

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year, $1.00...

DELIVERED BY CARRIER: Daily Bee (without Sunday), per copy, 2c...

OFFICES: Omaha—The Bee Building, South Omaha—City Hall Building, Two...

REMITTANCES: Remit by draft, express or postal order payable to The Bee Publishing Company...

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION: State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss: I, George B. Tschuck, secretary of the Bee Publishing Company...

Table with 3 columns: Circulation figures, Date, Total. Includes entries for 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913.

Subscribed in my presence and seems to conform to this list day of December, A. D. 1913.

It will be a race between Cruzon and the dark horse.

From present appearances it will be of interest only to the student of history whether it is Corea or Korea.

Twenty-two counties, including Douglas, have made their annual settlements with the state treasurer.

Shades of Quantrell and Jenson! Won't there be a chance to renew the animosity of half a century ago when a Missouri jury gets hold of a Kansas senator.

Accidents by fire, flood and collision are in cycles. The accident on the Burlington near Ashland was followed in a few hours by a more fatal explosion on the same road near St. Louis.

It was a Washington man with the self-descriptive name of Ryan who said that by the vote of the United States senate in the Smoot case the number and names of the heepeked senators could be discovered.

Although the advice of the Advisory Board is given to the council without price or hope of reward, the council ignores the advice of the Advisory board and declares that advice from that quarter is not wanted.

The lion of Norway that Emperor William received yesterday will not be a marker to those lions which President Roosevelt will have when the presents from King Menelik arrive.

Now we understand why the republican state committee has requested the republicans of Nebraska to instruct their delegates to the state convention as to their choice for United States senator. Cruzon is coming home from Porto Rico.

The next time an enterprising correspondent desires to send out a report of prospective uprising of Indians in the Indian Territory he should be careful not to get his tribes mixed. The fake was even patent to the officials of the Indian bureau.

The city electrician is to be reinforced by a stenographer, but the proposition to protect life and property within the city by the inspection and supervision of storehouses, warehouses, mill and factory buildings seems to have fallen upon deaf ears.

Chairman Overstreet of the committee on postoffices and postroads must have caught the Bristow fever. He wants to know all about the number and condition of the postal cars and the amount paid to the railroads for carrying the mails.

Now that the council has awarded the contract for gasoline lighting in that portion of the city that cannot be supplied with gas lamps, the conflict between the various lighting companies will cease for at least a year and a half, but the public lighting question will not be disposed of until the city shall own and operate its own electric light plant.

Among the delegates appointed by President Roosevelt to the universal congress of lawyers and jurists, to be held at St. Louis in September, are Hon. James M. Woolworth and General Charles F. Manderson.

HEARST AS A POSSIBILITY.

It is not improbable that in the interval before the meeting of the democratic national convention the movement in behalf of W. R. Hearst as a candidate for the presidency will assume such proportions as to command serious consideration. Thus far the disposition has been to ridicule and belittle it...

More than half a million dollars a year is paid by Omaha consumers of gas for lighting and heating purposes and for electric light and electric motor power delivered at meter rates...

Without imputing dishonesty to the public utility corporations in dealing with their patrons, it strikes us that the failure of the city to provide for meter inspection is almost inexcusable.

At the inception of the Hearst boom nearly everybody regarded it as absurd. Few believed that it was seriously intended.

When the democratic national committee selected St. Louis for the national convention and it was explained that this was done because members of the committee feared that if the convention was held in Chicago it might be captured by the Hearst influence...

Little authentic information in regard to conditions in Colombia reaches this country, owing to the strict censorship enforced there, but advices come through mail correspondence which is somewhat belated...

MORE TROUBLE FOR COLOMBIA.

The lone democrat who represents an Iowa congressional district in the house has introduced a bill to stop the practice pursued by concerns which eliminate competition in the retail business by selling goods at less than a fair market price.

The water works board, created by the Howell-Gilbert compulsory water purchase bill, has asked the council for $25,000 to defray the expenses incident to the appraisal of the works...

Postmaster General Payne has been requested to report to congress as to the number of horses, carriages and automobiles maintained at the government expense for the officers of that department.

Cabinet officers and chiefs of divisions of the various departments of government at Washington who have been riding in cabs or carriages at the government expense will have to explain to congress, but congressmen who travel thousands of miles on railroad passes and collect mileage from the government will not be called upon to explain.

Without these departments Colombia would be reduced to abject insignificance and helplessness and yet what would be left is that which has controlled the travesty of government at Bogota.

When the treaty with Panama shall have been ratified, dispelling the last hope of the Colombians—now kept alive by democratic opposition to the treaty—it is most probable that the people in the disaffected departments will seek to become a part of the Panama republic.

Should Hearst and Miles really contest for the democratic nomination for president an often misquoted passage from the works of a famous dramatist may come in for proof, for the pen and the sword, in the hands of men, great or otherwise, would come into conflict sharply.

It is all too evident that General Uribe and the Mad Mullah do not read the papers. If they did, they would learn how often they have been defied and at least strive to conduct themselves accordingly.

ROUND ABOUT NEW YORK.

One of the veteran jurists of New York City, speaking of the late George Francis Train's experiences in England, tells how the famous boomer obtained and lost a fortune in that country.

There are only 15,000 millionaires in the United States, as Senator Depey said at the dinner given by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to his Bible class...

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1914.

More than half a million dollars a year is paid by Omaha consumers of gas for lighting and heating purposes and for electric light and electric motor power delivered at meter rates...

Without imputing dishonesty to the public utility corporations in dealing with their patrons, it strikes us that the failure of the city to provide for meter inspection is almost inexcusable.

At the inception of the Hearst boom nearly everybody regarded it as absurd. Few believed that it was seriously intended.

When the democratic national committee selected St. Louis for the national convention and it was explained that this was done because members of the committee feared that if the convention was held in Chicago it might be captured by the Hearst influence...

Little authentic information in regard to conditions in Colombia reaches this country, owing to the strict censorship enforced there, but advices come through mail correspondence which is somewhat belated...

The lone democrat who represents an Iowa congressional district in the house has introduced a bill to stop the practice pursued by concerns which eliminate competition in the retail business by selling goods at less than a fair market price.

The water works board, created by the Howell-Gilbert compulsory water purchase bill, has asked the council for $25,000 to defray the expenses incident to the appraisal of the works...

Postmaster General Payne has been requested to report to congress as to the number of horses, carriages and automobiles maintained at the government expense for the officers of that department.

Cabinet officers and chiefs of divisions of the various departments of government at Washington who have been riding in cabs or carriages at the government expense will have to explain to congress, but congressmen who travel thousands of miles on railroad passes and collect mileage from the government will not be called upon to explain.

Without these departments Colombia would be reduced to abject insignificance and helplessness and yet what would be left is that which has controlled the travesty of government at Bogota.

When the treaty with Panama shall have been ratified, dispelling the last hope of the Colombians—now kept alive by democratic opposition to the treaty—it is most probable that the people in the disaffected departments will seek to become a part of the Panama republic.

Should Hearst and Miles really contest for the democratic nomination for president an often misquoted passage from the works of a famous dramatist may come in for proof, for the pen and the sword, in the hands of men, great or otherwise, would come into conflict sharply.

It is all too evident that General Uribe and the Mad Mullah do not read the papers. If they did, they would learn how often they have been defied and at least strive to conduct themselves accordingly.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 1914.

More than half a million dollars a year is paid by Omaha consumers of gas for lighting and heating purposes and for electric light and electric motor power delivered at meter rates...

Without imputing dishonesty to the public utility corporations in dealing with their patrons, it strikes us that the failure of the city to provide for meter inspection is almost inexcusable.

At the inception of the Hearst boom nearly everybody regarded it as absurd. Few believed that it was seriously intended.

When the democratic national committee selected St. Louis for the national convention and it was explained that this was done because members of the committee feared that if the convention was held in Chicago it might be captured by the Hearst influence...

Little authentic information in regard to conditions in Colombia reaches this country, owing to the strict censorship enforced there, but advices come through mail correspondence which is somewhat belated...

The lone democrat who represents an Iowa congressional district in the house has introduced a bill to stop the practice pursued by concerns which eliminate competition in the retail business by selling goods at less than a fair market price.

The water works board, created by the Howell-Gilbert compulsory water purchase bill, has asked the council for $25,000 to defray the expenses incident to the appraisal of the works...

Postmaster General Payne has been requested to report to congress as to the number of horses, carriages and automobiles maintained at the government expense for the officers of that department.

Cabinet officers and chiefs of divisions of the various departments of government at Washington who have been riding in cabs or carriages at the government expense will have to explain to congress, but congressmen who travel thousands of miles on railroad passes and collect mileage from the government will not be called upon to explain.

Without these departments Colombia would be reduced to abject insignificance and helplessness and yet what would be left is that which has controlled the travesty of government at Bogota.

When the treaty with Panama shall have been ratified, dispelling the last hope of the Colombians—now kept alive by democratic opposition to the treaty—it is most probable that the people in the disaffected departments will seek to become a part of the Panama republic.

Should Hearst and Miles really contest for the democratic nomination for president an often misquoted passage from the works of a famous dramatist may come in for proof, for the pen and the sword, in the hands of men, great or otherwise, would come into conflict sharply.

It is all too evident that General Uribe and the Mad Mullah do not read the papers. If they did, they would learn how often they have been defied and at least strive to conduct themselves accordingly.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

There are other reasons men have for suppressing knowledge of the amount of their wealth. Some wish to avoid heavy taxation and give false returns.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER. THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR IT. IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH. Absolutely Pure.

"Use no hooks," and when they got through with him he was a fair imitation of the Dusty Rhodes one sees in the comic papers.

Few if any of the members of the New York legislature are so versatile as Robert Winthrop Chamberlain, assemblyman from Dutchess county.

Charles Francis, a son of the president of the St. Louis World's fair, works daily at the exposition grounds as a freight clerk.

Minister Allen warned the officers commanding the American marines at Seoul that "Corea is not the Philippines."

Charles Francis, a son of the president of the St. Louis World's fair, works daily at the exposition grounds as a freight clerk.

Minister Allen warned the officers commanding the American marines at Seoul that "Corea is not the Philippines."

Charles Francis, a son of the president of the St. Louis World's fair, works daily at the exposition grounds as a freight clerk.

Minister Allen warned the officers commanding the American marines at Seoul that "Corea is not the Philippines."

Charles Francis, a son of the president of the St. Louis World's fair, works daily at the exposition grounds as a freight clerk.

Minister Allen warned the officers commanding the American marines at Seoul that "Corea is not the Philippines."

Charles Francis, a son of the president of the St. Louis World's fair, works daily at the exposition grounds as a freight clerk.

Minister Allen warned the officers commanding the American marines at Seoul that "Corea is not the Philippines."

PUBLICITY AND THE SUGAR TRUST.

Futile Opposition to Public Demand and Public Policy. Philadelphia Press.

President H. O. Havemeyer made a grave blunder in policy and one worse in practice when, at the meeting of the American Sugar Refining company last week, he claimed for the trust secrecy in its operation.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

This is an untenable position—untenable in law, in public policy and in public morals. A body of 13,000 shareholders are like sheep for the shearing unless protected by publicity.

THE FROST ELF. Midst Arctic snows, the frost elf rose up from his snow-down bed. Equipped with magic cap and wand, he hid his intentions from the wind. Speed where the summer queen had found. From radiant north moon, Resplendent flowers and verdure fair, Abound on field and dune.

Ayer's Pills. "I have used Ayer's Pills more or less for over 30 years. I have such faith in them that I always recommend them to my friends." —JOHN F. EDDES, Brooklyn, N. Y.