PROTEST AGAINST GAS PLANT

Residents in Vic.nity of Twentieth and Center Streets Say it Endangers L'fe.

ADVISORY BOARD HEARS COMPLAINTS of Gas Company Decline Invitation to Attend, Saying Matter Has Been Settled in

Complaints that gas manufacturing, as a present conducted by the Omaha gas company at Twentieth and Center streets, is inimical to the safety and comfort of the residents within a radius of three blocks were heard by the Advisory board yesterday afternoon. The officers of the gas company declined an invitation to be present, saying the question has been settied in court and they don't care to enter into any argument.

Representations have been made to Mayor Moores and City Engineer Rosewater by Fred Schlemme that gas is continually leaking from the big tanks during its manufacture, filling the homes of nearby useholders with the gas and rendering habitation both unpleasant and dangerous When one of the tanks exploded Friday night many of the dwellers were turned out into the snow and cold, upon advice from employes of the gas company, that occupancy of their homes was unsafe. The released gas had permeated the rooms and other explosions were feared if all doors and windows were not kept open. Some of the persons turned out found refuge with neighbors more fortunately situated, while others shivered in cold beds. A number of children and others are said to be ill as a result of the ex-

J. C. Pariott of South Omaha called upon Mary Bell, a dusky maiden, who lives at 100 North Ninth street, at quite an early keer yesterday morning. When he called he had, besides a good tood of had whisky, an amount of money, which, as he told Officer Jackson a little later, he foolishly exhibited to his hostess. It amounted at that time to $6.20 and included a $5 gold piece. Pariott put the money in the outside pocket of his inside coat, so he said, wherein he erred. The cash strangely disappeared very soon thereafter and its erstwhile owner was ungallant enough to intimate that Mary Bell had stolen it. Mary thereupon called him a liar and a few other things, and then the furniture and bricen-brac began to move. The officer took the man and woman to the station, where Mary was recognized as an old offender in the same line of work.

Since my 17th year I have been very irregular and although many things were tried to bring about a normal condition nothing really did me any good until mother bought some Wine of Cardui for me to try. She said that I should use it for two weeks and then if it did not do me any good we would stop it. But I am pleased to say that long before the end of two weeks I was much better and at the time of the next period there was a marked change for the better. I no longer had those dull, depressing headaches, nor intense pains, and in two months I was regular and just as nature intended.

I can give all the credit to Wine of Cardui and am pleased to do so.
