Prisoner Has Wound in Shoulder Which She Alleges She Received While Herself Being Robbed, but Stories Conflict.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Jan. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Hattie Picher, the pretty young school teacher who claimed to have been shot in the shoulder, chloroformed and gagged in the Henshaw house at Miller, S. D., last Tuesday night, today was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to commit a felony and of administering ether to Wilbur Quirk, a drug clerk, for the purpose of adding her accomplice in carrying out a holdup robbery.

The alleged crime occurred Tuesday night. Quirk, a clerk in the Collins drug store, was held up by two masked persons, bound and gagged, and after having been taken to a point half a mile east of Miller, he was released.

On the same morning Miss Picher was found in a room at the hotel with a pistol wound in her right shoulder. She said that the assault had been made by two masked men, but later said she was shot by a woman dressed in men's clothing.

HASTEN ROSEBUD OPENING

A law absolutely prohibiting the ownership by any individual of any portion of a printed or engraved obligation of the United States which had not been properly issued. Under the act of 1891 the secret service officials seized several carloads of these card reproductions of notes and certificates.

The agents of the secret service are not supplied with half printed notes. None of these are issued to anyone and the only copies of faces and backs known to be in existence are the few which are framed and are hanging on the walls of the Treasury.

LUCKY POSSESSIONS.

Odd Things Thought to Bring Good Fortune—One Thing Which Always Does Bring It.

A magazine writer reviews the fables of various well-known people, claiming that George Eliot was a slave to the idea of good luck in the hunchback or clubfooted man; that Caroline Herschel was troubled all day if in the morning she met a cross-eyed beggar.

While this industry is still in its infancy in the United States, many thousands of dollars have been expended for the purchase of equipment and apparatus to bring about the production of this article of food.

The present time it has been estimated that 2,500 barrels of flour are consumed in the daily manufacture of macaroni and spaghetti in the United States, the manufacture of this spaghetti is being carried on all over the United States, from the lakes to the gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Macaroni is now considered more of a staple article of diet than before and thousands are now using it where before this product was unknown.

During the past season, when potatoes and beans had reached an unusually high price, macaroni was substituted for these articles, and it was there demonstrated that at a very small cost a dish could be provided containing more nutriment, perhaps, than any other food product that could be produced for a like sum.

Imports Reduce Profits.

The average price obtained by American producers of macaroni is a trifle under 4 cents per pound, and while but a trifle profit has been realized by the manufacturer, this is due entirely to the large quantities of paste goods imported from France and Italy.

Reference to statistics shows that the annual importation of macaroni and other paste articles amounts to about 200,000 cases, each containing about twenty-three pounds, making a total importation of 4,600,000 pounds per year.

Where it is possible to increase the output of the American manufacturer by one-half the amount imported from Europe employment would be given to 15,000 additional persons in this country.

As said before, the manufacture of macaroni is still in an infantile state, but with proper encouragement from congress it is believed that the output may be increased, and the time is not far distant when macaroni will be considered and known throughout the entire country as one of the most beautiful, least expensive and most nutritious of all American food products.

FIRES SHOT AT HIS WIFE

Jake Ritter, 403 North Fourteenth, Under Arrest for Shooting.

LOADED DOWN WITH DEADLY ELEMENTS

Mrs. Ritter Says Another Woman Estranged Affections of Her Husband and Causes All the Trouble.

The clouds of domestic infelicity which have been hovering over the Ritter household, 403 North Fourteenth street, since last September, broke Sunday, according to Mrs. Ritter, when Jake Ritter fired a pistol shot at his wife because she refused to live with him any longer.

Ritter was arrested on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons. When searched at the police station a revolver, razor, bottle of carbolic acid and a quantity of morphine were found on Ritter, and it is reported that he intended to carry out his oft-repeated threats to kill his wife and himself.

It was during last September that Mrs. Ritter first suspected her husband was not following in the path that a faithful husband should. He frequently remained away all night, she said. On the advice of some friends Mrs. Ritter shadowed her spouse until Sunday evening, September 30, the auspicious moment arrived. On this evening she followed her husband to the home of Mrs. Lillie Chase, 712 North Seventeenth street, and, secreting herself in the shadow of a porch, looked into a window and saw her husband in the lap of the Chase woman. She then broke open the door, pummeled the Chase woman and took her faithless husband home.

CZAR RETAINS HIS MINISTER

Declines to Accept Resignation of Von Plehve and Official is Stronger Than Ever.

(Copyright, 1934, by Press Publishing Co.) ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—As a result of differences with his ministerial colleagues, Von Plehve tendered to the czar last month his resignation as minister of the interior. The czar declined to accept, and now Von Plehve's position at court is stronger than ever.

Find Radium in Wyoming.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—Large quantities of pitchblende, from which the precious radium is extracted, have been discovered in the Hatfield canon district east of Laramie. The arena mining company, composed of Denver, Salt Lake City and Laramie men, has been quietly working for some time in Hatfield canon for the past eight months, and it is believed the properties will produce many thousands of tons of the valuable pitchblende.

Hard headed business and professional men the world over have their faith also, and the peculiarity of it is that almost always the man who has the most of the same thing as a tallman of good fortune, while other men are poor, is the man who has this one essential thing stand united in solid sense and judgment.

Further Proofs of Supremacy.

Competition seems no barrier to BUDWEISER. Its march goes on by leaps and bounds. The past year shows an increase of more than 30 per cent over the preceding year, bringing the total sales of Budweiser (in bottles) to 100,402,500 bottles, and the total sales for the past 29 years, 1875 to 1903 inclusive, to 1,430,402,500 bottles.

BUDWEISER is the household beverage of the American home and its claim to the title, "King of Bottled Beers," is established by the fact that, although commanding the highest price, its sales exceed those of all other bottled beers combined.

Another evidence of the supremacy of Budweiser was given in the instance of two of the finest and best appointed cafes recently established, the Stewart Cafe in Philadelphia and the "Cat Cafe" in San Francisco, where the most popular beer of America entered into competition, and the award went to Budweiser.

Their total output in bulk for the past year was 1,501,762 barrels.

Announcements of the Theaters. "Faust," with Lewis Morrison himself appearing as Mephisto for the last time here, will be at the Krug Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The new scenery and electrical effects are said to be especially elaborate and novel this year and a new spectacular prologue with choral and vocal music has been added.

At the Boyd this evening John Drew will present the Robert Marshall military comedy, "The Second in Command." This is one of the cleanest and brightest of recent English plays and made a great hit when presented in Omaha two seasons ago. Mr. Drew has fallen back on it because of the failure of his last two plays. He is supported as usual by a splendid acting company. The engagement is for two nights, Monday and Tuesday.

On Thursday and Friday nights at the Boyd Lulu Glaser will be the attraction in "Dolly Varden."

Settle Case Out of Court.

DAKOTA CITY, Neb., Jan. 17.—(Special.)—The case against John Fitzsimmons of Pigeon Creek precinct, who was charged by John Flannery, Jr., of Jackson, with the theft of an overcoat valued at $12 from a dance hall at Jackson during the night of January 8 and was dismissed by County Judge Elmer, the costs taxed to the defendant and the prisoner discharged from custody.
