City is the new general manager of the Union Pacific. He will assume the duties of the office this morning. The information was received from New York through private sources yesterday afternoon, the selection being made yesterday forenoon by the executive committee of the Union Pacific and Mr. Harriman at a conference held in New York. Mr. Bancroft is now in Omaha and has been here for a couple of days. He came here to meet Vice President W D. Cornish of the Union Pacific, who arrived several days ago from New York. The position of vice president and gen eral manager of the Oregon Short Line, which Mr. Bancroft has held for some time, is still retained by him, and he will have the direct supervision of both lines. Owing to the fact that the appointment of Mr. Bancroft was a complete surprise to him, he is at present undecided as to fust what his plans for the future will be. He is keeping house in Salt Lake City all consideration of new ordinances was postponed "until the council is ready." to Omaha to take up his permanent home or retain his residence there. But the be discharged in this city leads to the belief that he will be forced to reside here An official in high authority with the Union Pacific stated last night that the first notice Mr. Bancroft had of his appointment to the position of general man ager was when the message came from New York yesterday afternoon. The same official stated also that up to the time of night regarding the matter replied: "We want it understood that the affair of the Union Pacific will be administered from Omaha and not from Salt Lake City.' It is understood that Mr. Bincroft has expressed his intention of placing more of the affairs of the Oregon Short Line in the hands of E. E. Calvin, who holds the position of general superintendent of that company, and in this way he will be enabled to spend more of his time at this end of the and Harriman interests. I believe that is the plan on foot at present. I recently returned from Chicago, where several reports are in circulation which tend to show that Hill and Harriman are trying to get together. The fact that Harriman has recently been elected a director of the Erie railroad, which is a Hill line, and the further fact that a report was current this week to the effect that Harrin:an had gained control of the Erie lends weight to this belief. In my pinion it will develop within a short time that a number of the general managers of Hill and Harriman lines have been called to New York to take part in a conference held with the intention of forming a closer alliance between these two giants in the rallroad world. There is no question but that an alliance between Hill and Harriman would be of vast benefit to the properties they control. They practically could control all the traffic in the northwestern portion of the Oregon Short Line Man Becomes General | United States and could go far toward controlling it west of Chicago. I think you will find this will be the next great move in the politics of callroading."

Among the changes in the official family the Union Pacific reported as a result of the resignation of President Burt, is that of W. R. McKeen, fr., superintenden of motive power and machinery, will soon resign and accept a position elsewhere, and that Jerry Dunn, who holds the same posttion on the Oregon Short Line, will come here to succeed Mr. McKeen,

"General manager of the Union Pacific is not what it once was," said an old official yesterday. "As you have pointed out, E. H. Harriman practically in the only general manager connected with the company. Each department, the legal, traffic, operating auditing and land, has its separate head. and Harriman is the head of all combined. Stubbs is over the traffic department, Cornish the land department, the legal departments centers in New York, the operating in Harriman and the auditing in Young here in Omaha. So there you are. What is Kuhn & Co. left for the general manager? Why, he simply can be a sort of operating superintendent. If anything more, then Mr. Bancroft, already with heavy responsibilities. could not have been expected to perform the duties of general manager."

"There is a belief among certain of our umber," said a local official, "that the present arrangement of general manager is only temporary, and that Mr. Bancroft. who it is understood did not care for the appointment, will give up the work here as soon as a permanent successor can be appointed."

The appointment will please most of the legations, as it enables them to deal with a diplomat trained in foreign methods, speaking English and able to grasp the questions presented to him.

the various countries had assembled.

Keen curlosity was exhibited all over the room when his majesty approached Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister to Russia The conversation between the czar and the minister was cordial and extended. His majesty emphasized the high value which he placed upon the good and neighborly relations between Japan and Russia not only now, but in the future, and expressed his unshaken hope that a mutually satis-factory settlement of the difficulties beween the two countries would be arranged. sini had been instructed to assure the United States that Russia would not inter- as a state. pose objections to the commercial treaty between China and the United States or Union Pacific during Mr. Bancroft's ablimpede American rights or interests in Manchuria, the czar referred to these instructions in a lengthy conversation with yesterday that one of his first acts will be Ambassador McCormick and laid much stress on his desire that Russia and the United States should live in terms of intimate and cordial friendship which had existed for so many years and which he especially wished to maintain. Japan's Reply Invites War. WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.-Japanese Minister Takahara today called on Secretary Hay and informed him that the Japanese reply to the late Russian note had been delivered this morning. The reply amounts to a denial of all Russian important points and sets forth Japanese counter proposals, which, it is said, will likely make them unacceptable to Russia. Therefore, a most pessimistic view of the future is taken at Tokio. On the other hand, advices that come to the State department from Paris, St. Petersburg and Berlin are all of a pacific character. The Japanese minister has supplied the State department an abstract of the latest Japanese note. Count Cassini, Russian ambassador, on his part, has acquainted the State department verbally, as is his custom, with the nature of the Russian note, so that the department is fully informed; but as both the communications have been made in confidence, the officials do not feel that they should make them public. The State department today received a able despatch from United States Minister Allen at Scoul, Corea, saying that Corean newspapers are trying to incite the people against foreigners, and especially against American interests. The department feels that these interests can be cared for prop erly by the United States gunboat Vicks-EUHN & CO., 15th and Douglas; BOSTON STORE DRUG DEPT., 16th and Douglas; burg and the United States marine guard now in Seoul. the various states for the improvement of public roads. He said that about one-third of our people living in country districts bear the responsibility and cost of maintaining the common roads. He contended that this is an unjust discrimination against them and urged that the national government should bear part of the burden When Mr. Latimer concluded, the Gorman Panama resolution was laid before the senate and Mr. Newlands was recognized. He conceded that the president had not been bound because a reasonable time had not clapsed to turn from Panama to the Nicaraguan route. He also assented to the proposition that the United States had a grievance against Colombia on account of the rejection of the Hay-Herran treaty. But, he contended, that the action of the United States in preventing the landing of Colombian troops in Panama was an intervention that amounted to a declaration of war. He also said that ou dealing with Colombia in the Panama affair had been in derogation of the treaty of 1846 between the United States and New Granada. He discussed at length the provisions of that treaty and engaged in a controversy with Mr. Spooner as to the guaranty of right of transit. Mr. Newlands contended that this guarantee did not go to the extent of authorizing the country to land troops for the purpose of attacking Colombia's sovereignty. If there had been cause for grievance the question should, under the terms of the treaty, have been diplomatically presented and satisfaction asked. Then, and not until then, might there have been a resort to war.

Supports the Administration.

Mr. Depew speke in support of the administration in its conduct on the isthmus and said that the opponents of the treaty were aiding the enemies of the canal. "If," he continued, "there ever was a concert of action among any great railway corporations, to defeat this most beneficial work of commerce and civilization. I am not aware. of it. But if such a commission does exist, then its allies and its most efficient assistants are to be found among those who, under any device or excuse, are endeavoring to defeat the treaty with the Republic of Panama." Mr. Depew ridiculed as jurid the contention of Mr. Newlands that the president had made war on Colombia. He declared that in his dependence on the democrats of the United States President Marroquin forgot that the party was not in power and that two southern states had already instructed their senators to vote for the canal. Mr. Depew concluded at 4:10 o'clock d after an executive session the senate at 4:20 adjourned.
