

SOCIETY STEPS STEADILY

Lenten Season Down's Cheer; Local Gaiety to Any Great Extent.

ONE BUSY WEEK FOLLOWS ANOTHER

Affairs of Some Magnitude Mark the One Just Closed and Calendar Indicates the Same for the Coming.

The Point of View. "Two heads are better than one." Well, you generally find that the saying's true; just take the case of a kiss—confess you think so, too.

But let me tell you what's equally true, (You've been Robert and I've been there no cause for laughter.) One head is a good deal better than two the morning after.

The Social Calendar. MONDAY—The cooking club's bridge party. Mrs. Harry Wilkins, hostess. Omaha Guards medal drill and hop at their armory. Dr. and Mrs. McClannahan entertain for Mrs. Updike.

TUESDAY—Tuesday Euchre club. Mrs. Fred Nash, hostess. Current topics department Kennington. Mrs. F. R. Straight, hostess.

WEDNESDAY—Mrs. Robert Dinning's euchre party. Meeting of the Round Dozen club. Mrs. Van Gleason, hostess.

THURSDAY—Mrs. Robert Dinning's euchre party. Meeting of the Luncheon club. Miss Brady and Miss Gore, hostesses. Concert by Miss Allen's orchestra at Hanson Park Methodist church.

Though one hears a great deal about the Lenten calm just now the fact is that society is stepping about as lively as usual, for while there has been little of sufficient size or consequence to swell the social chronicle, fashionable matrons and matrons of lesser note and even the men of affairs who are available, or liable, by relation, to social obligation, have dined or called, attended the theater or found other entertainment—and plenty of it, too—every day and every evening of the week. One hears little complaint that things are dull, for, as a matter of fact, it is not every season of the year that affords society the opportunity of limiting its entertainment or hospitality to just those who are really congenial, and this privilege, if nothing else, makes up for much that is otherwise denied.

Altogether the last week was a busy week. Society seemed to fairly bubble over the first few days with a patriotic fervor that found vent in all manner of celebrations of Washington's birthday, while miniature hatchets and cherry trees, flags, the national colors and colonial costume have been the dominate note in most of the affairs of the past seven days. And there were not a few big things, the birthday party of the Visiting Nurses' association given at the home of Mrs. George A. Hoagland being largest, while the two euchre parties held Monday and Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. M. C. Peters would have been counted large at another season of the year.

This week will be a repetition of last week and, in fact, the same can be safely predicted of every week until after Lent. Little or nothing has been announced but that does not necessarily mean that there will be nothing going on, and everybody understands it so.

Some Social Chat. Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Burt are in Japan, having arrived at Yokohama on February 21.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Harrison entertained Wednesday evening at their home at Fortieth and Iard streets, about twenty-five friends being present, all of whom they had known previous to their residence in Omaha.

Mrs. P. H. Updike of Harvard, Neb., was the guest of honor at a luncheon given Friday by Mrs. Edward Updike. The table was trimmed with jonquils and tulips, and places were laid for Mrs. H. P. Updike, Mrs. N. B. Updike, Mrs. G. L. Updike, Mrs. White, Mrs. Burton Smith, Mrs. C. L. Updike, Mrs. Yetter, Mrs. Comstock and Mrs. Judson. Mrs. Evanson Brogan was hostess of one of the prettiest luncheons of the week on Wednesday, when her guests were: Mrs. S. O. Strickland, Mrs. Arthur P. Gutou, Mrs. Perley, Mrs. Wilson Lowe and Miss Curtis. The table was trimmed with Lawson pink. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stevens entertained the members of the Utopia club at their home in South Omaha Thursday evening. High five was the game of the evening, for which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Wahl, Patterson and Howell and Messrs. Stuben, Smith and Howell.

Promise for the Future. Mrs. Van Gleason will entertain Thursday afternoon's meeting of the Round Dozen club.

Miss Margaret Preston will entertain the Cooking club at luncheon Wednesday, March 3.

Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall and Miss Ada Kirkendall expect to spend the summer extending over a period of many months, the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs has taken definite action toward the establishment of a club house for women.

It is to have all the accommodations of a women's club and will cost $20,000. A meeting of the board of directors of the club was held on Monday afternoon at the Knickerbocker Athletic club in Madison avenue. The tenacity of such an undertaking stunned the women for a few months, but their president gave assurance that a man would be ready to loan them enough for the first payment and a committee was chosen with power to act.

The club women who expect to attend the seventh biennial at St. Louis will be interested to know that on May 19, 1904, will occur the unveiling of the memorial, which will be the main entrance to the exposition on the art palace, a place so conspicuous that visitors cannot fail to see it. The following program, while not complete, has been suggested by the committee: Music; address of welcome by President; address of the exposition; address of welcome by Prof. Ives, director of the art department; address of welcome by a member of the Louisiana purchase states; response by Mrs. Dimie T. S. Denison, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; music; patriotic oration from the best orator of the country; unveiling of the tablet.

The art department will present the following program at Monday afternoon's open meeting of the Women's club. Mrs. Charles Johannes to preside; An organ solo by Mr. Will Thickett; a description of Indian, Mrs. William Grigori; a talk, "The Religions of India," by Mrs. W. G. Ure; a vocal solo by Mrs. Henry Cox; three short talks on Indian architecture by Mrs. George Payne, Mrs. Phillip Potter and Mrs. W. C. Sunderland. The program will follow the regular business session, which will begin at 2:15 o'clock instead of 2:30, the extra time, with fifteen minutes allowed for the program having been given to that Mr. Edmund Russell, the New York artist, may talk on "The Philosophy of Art." It is expected that the session will be one of the most notable of the season.

The members of the current topic department will give a Kennington afternoon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. F. R. Straight, 224 South Thirty-fifth street.

One of the most successful meetings of the Woman's club R. M. S. was the Martha Washington afternoon, given by direction of the household economics committee, at the club, at the home of Mrs. P. A. Holt, 313 North Forty-second street, Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flags. The two darkened dining rooms were decorated with the national colors, red, white and blue, festooned from the chandeliers to the corners of the tables, which were decorated with cherries, small hatching and old-fashioned candelabras supporting red, white and blue candles. The plate cards were starry flags. Covers were laid for thirty-five. The dinner consisted of "rye old-time dishes."

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The local biennial board of St. Louis has adopted a new means of spreading information regarding the coming biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the plan being presented in the following letter by the president of the local board:

To the Presidents of the State Federations and the Federation Secretaries: The General Federation, by accepting the invitation to hold its seventh biennial in St. Louis, from May 17 to 22, inclusive, places the responsibility of giving to the great Louisiana purchase and gives not only St. Louis but the state as well, the pleasure of welcoming the national organization to our homes. You will be interested to know that arrangements are nearly completed for the celebration of the day of the World's fair grounds, and the press committee will soon issue a full report of this interesting occasion.

We are looking forward to the largest delegation which the General Federation has ever presented, on account of the growth of the national body, the central location of the entertaining city and the great interest in the international exposition. For the first time in the history of increased delegation, we have the pleasure of offering the best audience hall the biennial has ever experienced. It should not be thought for the moment that the biennial is a mere social gathering, but it presents only her experience, the scientific properties of the Odson are unsurpassed, and speakers will address on the social cause, the minimum of effort, in presenting their various ideas. The Club Woman issue of the biennial gives illustrated articles on the hall, which we recommend to every delegate, speaker or visitor.

We are told that the prices secured for hotel accommodations are beyond the means of the average club woman, and it is the average woman we expect and wish to reach. All know that exposition periods are the best time to visit a city, and that the hotels are crowded, but the hotels committee will soon send out a circular, arranging for these needs to the best of its ability. Correspondence according to addresses given in the Club Woman's circular, will obtain from the committee all the information.

The program in the hands of Mrs. West of the General Federation board promises the most interesting of any one time. It should disarm criticism at once, for the change in the program, which has been made, has often distracted the worn delegates, and made them realize how much she was obliged to leave behind.

The local biennial board comes to you with a new program for exploiting the seventh biennial through the press. It appeals to you to make the work yours in your club, and to send it to your state. The local board asks the State Federation to be responsible for distribution of biennial news in their respective states, for we fully believe no one is more interested in the success of the General Federation than the State Federation. The State Federation, without friction, as the State Federation, will be glad to receive frequent news bulletins, prepared by the different local boards, in the interests of the seventh biennial. The board asks you to see that these are sent to the press of the state in which you reside, and to the Federated Clubs of the state through the same or a distributing committee.

If this can be done we are sure the news will reach all those for whom it is really intended, and we are sure that the committee know the success or failure of the scheme. If you have not such committee in existence, will you see that one is appointed as quickly as possible, for the most important letter we see is that the committee will follow this within a very short time.

The local biennial board believes that each state will see its way clear to distribute this matter for its immediate, accurate knowledge of its own conditions, for any reason this seems impossible, will you make such reason known to our president, chairman, Mrs. Charles LeRoy Moss, suite O, Odson, St. Louis.

The board asks, therefore, that the responsibility be placed upon the state, and to insure this responsibility the press committee proposes to which, by which, shall directly pursue press work in that territory.

Printed notices will be sent in quantities sufficient for the demands of every state. If your allotment is insufficient kindly notify the press committee.

Please allow the local board to express a sense of pleasure in this co-operation, a belief in the entire harmony of this the seventh biennial convention, a warm welcome and a handclasp to every one who will come within our gates and the hope that all who leave us may be glad they came. Very cordially yours, EVA PERRY MOORE, President Local Biennial Board.

APPEALS FOR THE HOSPITAL

Rev. Eric A. Fogelstrom Sets Forth Needs of Institution of Which He is Manager.

OMAHA, Feb. 27.—To the Editor of The Bee: As there is present, for certain reasons, a good deal of inquiry about the Immanuel hospital, please send me, through your paper, to state a few facts and to give the public some explanations in reference to this institution. When we had paid the mortgage on the property, some years ago, I told the stater in charge of the hospital that as long as there is an empty bed in the hospital we should never refuse to admit a poor patient because he has no money, if his condition otherwise was such that it would do him any good to enter. Most all the time in late years we have, therefore, had the hospital full and about ten months of the year it has been overcrowded to such an extent that we have been compelled to refuse many admittance because there was no room. Private rooms have particularly been in great demand. For this reason we were compelled last year to decide to build an addition to the hospital. First, however, we had to make an assortment of colored boiler house and lay in a first-class heating plant, so that all present and future buildings of the institution could be heated from one and the same plant. This was done last year at a cost of $10,000. Last year we received $7,000 in donations, mostly in kind, and we are now in a position to build a boiler house and lay in a first-class heating plant, so that all present and future buildings of the institution could be heated from one and the same plant. This was done last year at a cost of $10,000.
