Two more days and then-Lent. And evidently society means to keep Lent this year, too, for tomorrow and next day are fairly crowded with things; luncheons and teas and dances and dinners, and after that, if anybody contemplates giving anything else this week, the fact has not been announced. Of course, everybody will not keep Lent, but then there are so many who will that a really large affair will be out of the question for the next forty days-unless it be the "birthday party" of the Visiting Nurses' association, which is always an event regardless of the senson, the weather or whatever else happens to he scheduled for the same day. But the A valentine party was the evening pleasbirthday party is given for charity." And then, too, there will be the Euchre club and the musicale and the Monday night evening game was hearts. The prizes were dinner at the Omaha club, and the Sunday evening suppers at the club and ever so many other places-for the Sunday supper has become established-and, of course, the whist clubs. And now that everything is trimmed with violets, hyacinths, violetover for a while ever so many people are going to go south for a few weeks, just to place out and to get away from the bad weather.

One of the sweetest and brightest of the debutantes is the most recent victim of the evidently too expensive taste of some other ember of the set that oftends the most between 3 and 5 o'clock. The rooms were fashionable and exclusive affairs, and her trimmed in red and white, and the hostconfidence has been rudely shaken by the Among her debut outfit is a experience. during her recent visit to that city, the garment bearing its maker's name, a bit of woven slik lettering, perhaps 1x3 inches, made fast to the lining. Of course any woman is pardonable for a degree of pride in a Paris made garment and for wishing to retain this modest evidence of its origin, especially as such luxuries are not possible to all-even in society. The feelings of this debutante can be imagined, then, when a few days ago she discovered that the tallor's mark had been cut out of her coat, and in such a way that it might be attached to the lining of another garment. Just when the olipping was done she is unable to tell, but she had worn the coat but three times since she last noticed the mark and on these occasions the garment was laid off only in the dressing rooms of her hostesses. Of course there are other women in town who wear imported gar. The game was followed by a luncheon. ments, but just now the feminine half of society has its eyes open for maker's marks and the garments that bear the mark of a certain Paris tallor are looked upon with suspision.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The announcement that Mrs. Carrie Chap man Catt, who succeeded Susan B. Anthony as president of the National American Suffrage association, has positively refused a enomination for that office at the coming convention will be received by the women with general regret. Not only has Mrs. Catt filled a trying and responsible position most admirably, but her charming personallty and womanly dignity have gone fa: toward convincing the doubting ones that it is possible for the most refined and womanly women to take an interest and a part in the world's great problems without detriment to themselves or their families

Mrs. Catt's withdrawal will doubtless establish a rotation in office in the suffrage association, and while there are many who feel that such a plan will be beneficial, others are of the opinion that as the work of the association is unlike that of other women's organizations it is productive of better results to retain the executive officers who are thoroughly in touch with all the matters, legislative and otherwise, that such a reform movement has to take into account.

The mid-year business meeting of the Woman's club will be held Monday after-ness will be considered. The first thing to

NO MAN OR WOMAN CAN HAVE DYSPEPSIA

and Still Be Agreeable, Attractive and Popular-A Certain Cure in Reach of All.

There is nothing that will put you to the front so rapidly in the business or social world as a cheerful disposition and a pleasant appearance. Other things being equal people will go out of their way to give the fellow a lift who always wears a cheerful countenance. The man or woman with a cranky disposition and a sour face will always meet with an indifferent if not a chilly reception. The commercial travelar who is the recognized business barometer appreciates better than any one the value of this rule and governs his actions accordingly.

Dyspepsia destroys all the agreeable qualities that enter into a man or woman's make-up. It is almost a human impossibility for anyone with a severe case of dyspepsia to look pleasant. The continyous, miserable, cast-down feeling is bound to make itself shown in the appearance and conversation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the sufferer's certain cure. They are so recog nized all over the world. The cures they have brought about and the happiness they have caused and the suffering they have relieved has made their name a household word in all the English-speaking world. The reason that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tabets are a certain cure is that they are a natural cure. There is nothing to prevent them curing. They contain the essential ingredients of the digestive fluids of the stomach and simply do the identical work of the stomach, relieving that weakened organ and permitting it to rest and recuperate. Could anything be more simple or natural? They are bound to cure. They cannot help themselves. It is just like put ting a new stomach into a man-if that were possible-and letting the old one go off on a vacation. Rest is what it needs. Nature will do her own work of restora-
