In the main it is the theater to which society is chiefly indebted now-a-days for its entertainment, for, excepting a very few smartest of the fashionables. In fact, it is searcely worth while for a hostess to entertain at present, for so many are out of town and those who are not keeping Lent Richard C. Patterson. are scarcely sufficient in numbers to warrant an elaborate affair.

Already one begins to hear talk of after-Easter affairs. One woman out on West Farnam is to give a series of teas and another a series of luncheons that will be conspicuous. And then there are the weddings, of course; but, best of all, the privilege of doing things again, and society promises to close the season in the same way that it began it, with a crush of af-

In almost all matters the west can boast as many innovations as any section, but when it comes to matters social experience has taught the fashionables to turn their eyes eastward for inspiration. And just at this season, when the list of things permissible is very much abbreviated, society glad enough for suggestions from any quarter. But even the east seems to have little to offer in the way of Lenten diversion this year, and so those who would entertain must fall back upon the same old list if they do not happen to be ingenious enough to get up something original. There is one plan, however, that, though it is nothing especially new, seems to have taken well in the east, and that is the "Dutch treat." It is immensely popular so far, perhaps because it is leap year-or perhaps for some other reason-but at any rate the girls are paying for half, particularly if it is a big affair.

Among the after-Easter events that society is anticipating is the presentation of "Mr. Bob" by a number of members of the young set. It is to be given for the benefit of the Visiting Nurses' association and will given in one of the large halls and will Miss Louise McPherson, Miss Elizabeth McConnell, Miss Marie Coffman, Mrs. Mr. Will Coad, Mr. Vernon Chase and Mr. James Woodard.

best known young society women, recently had an experience that, while it was altogether serious, still held an element of udicrousness that has afforded her friends not a little amusement.

A few weeks ago Mrs. C. W. Miss Helen restriction excepting the taste of the fortunate young women. A fortnight ago Mrs. Hamilton and her daughters started west and upon their arrival at San Francisco took apartments at the Grand hotel, but consternation prevailed a few hours after their arrival when their trunks came up and it was found that those of Miss May had been rifled and the choice of her wardrobe, together with other valuables to a large amount, had been removed. The proper authorities were, of course, notified at once, and yesterday Omaha friends received telegrams announcing the capture of the thief and the recovery of the stolen articles at Ogden. The announcement brought relief, of course, but nothing, not even the flood of sympathy and regrets that have gone out from friends, could relieve the embarrassment of the young woman concerned in the interval since the discovery of the theft. L. E. Dunning, an express messenger, as was told in a special dispatch in The Bee yesterday, was arrested for and confessed the theft of Miss Hamilton's valuables as well as others which happened to be in the car over which he had at least partial jurisdiction. He is said to have secured over $800 with the fine things.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

There is one item in the treasurer's report of 1902-03 as it appears in the new year book of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs that has eccasioned not a little comment among members of the Omaha Women's club, that is the item under receipts, "Received from the industrial committee for Jane Addams fund, $57." This statement is confusing as well as misleading and the Omaha women feel that it is scarcely a fair recognition of the part that to the state program Miss Addams' pres-

Accordingly the matter was pre-Omaha club and in turn to the directory tickets, the president herself sending out over 100 postal cards in the interest of the enterprise. In addition to this, it was voted by the club that it pay one-third of Miss Addams' expense at Fremont and, if the Omaha lecture paid expenses, to pay an additional $10 toward the Fremont expense. for which was sent to the state treasurer why the credit of their work should be given to the state industrial committee.

The defeat of the bill to prevent the employment of children in the department stores, factories and workshops of Iowa in the house comes as a grievous disappointment to the club women of the state, who have worked so hard to influence its passage. The bill had previously passed the senate after numerous amendments, but was lost in the house by a vote of 37 to 53.

It is expected that the program for the Second district convention of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, to be entertained by the Omaha Woman's club March 22, will be announced this week. Mrs. M. J. Monette, district vice president, having it nearly complete. Mrs. W. E. Page, president of the state federation, will be among the guests. ### PERMANENCE OF CURE

The Chief Merit.

Many so-called pile remedles will afford the user slight temporary relief, and the majority of sufferers do not expect more than this. Women, especially, after having tried every preparation recommended for the cure of Piles, have come to the conclusion, that there is no cure except by an operation. This is rightfully viewed with dread, because of the shock to the delicate nervous system of women, and many of those afflicted have resigned themselves to the situation with never a thought that there is any help in sight for them. We invite the attention of all such to the experience of the lady whose address is given below. "I feel it my duty to recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure, for after suffering ten years with a most distressing form of Piles, am entirely cured, thanks to this remedy. Anyone doubting this can write to Margaret Brady, 156 Whitman St., Cleveland, Ten months later she writes, "I am glad to say that I am still perfectly free from Piles, and have not had the slightest trouble since I first used your remedy. have appeared from the press of the publisher poorly disguised in a yellow-back cover symbolical of the jaundiced jealousy that has overtaken his rivals for the senatorship who have no ratiroads to pack them and no pictorial paper to back them. The little volume is adorned with a lifelike cartoon portrait of the will-be Senatorauthor embellished with his most charac teristic smile-in fact, the same portrait of the author appears five and a half times within forty pages, and the persistency of the smile proves that it is of the kind that won't wear off. As incontrovertible evidence that his candidacy for senator is backed up by the railroads, as he asserts, the brochure is backed up with a railroad advertisement. There is nothing new in the book, but a whole lot of things are said in such a forcible way that any man conversant with Nebraska political history can see the handwriting on the wall "with his eyes shut." The new yellowback is intended to sell for 10 cents a copy, which is just 20 cents less than the figure at which the author appraises his own senatorial aspirations. The more
