GONG SAVES HIM IN THE FOURTH ROUND

Shows Ability to Stand Panishment, but at So Stage of the Game la He Able to injure the Champion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29 .- Corbett wins in the eleventh round.

BAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.-The fight for the world's featherweight championship batween Young Corbett of Denver and Dave Sullivan of Boston did not prove the attraction expected by the Yosemita Athletic club. The general belief among the sporting element that Sullivan would prove an easy victim for the champion had its effect on the attendance, which was below the average. Corbett ruled favorite, with odds of 3 to 1 in his favor. Sullivan is reported to have wagered $500 against $1,500 that he would be returned the victor. Both the principals weighed in this afternoon and had no trouble in making the specified weight, 130 pounds. Both have trained faithfully for this contest and were in the best of condition. Eddie Grancy acted as referee.

The preliminary events were better than the average contests of this kind. Charley Seiger of Chicago and Frank Rawlins furnished the curtain raiser, and Caesar Attell of this city and George Sanfanson of Alaska were scheduled to go eight rounds. This fight was declared a draw.

Corbett was the first to emerge from his dressing room. Sullivan entered the ring a minute or so later.

Sullivan had for his seconds "Spider" Kelly, Frank McDonald and Jimmy Barry. Corbett had Tim McGrath, George Weedon, Billy Otts and Billy Roche. Corbett was introduced as "the pride of Denver and the featherweight champion of the world." He received a popular reception. Sullivan received a challenge from Johnny Burns, which was read, as also was one from "Spider" Welch, a local pugilist. "Gid" Herman of Chicago was also there with a challenge.

As Corbett disrobed it was seen that his condition was superb, while Sullivan also looked to be in perfect trim. The fight was to be for twenty rounds, straight Marquis | Mockett | Reed, H. D. of Queensbury rules.

Fight by Rounds.

Round 1—After some sparring Sullivan led twice with left, falling short. Corbett then swing inefectually with right for the law and tried a left cross which failed to connect. Corbett missed a left and right swing for the face and Sullivan nearly blocked a similar attempt. Sullivan landed lightly with left on the ear and they closed in. Both men displayed great cleverness and Sullivan sgain blocked left and right swings for the body lightly and a left law in the face. Sullivan tried a left swing for the body lightly and a left law in the face. Sullivan the swings for the body lightly and a left law in the face. Sullivan tried a left swing for the body lightly and a left law in the face. Sullivan tried a left swing consequence as the bell sounded sent in a straight left to the face. There was no damage done and but very little lightling of consequences and but very little lightling of consequences and was cheered.

Round 2—They went to a clinch. Sullivan missed left for the face and the champion countered with left and right swings to taking and "joilying" his antagonist and then as quick as a flash drove his right to the body, following it with a left to the face. Corbett began his usual game of taking and "joilying" his antagonist and then as quick as a flash drove his right to the face. Corbett began his usual game of taking and "joilying" his antagonist and then as quick as a flash drove his right to the face. Corbett had Sullivan laughing at his witty badniage. The champion missed right and left wwing for the body and Sullivan planted a straight left on Corbett's nece. Sullivan planted a straight left on Corbett's nece. Sullivan planted a left for the body and the referee cautioned both men about holding on. They mixed it, Corbett missing some lefts for the body. A vicious left swing by the champion grassed the top of Sullivan's head.

Round 1-Sullivan jabbed the champion on the face with straight left and some fast nighting followed, Corbett planting left to the jaw and following it with left to the body. Corbett shot nis right victously to the jaw and Sullivan resorted to infighting in which he was worsted. Sullivan planted two hard rights on the champion's ear and the men refused to break. They battled breast to breask, both glving and taking hard face blows. Finally Corbett broke it up and chopped a victous right to the jaw and following in which he was worsted. Bound 5—Corbett drove fearful rights and lefts on his antagonist's jaw and Sullivan went to the floor twice for the count of seven. Corbett met Sullivan with a fearful jolt to the stomach and the latter clung desperately to the champion. A wild swing by Sullivan caught Corbett on the stomach, but he waded right in after Sullivan, sending him to the ropes with left and right hooks to the jaw. They mixed it, Corbett delivering terrific punishment on the body and face. Sullivan bled from the nose. Corbett dreve his left straight to the face, but Sullivan surprised the champion by sending in two terrific lefts, one to the body and one to the face. Both men fought desperately, Sullivan making a raily that sent the pavillon into an uproar. It looked like a dying man's effort, however, but nevertheless Sullivan inflicted bad punishment on the champion as the round ended. It was Corbett's round.

Round 6—They rushed together without result. Bullivan appeared to have recuperated somewhat. Corbett missed a terrific left swing for the law and a right swing also went wild, as did a straight left by Sullivan. Corbett missed two left hooks for the body and failed in an attempt to land a right swing. Sullivan put in straight left to the face and followed it with a right swing to the head, and they clinched. Corbett sent Sullivan back with straight left to the face and in a mixup they exchanged lefts to the body. Just as the bell rang Gorbett sent in a straight right to the face. Sullivan showed great improvement in this round and Corbett acted more cautiously. ot last another round. Round 5—Corbett drove fearful rights and
