ANOTHER CUT THREATENED

Buerliness win.

Speculation is Rife as to Purposes Back of This Continuous Performance Between the Chieago-Omnha Lines.

"The war in the east is a mere skirmish. While no official appropriement has been made by the Northwestern to the effect through grain toriff from Nebraska points to the east, it is understood that a reducon of 2 cents per hundred from the last published sariff will be announced within the next day or two.

if such a cut is unnounced it will three the Great Western to make another reduction in the proportional rates from Omaha to the Mississippi river and Chicago. An official of the Burlington stated that in case the Northwestern makes such a reduction his line will have to meet it.
It is the general opinion of freight men that President Stickney has fired his last shot if he meets the proposed through rates of the Northwestern by a like reduction in the proportionals east. Another cut of 2 cents by the Great Western would make the rates to the Mississippi river 3 cents on wheat and I cents on corn. This, so it is stated, would be hauling the business at loss. Even at present rates, railroad men say, here is no money in the business.

The reason given that the Northwestern can hold out longer in the war thin the Great Western is that on through shipments it is collecting its local rates into Omaha, which in most cases amount to enough to pay for handing the grain through to the Mississippi river, while the Great Western bas no such means of get-

Rates Before the War.

Before the rate war began the cost of shipping a car of wheat of 66,000 pounds to the river from Omaha was $59.40. Under the present rate it is $50, a net loss-on each car of $25.40. This applies to roads hauling the business only from Omaha. But to the Northwestern and other lines the loss is even greater, amounting to $33 per car on zhrough business. A freight official said:

There is still a question as to whether the Northwestern or the Great Western will win out in the war. If the Union Paeffic and Rock Island will stay in the fight with the Great Western that line can win, but if at the critical moment these two lines desert the Great Western it will have to acknowledge defeat. It is my opinion that there is something behind this rate war more than appears on the surface. I believe it to be an attempt on the part of financiers to force the revenues of some line, presumably the Northwestern, down to a point where the loss will affect the stock of the company, It may be possible that the Great Western is a party to the transaction, or it is barely possible that the Great Western is the line the financiers are after. If something of this nature was not days. It may be an effort on the part of transcontinental lines to drive local lines out of business by lowering their stock to point where it can be absorbed by speculators interested in the transcontinental properties, probably Hill and Harriman,"

Cannot Merge the Bureaus. The scheme of consolidating the western. transmissouri, southwestern and transcontinental mileage bureaus, which has been under consideration for the past two months, has been given up. At a meeting ecently held in Chicago it was decided that the plan would be impracticable. Complications, unlooked for, which arose during the meeting were the cause of the sbandonment of the plan. Reduces Cost of Guide, Notice has been received at Union Pacific endquarters to the effect that the Official Guide will hereafter be furnished at 21 cents per copy less than before. This is on account of a decision recently handed lown by the supreme court of the United States which allows the guide to be mailed for II cents per copy les sthan formerly. It now costs but 4 cents her copy postage, whereas, before the der son, the railroads were forced to pay 25 cents per copy postage. The action of the court in reduing the mailing rate will prove quite a saving to the railroads, as several hundred copies of the guide are mailed by each of them monthly.

The deed was committed in a fit of jealous frenzy on Reed's part and had, according to his own story at that time been premeditated for weeks. The woman received men at her rooms on Webster street and on several occasions Reed found and there were stormy scenes between him and the woman, who, he claimed, had repeatedly promised to marry him. On he occasion of the visit when the crime is alleged to have taken place. Reed found two men with the object of his affections and waited in an adjoining room until they left the premises. Then the woman came to him and asked for money to buy He refused to give her any and angry words passed between them. With out further ceremony he said then that he pulled a five-shot thirty-eight caliber revolver from his pocket and put four bul lets into her body, from the effects of which she died the next evening. Other occupants of the house heard the shots and surmising that murder was being done, summoned the police. When they arrived Reed was in the act of trying to reload his pistol, the cylinder of which had failen out, with the intention of killing himself.

At the police station after the woman's death he had no hesitation in confessing that he fired the fatal shots and said all he asked was that he be hung with as little delay as possible. The jury in his case is being selected

HOW HE FOOED THE PHYSICIANS

Newtonville, N. Y.-Mr. Fred Henkes, the popular Florist and gardener of this village, who was suffering from a severe ittack of Kidney trouble, recently astonished his many friends by the wonderful recovery he made. His ocndition was so had that his physicians told him he must move to a milder climate. He did not want to de, neither did he want to dispose of his property at a sacrifice. Luckily a friend noting his run-down condition, told him about the wonderful cures that have been made by Cramer's Kidney and Liver Cure, and so strong was this friend's endorsement, that he decided to at least make a trial of it. with great care by counsel on both sides.

that he decided to at least make a trial of it.

He says: "For several years I suffered from a form of kidney trouble which grew worse and worse. My back ached incessantly, my food seemed to supply no nour-ishment or strength. My doctors advined me that the only way I could hope to get well, was by moving to a milder climate. This meant the sacrifice of all my property and I naturally disliked to do this. Fortunalely a friend knowing of my condition, asked me to try Cramer's Kilney and Liver Cure, made by the Cramer Medical Co. of Albany. He insisted that this remedy was prepared from the finest quality of medicinal herbs, was vegetable, and that he personally knew of more than forty persons who had used it with great benefit. His persistence finally won me over and I agreed to make a trial. After the end of the first bottle, my backache ceased and my strength began to return. After six bottles, i was entirely cured, and while it is nearly sight months since I finished the last bottle. I have not had the slightest return of the trouble. I defend twelve to fifteen hours a day and I finished the last bottle. I have not had the slightest return of the trouble. I do from twelve to fifteen hours a day and thrive under it. If anyone wants to know what Gramer's Liver and Kidner Curs will do for sick people, just send them to me. I know from experience."
