The government is receiving additional circumstantial reports of the alleged cruelty of the Russians toward Japanese refugees from Manchuria. The Japanese consul general at Tien Tsin has just telegraphed the authorities here, giving a reoftal of the story told by thirteen women who have just arrived at Shan Hal Kwan The thirteen were residing at Harbin and started south on February 9 with 300 com-One-half of these, with the women, reached Mukden on the 19th and were ordered to leave the train by Russian soldiers, who cruelly abused them and detained the party, which they finally divided, the men being ordered to proceed to Port Arthur. The women were sent to New Chwang, where United States Consul Miller provided food and transportation for them to Shan Hat Kwan. The women say they saw several Japanese refugees cruelly beaten and wounded. They say that the Russian soldiers robbed them of money and jewelry. Some of the Japanese escaped punishment by bribing the soldiers, The Japanese government and people are deeply stirred by these reports of abuse and suffering sustained by the refugees. They point to their own correct attitude toward the Russians in Japan and denounce the Russians as barbarians.

The sinking of the Nakonoura Maru and the treatment of the refugees is creating lentless war. It is improbable that the Japanese will retaliate in kind, whatever excesses the Russians commit.

The Japanese are unable to understand why the men and women refugees from Marbin were divided. It is suggested that Russia intends to hold the men at Port Arthur in the hope of avolding a bombard-This, however, appears extremely

The utterances of Baron von Reichen berg, the German consul at Moscow, who is described as having made a speech to a to the foreign concessions and establishcrowd of Russlans, saying among other things that Japan treacherously attacked Port Arthur, are severely commented upon by the German press.

The government probably will repudiate the consul's sentiments and reprimand him. One of the classes of badets at the German military academy at Lichterfelde is reported to have sent a letter expressing good wishes in Russia, to the cadets of the Nicholas engineer school at St. Peters

Copyright, 1904, by James Gordon Bennett.) ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 16 .- (New York Herald Cablegram-Special Telegram :- At the Foreign office here very serious misgivings regarding the attitude of China are beginning to be felt, following upon the undoubted treachery shown by the cutting of the wires connecting Vladivostok with Port Arthur and the constant, attacks upon the line of the Manchurian railway by honhous, who are well known to be under the direction of the Chinese.

The American note continues to excite much anger here. I have already told you that expressions have been uttered in the highest quarters to the effect that it is quite an outrageous proposition. An in fluential member of the council of the empire, speaking on the subject said: "The American note is considered in offi

It is thought at any rate that the note has been issued to make Russia believe America wants to re-establish Chinese sovereignty there. "It is considered as a measure of in timidation and an official intimation beforehand that the United States, even after Russia's victory, will strongly oppose our point of view regarding Manchuria. What will be the end of this highly inopportune American demonstration I don't

"But, as a matter of course, if America steps into Japan's place Russia cannot but adopt toward the United States the very same firm but concillatory attitude which she has shown toward Japan." The Biriavaia Viedomosti says:

The greater part of these provisions have not reached the Russian harbor and may serve to support the Jopanese navy. The question of supplies will be all important in this war, continues the correspondent. Much indispensible material had to be taken from Warsaw and sent to the far east and other provisions were to come from America or from Odessa by sea. Everything that was left in the Black sea after New Years is reason the provisioning of the army in the far east is causing great anxiety, as nothing can be obtained there in the winter, not 180,000 men. However, the line is now obstructed by trains carrying rails, sleepers, and building material and the matter of unlikely to reach its destination. For this Oscar S. Strauss Talks of Hanna's Highest Ambition.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 .- Oscar S. Strauss, formerly United States minister to Turkey, even forage for the horses. Even were the and vice president of the National Civic Siberian railway in perfect order it would federation, spoke today of the carnestness not suffice to carry the food for 150,000 to with which Senator Hanna had thrown himself into the work of the federation, of which he was president, and the hopefulness he had of its success in bringing capital and labor into cloper and more harmonious relationship. He said:

On one occasion he stated that he would rather have the credit of making success ful the movement to bring labor and capital into closer relationship of confidence rather have the credit of making successful the movement to bring labor and capital into closer relationship of confidence and reliance than be president of the United States. He said, also, that if by resigning his seat in the senate he could bring to fruition the plans fostered by the federation to make such labor troubles as strikes, lockouts and the like impossible, he was willing to do so. His words were: "I would want no greater praise than to have the country remember that I did something to end the wars between American labor and American capital." And in a recent magazine article he wrote: "I am firmly convinced that it is the object to which I desire to consecrate the remaining years of my life."

No man who was ever more sincere in his work than was Senator Hanna and instead of utilizing the federation movement for his personal political advantage he subordinated all of his political power for its benefit. In fact, he told me once with an earnestness which aroused no doubt of his sincerity that if he discovered that his position in politics interfered in any way with his work for the cause of the federation, he would unhesitatingly leave the political field and resign from any position he might held.

Eulogizes Hanna for Work for Labor. CHICAGO, Feb. 16. Senator Hanna has seen eclogized for his effort in behalf of abor by the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus at the banquet of the Chicago Congregational club at the Auditorium. Dr. Gunsavius spoke on the later ejoquence of Puritanism. He said; There lies dead on his shield in Wash There lies dead on his shield in Washington tonight a mai who was a friend of labor and one whose every effort was for its equal right with capital. If ever labor had a true lover and an honest friend it was this man—a man attacked by siauderous papers of a wretched journalism, by the venomous, lying pen, a man whose hands always were working for the interest of both labor and capital—Marcus A. Hanna.
