Real Estate in Greater New York.

Experienced investors consider no other investment quite so good or quite so safe as good real estate, and no other real estate that brings returns quite as quick as good city property. By looking back over the past history of all the larger cities, they show a rapid increase in the value of their property. Many have been made independently rich by investing a small amount in this suburban property in New York, Chicago and many of the other eastern cities.

Just now shrewd investors are looking to New York City for investments, in anticipation of the boom that is sure to come during the exposition held there in 1909. The New York Realty company, with offices in Council Bluffs, Is., is making some very desirable offers of building lots in Richmond Borough, New York City. only one hour's ride to the heart of the
