Some of the Candidates.

Three members of the Board of Education and treasurer of the school district are to be elected this year. The members 22 to The Bee by the abstract, title and whose terms expire are T. J. Shugart and W. S. Cooper, republicans, and S. S. Keller, democrat. It is understood that both Shuions and that there will be several candidates for the third nomination. The name of J. F. Wilcox has recently been prominently mentioned in connection with the third nomination and it is said that he would be willing to serve if elected. The Sixth ward feels that it is entitled to representation on the school board and will present a candidate to the convention in the person of J. H. Swartz, vice president of the West End Improvement club.

For the republican nomination for school treasurer no candidate has yet been an-nounced. George S. Davis, the present incumbent, will, it is said, seek a renomination at the hands of the democrats. S. S. Keller, the retiring democratic member of the board, will not, it is said, seek a re-#### nomination.

Several Would Be Mayor. Since he announced his determination to seek a renomination Mayor Morgan's friends have not been idle and it is predicted he will be selected to head the republican city ticket. At the same time it is generally expected that there will be a contest for the nomination. There is una verdict to the effect that Brown's death doubtedly a sentiment among a number of leading republicans favoring the nomina-tion of Alderman E. H. Lougee for mayor. Since his election to the city council Alderman Lougee has always taken a leading part in the proceedings of that body. Earlier in the campaign Alderman McDonald was frequently mentioned in connection Are the life, the vitality, the energy of your body.

Candidates for Aldermen. For city engineer the name of Harley Mayne has been mentioned and it is understood that S. L. Etnyre, the present incumbent, will seek a renomination at the hands of the democrats.

For the two nominations for aldermen at large John Olson will seek a renomination and Alderman Lougee, if not nominated for mayor, will probably be his running mate. Having sold his residence in the Second ward Alderman Lougee is anxious to secure the nomination for alderman at large. So far no other names have been mentioned in connection with these nominations. For the nomination of park commissioner there will undoubtedly be a lively contest. This office, paying as it does a salary of $500 a year, is considered a plum. M. P. Schmidt, whose term expires this spring, is a candidate for renomination, but there are several others who want it also. Among the leading candidates for the nomination now in the field are L. E. Bridenstein, J. R. Bell, H. F. Keller and J. W. Blanchard. For the nomination for superintendent of markets or city weighmaster, as it is more

appeared in the arena For the nominations for ward aldermen here are several candidates in each ward and the ward caucuses promise some lively contests. With the exception of Alderman Huber of the First ward, who is said to have no further aspirations to serve the city as an alderman, all of the present members of the city council are said to be candidates for renomination at the hands of their respective parties. Alderman Casper, who is one of the aldermen at large, is regarded as a leading candidate for the democratic nomination for mayor.

city was held last night in the Sapp block relative to a bill to be introduced in the lowa legislature requiring all railroads to weigh coal at destination points as well as at the mines or point of loading. A draft of the proposed measure was read and approved by the local dealers. Coal dealers for a long time have been complaining of the great shrinkage in weight of coal shipments when received at destination, but so far have been unable to secure any remedy for the evil. Dealers complain that it is a frequent occurrence for cars to be short two tons and even more by the time they reach their destination. This is mainly due, it is said, to tor Dunham presented a petition from restheft along the route and while cars are standing in the railroad yards and insecure cars.

At present coal dealers are compelled to pay for consignments of coal and transportation charges for same on the weighing at the mines or point of shipment, no matter how great the shrinkage during transit, and this has proven a heavy loss to them. They now propose to hold the rallroads responsible for the shrinkage during transit and pay only for what they actually receive. The passage of such bill as proposed will tend, it is claimed, to make the railroads furnish closed cars for hauling coal instead of open ones from which the loss is greatest.

The committee of the Iowa and Nebraska Coal Dealers' association having the proposed bill in charge consists of R. C. Harris of Omaha, C. H. Chisam of Council Bluffs and H. W. Betts of Sloux

Held in Atlantic Jail on Charge of Attempted Murder.

ATLANTIC, Ia., Feb. 22 .- (Special Telegram.)-M. May of Griswold was brought to this city today and lodged in the county jail to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of attempt at murder, which offense was said to have been committed at Griswold Saturday evening, the victim being Theodore Farghem, foreman of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy ballast burning crew, who is working near Griswold. May, who is 60 years old, was employed with the ballast burning gang of which Farghem was foreman. Because of his unfortunate proclivity for drinking it became necessary to discharge the old man. His anger was aroused by this action. He bought the weapon at Kewin's store and went immediately to the hotel where the shooting occurred. May entered the dining room at the City hotel and fired four shots at Farghem. who was eating supper, one striking him fair in the forehead and ploughing a deep gash back and over the top of the head. The weapon was a small 22-caliber revolver. After hitting his victim May attempted to leave the hotel, but was confronted by the timekeeper for the ballast gang, who sought to detain him. May attempted to shoot him also, but was kept from it until Landlord Rupp appeared upon the scene and felled him with a chair. He was arrested by Marshal Swartz and it is not unlikely that other aspirants will after having a hearing before a justice waived examination and was brought to Atlantic and placed in jaif. Upon learning that he had not succeeded in killing Farghem he cursed his fate, declaring that he for city treasurer and he is not likely to had hoped to kill the man. The first move in a fight for the repeal of the present tax ferret law on the statute books of Iowa was made in the state senate this morning by the introduction of a bill to that effect by Senator Jackson of Woodbury. The bill repeals the section giving the right of employment of tax ferrets to the board of supervisors and leaves that duty entirely to the county treasurer and county attorney. Private Bank Exemptions. Some investigation has been made into the record of results of the failure of banks in Iowa in recent years with a view to its bearing on the bill to require examination of private banks and that they shall make sworn reports to the state auditor the same as banks that are organized under the state laws. It is found that in nine years, not including the last two, the percontage of assets to liabilities in the failed state banks was 117, in savings banks 113 and in private banks only sixty-eight It is contended that because of this showing the losses in the failure of private banks is greater than where the banks have been subjected to investigation. The private bankers, however, are making arrangements to resist the plan to have the banks examined and declare that it is an impossibility for the state to provide for complete examination of private banks and banking firms because to do so would necessitate the examination of the private business of every person connected in any way with private banks. The private bankers say they will not resist the plan to have them make sworn reports to the
