Mr. Rosewater gave a detailed history of the sewer, of the sewer system of Omaha and the plans for the big engineering work that will drain west Omaha from Hamilton nearly to Leavenworth street. He brought blue prints which were inspected by the club members with much interest. The septic tank system which the engineer designed for Independence, Mo., and which has given satisfaction, was explained. It s proposed to use the same here so that the Saddle creek water will not be poiluted. This feature of the work is estimated to cost from $12,000 to $15,000, Gas Inspector Lynch was present and told the club that the Ninth ward had received sixty-one of the new Welsbach gas oline lamps and that Councilman Huntington was planning to substitute many dis continued gasoline lamps with gas and get other lights for the ward. A resolution was adopted thanking the council and particularly Councilman Huntington for their efforts to give this ward better lighting. E. A. Benson introduced it

The gas inspector asked the club members to help him to protect the new lamps against the depredations of small boys and was given the assurance that the citizens would help him all they could,
