QUESTION REVENUE LAW PROVISIONS

Allege that it Discriminates Between Foreign and Domestic Companies and is Not Tax on Property.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 8 .- (Special.) -- Judge Sullivan, erstwhile judicial champion of the new revenue law, today took a decided stand with the attacking parties by flling in the supreme court a petition asking for an intunction against City Treasurer Hennings to prevent the collection of the gross premium tax on foreign insurance companies on the ground that the insurance sections of the new law are invalid. He appears as the counsel for the Provident Saving Life Assurance society of New York, which claims that in the year 1902, for which the assessment was made, $10,605 premiums were collected in Omahs. There was, however, at the time that Tax Commissioner Fleming made his rounds of the city $746.66 in the hands of the Omaha representatives of the company and on this amount it is willing to pay the city taxes.

The petition alleges that City Treasurer Hennings refused the $10.50 offered in payment of the taxes by the agents of the concern, and as the petition alleges, threatened "to proceed by coercive measures to collect the whole of the sum assessed and levied against the plaintiff's property without due process of law, contrary to the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of this petition is to the effect that the guard. gross premiums on which Hennings is seeking to collect the city levy for 1904 were collected in 1902, and were out of the jurisdiction of the state long before the assessment was made, or the new law in force. The gist of the argument is that gross premium receipts cannot be used as a

It is insisted that a tax on such a basis is an income tax and as applied to the insurance company, a plain discrimination between the citizens of different states, forbidden by the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

It is generally understood that all of the business in the state are interested in the prosecution, which will determine whether they are to contribute from ten to twenty times what they have formerly pald in . state and county taxes.

All Fire Companies Join Hands.

A great host of foreign companies incorporated under the laws of many other states and nations joined hands this morning in suing for another injunction agains City Treasurer Hennings to prevent him from collecting taxes on gross premiums under the provisions of section is of the new revenue law. The supreme court is the scene of action in this case, too. The petition filed by Greene & Breckenridge of Omaha, who led the former fight against the whole revenue measure, is full insurance section of the law. Each one of dered to the city treasurer of Omaha taxes on the actual money on hand at the time of the assessment last fall, but protests as Judge Sullivan does for his client that this will not satisfy Hennings and that an injunction will be needed to prevent him from violeting the fourteenth amend-

This petition sets up the exemptions for ies from taxation on cancellation and reinsurance, which they are permitted to deduct from the gross pre mlums when making returns to the taxing

This, it is alleged, is a plain discrimina tion contrary to the state and the federal constitutions. It is also urged that the premiums on which it is sought to levy taxes have been sent to the company headquarters out of the state and are not subject to taxation. The attorneys in the petition urge that the law does not provide a property taxaffon, but leaves the companies not subject to any tax, the allegation being made that there is nothing else in the act providing for a tax on gross premiums or upon any other special plan or basis.

The petition alleges that section 58, providing for the assessment of companies on their gross premium receipts, is unconstitutional and void also, because it lays tax on "income of a previous year with out regard to actual existence within the state of any taxable property.' Figures are adduced to show that as against the total premium receipts of the fire companies of $1,614.426 in the state. the exempt companies, including fraternal beneficiary societies, collect $2,714,078 in premiums on which they pay no tax what-

For Rifle Practice.

For the purpose of fostering the development of sharpshooting in the state Adjutant General Culver has issued an invitation to the volunteer rifle clubs of the state to co-operate with the companies of the National Guard at target practice. He expects to have an entry of Nebraskans at the National Guard competition, which will be pulled off at Seagirt, N. J., next summer. The more important organizations of the country take part in the events pulled off at that place.

Twelve of the best men in the guard will go to enter into competition with like numbers from other states, for the chief prize which is $1,000. This national tournament has had the effect of increasing the interest in rifle shooting. Most of the companies of the National Guard have rifle ranges, but heretofore Nebraska has not been represented in the national competition because no one led the way. The action of the adjutant general is expected to give new life to target shooting among members of the guard. By getting the members of the volunteer rifle clubs to take the militiamen may be encouraged to shoot more, and at the same time it may be posof the United States. LOOKING AFTER LIQUOR SALES York People Propose to Get After the Express Companies Who

Bring it In.

YORK, Neb,, Feb. 8 .- (Special.)-At the meeting of the city council, a part of the time was taken up in discussing the best means to prevent the illegal sales whisky in York. A request is made that the druggists of the city make a monthly report of all whisky sold. The druggists are required to keep out on show cases in plain sight, their liquor register, and to register every sale. At the council meeting two druggist permits were hung up until the next meeting, two permits were granted that had been taken away one year ago, owing to remonstrance filed by the temperance people and one druggist FORECAST OF THE WEATHER permit was taken away because the city council believed it had been abused. One of the great sources is the express com panies and the city attorney with the assistance of the temperance people will attempt to secure evidence of fliegal wa'e of liquors by express companies who receive daily from twenty-five to 100 cases and sealed packages, and before closing pected, however, that it will take place hours every case and package are disposed of. It is stated that for years every express company in York and York ounty has acted as agents for liquor companies in Lincoln, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other cities. To avoid the law it is alleged the liquor companies send to York and other towns in this county every year thousands of cases and sea'ed packages addressed to fictitious names, which are sold by express agents for express charges. While the program for the St. Louis B! ennial is by no means complete as yet, the announcements that have been made from ime to time indicate an arrangement that promises to be a real delight, particularly to those women who have served as delegates to previous biennials. In the first place there are to be but two sessions day, these to be held in the morning and evening, leaving the afternoon free for the women to attend the exposition. Discusdon will be allowed at the morning session following the regular program, but there will be none after the evening program. According to the Federation Bulletin of Massachusetts, which seems to be on the inside so far as blennial announcements are oncerned, the evening of May 17 will be given over to literature, with Edward How ard Griggs as the principal speaker. "Child Labor" is again to have an important part in the program and the evening of May 18 will be devoted to that topic. Miss Jane Addams of Hull House will preside and Edgar Murphy of Alabama will deliver an address. The Louisiana Purchase celebration will take place the evening of the 19th and the evening of the 20th will be devoted to education. Miss M. Cary Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college, to be the speaker of the evening. The evening of the 21st will be replete with interest, "The Iniustrial Conditions of Women" to be the subject. Mrs. Frederick Nathan will preside and John Graham Brooks of Cambridge, Mass., will speak on "New Avenues of Industrial Education for Women," and A. G. Spencer will speak on "Home De-Northwestern rate by making the through stroving Industries." The library extension committee will occupy Monday even ing and the remaining evening session will be devoted to art and to "Presidents Night."

The fact that there is to be but one session at a time brings loy to the heart of the delegate and to the press representatives, many of whom, though professional newspaper women, are club women as well. One prominent club woman has likened the last three blennials to a three ring circus, and those who attended them in any cappcity can appreciate the comparison.

No more fitting assurance has yet been offered that the work of the woman reformer has not been in vain than the placing of a statue of Frances Willard in all last week, terminated Saturday night Statue hall at Washington, which is soon the object in view of securing a general and it was a success, both socially and to take place. While Miss Willard has restoration of grain rates in western ter financially. Miss Willard's will over the United States, some representing be the only woman's statue in Statue hall, stood that the executive officials of the cash. The new hospital is one of the finest for the present at least, and here is one of various western lines have grown weary the two statues to which Illinois is entitled, an appropriation of $9,000 having been made by the Illinois legislature in 1899. Other women who have been similarly recthe hottest contested law suits ever tried ognized are: Captain Molly Pitcher, a rev- reduced to a point where the roads will olutionary heroine; Harriet Beecher Stowe. author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin;" Susan B Anthony, a pioneer of the woman suffrage cause, and Clara Barton of the Red Cross society, busts of these four women ornamenting the column caps of the grand staircase of the New York state capital

Last Tuesday's edition of the San Francisco Bulletin was edited and gotten up entirely by the members of the California club, the leading woman's organization of San Francisco. It is a twenty-four-page edition and is altogether creditable. Miss Mary Fairbrother, formerly of Omaha, and who served as city editor when the Omaha Woman's club issued the May day number of The Bee, acted as telegraph editor for the woman's number of the Bulletin. With the exception of the telegraph matter, the paper was gotten up entirely by the women. ind it has been suggested by a local club woman, one who has had experience with woman's editions." that an account of how the women did it would doubtless make as interesting reading as anything that the San Francisco papers had to offer that day.

Here is what Mrs. Reginald DeKoven has to say of the western woman:

There is one statement that may safely be applied to the women who represent the best development in all the western cities. Given the same origin, the same stock, which is for most part very purely English, and from which the American type as it now exists has been evolved both west and east, the woman who has passed the formative years of her life in the west profits by her experience. Particularly is this the case when, in common with her eastern sisters, part of the western girl's education is obtained abroad.

The western woman possesses, without a doubt, a more accepted individuality and oftentimes a refreshing breeziness which, however, rarely oversteps a conventionality. Thus she has a force and vivacity lacking in her less original eastern sisters. This individuality and force she never loses, no matter where the events of her life may lead her. to say of the western woman:

Remainder of Omaha-Chicago Lines Meet Great Western Rate.

MISSOURI PACIFIC BACK IN THE ARENA

Announces Proportional to Tidewater to Benefit Omnha and Take Effect Thursday-Stickney Will Stand Pat.

The Burlington and the Missouri Pacific are the last railroads to shy their castors once more into the arena of rate slashing and secure Omaha's place on the map.

The Burlington meets the Great Western's latest cut on grain rates from here to Chicago, Mississippi river points and Minne apolis, and the Missouri Pacific announces a proportional to tidewater. This leaves only the Northwestern of all the Chicago-Omaha lines yet to adopt the Stickney rate and its action is problematical.

The Missouri Pacific's rate announced yesterday is said to be in favor of the Omaha market, so far as shipments to tidewater are concerned. Effective on February 11, the Omaha proportional will be, according to this schedule, as follows:

For local purposes the New Orleans rate s 2 cents higher. This cut neutralizes the rate the sum of two locals. Now Comes the Burlington

The Burlington announced yesterday that the proportional rates on grain announced by the Chicago Great Western to the Mississippi river and Chicago have been met. All lines running east from this city now have met the rates with the exception of the Northwestern, and that line has stendily refused to name proportional rates east in the past, but has persisted in reducing its through rates from Nebraska territory to keep pace with the eductions in proportionals made by other

John A. Kuhn, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Northwestern, was called to Chicago Sunday evening by officials of his line to take part in a meeting which is being held in that city with ritory. A preliminary meeting with this object in view was held in the offices of Paul Mor-Fe, in Chicago Saturday. It is underof the action of their subordinates and have arrived at the conclusion that something must be done or it will be but a question of time when the rates will be secure nothing for carrying the business. Stickney Will Stand Pat

The best posted freight officials state there is no hope of inducing President Stickney of the Great Western to abandon the Omaha grain market to its fate. He may, however, be forced to make some concessions from the stand he has taken in order to reach a compromise and secure the desired stability to the rates, which are as necessary to the upbuilding of a local grain market, according to the best posted grain men, as favorable rates are. An effort will be made by Mr. Stickney to induce the interests which are opposing the upbuilding of the market to view the matter in a different light.

It is said that the Northwestern was represented at the Chicago meeting Saturday and that the stand taken by that line in the rate war was made clear for the first time. Just what the explanation made by the Northwestern amounted to was not made public, but it is understood that since the war has been in effect the officials of that line have changed their views materially and are now ready to negotiate terms of peace.

Traffic officials state that while the grain market is good as at present, there would be a large volume of this class of freight move naturally even at high rates of freight and it is playing the part of suicide for the railroads to haul the business at a lors, as they have been doing.

Weather.

NORFOLK, Neb., Feb. 8 .- (Special.) --With a bitterly cold wind blowing from the north the funeral of the late Hon. G. A. Luikart was held in Norfolk at 2 o'clock this afternoon under the impressive ceremonies of the Masonic fraternity. Interment was in Prospect Hill cemetery. Deputy Grand Master C. E. Burnham of Tilden was in charge of the service. Many visiting Masons from Tilden were present, Mr. Luikart having remained always a member of the Tilden lodge, and the funeral service being performed by the local lodge at request of the Tilden lodge. The floral tributes were magnificent, having come in on all trains from every portion of the state and from hundreds of Norfolk friends besides. The Elks sent a committee to the home yesterday with an expression of sympathy, and this afternoon with the Odd Fellows participated in the funeral. The Citizens' National bank, of which Mr. Luikart was president, remained closed from the moment of his death until after the funeral. Every business house in the city was closed from 2 until 4 this afternoon out of respect to the departed citizen. Miss Stella Luikart, the second daughter, has practically collapsed since the death of her father and the entime family is of course prostrated with grief. None has suffered more from the death of Mr. Luikart, perhaps, than August Schultz, whose horse ran over the banker on that Saturday afternoon. He is almost crazed and has been trrational for days. No blame whatever, however, is attached to him.

The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Omaha Dally Beo. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuiness of this offer.

Smooth Road to St. Louis

Why not use the Burlington to St. Louis? A through train leaves at 5:25 p. m. and lands you without a single change of cars in the magnificent Union Station in St.

The sleeping cars are of the modern kind—the berths just a little wider and the toilet rooms just a little roomier than the old kind.

The trains run over the Burlington track all the way and the track is SMOOTH. Think of this when you come to make your Exposition trip this year. YOU CAN'T DO BETTER.

The Men's Specialists

We are living in an age of specialism; an age when success can only be attained by the concentration of every thought upon the unswerving pursuit of a single object. We are precisely such specialists. This accounts for the difference between success and failue in the treatment and cure of diseases of men. The physician who tries to explore and conquer the whole field of medicine and surgery becomes proficient in no particular branch. We have confined ourselves entirely to a single class of diseases and their complications and mastered them. We do not scatter our faculties, but concentrate them on our particular specialty. We have made a life study of discusses and weakers specialty. We have made a life study of diseases and weaknesses peculiar to men, spending thousands of dollars in researches and evolving a special system of treatment that is quick, safe and certain cure for all skin, nervous, blood and private diseases. Our name has been a household synonym for over a quarter of a century for remarkable skill and ability in the treatment and cure of

Stricture, Varicocele, Emissions, Nervo-Sexual Debility, Caused by Self-Abuse, Excesses, etc., Impotency, Blood Poison

(Syphilis), Rectal, Kidney and Urinary Diseases, and all diseases and weaknesses of men due to inheritance, evil habits, self-abuse, excesses or the result of specific diseases

By our system of electricity and medicine combined we cure quickly, safely and thoroughly all diseases and weaknesses of men after all others have failed. Our object is not so much to do the work that other doctors can do, but rather to cure obstinate diseases which they cannot successfully combat. All that deep knowledge, expert skill, vast experience and thorough scientific office equipment can accomplish are now being done for those who come to us for the help they need.
