

CANNOT BE BRYAN BOLTER

Democratic Nominee, Says Hitchcock, Must Be One of the Faithful.

THINKS W. R. HEARST HAS NO CHANCE

Cleveland and Bryan Out of Race and He Names Parker as Strongest Man with the House.

Congressman Gilbert M. Hitchcock returned yesterday from Washington for a brief stay, much encouraged over having with Congressman Hinshaw—fought Omaha back in the Indian appropriation bill. Mr. Hitchcock summed up in an interview on the political situation with reference, particularly, to the democratic presidential candidates, but did not pretend to offer any conclusion or opinion for himself or his party as to who the standard bearer would be, but he did venture to say that he must be a "regular" and a "bolter," that is, a man who supported Bryan in both campaigns.

"I don't pretend to be in touch with the democratic feeling throughout the country," said Mr. Hitchcock, "and base my observations only on the attitude of the members of the house. Personally, I would not want to venture an opinion as to who will be the democratic nominee. It is too early. Judge Parker of New York, however, among all those mentioned, is the most popular man in the house. He seems to have a large number of friends. W. R. Hearst has some friends, but I should say that among the 170 democrats in the house not more than ten of these at present openly support his candidacy. These are men who come from various sections of the country. I think Mr. Hearst will not be nominated, although he has made some headway.

Williams Strong in Illinois. "Congressman John R. Williams of Illinois is another man who has some support for the nomination. He will, doubtless, have the backing of the Illinois delegation. He has been in congress some ten years, and is a popular man. I think, however, that he is a more likely man for the vice presidency. Cleveland is hardly considered now. There are a few members who support him, but very few. Bryan has said that he is not a candidate and that he is supporting no particular man. The party, I think, accepts these statements. I am not as closely in touch with Mr. Bryan as the people in Nebraska, as I have not seen him, except for a few minutes, since I went to Washington. "Nine out of ten of the members of the house say they will support any candidate on whom New York can agree. This, of course, provided he is a regular democrat—that is, not a bolter—and supported Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900. It is generally agreed that no one can be nominated who has not been a straight democrat during the past campaign."

No Candidate. In answer to a question as to whether he was a candidate for delegate-at-large to the democratic national convention Mr. Hitchcock said he was not a candidate and did not expect to become one. "We had a fight to get Omaha placed in the Indian appropriation bill," continued the congressman. "The chairman of the Indian affairs committee, James Sherman of New York, always has been against Omaha, and at a time when Mr. Hinshaw, who is on the committee, was absent the committee decided to drop Omaha out of the bill and so reported it. Mr. Hinshaw and myself did all we could in getting the support of the republicans and I of the democrats. Mr. Sherman said he did not think Omaha should have the appropriation and he made a speech against us in the house. So did Congressman Mann. But on the vote we defeated them. I had got the support of so many democrats that the session was one of the rather unusual ones, where more democrats than republicans were present."

TO BE LAUNCHED THIS YEAR Battleship Nebraska Will Not Be Completed, Though, for Two Years. In regard to the launching of the battleship Nebraska, the Omaha chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution has received the following report from the chief of the bureau of construction and repair of the Navy department: "From the information on file it is probable that the Nebraska will be launched some time during the coming summer and will not be completed before the summer of 1906. The flag will not be required until the vessel is ready for service, but it could be presented at the date of the launching if the committee so desired. The exact date of the launching can be ascertained later by communicating with the ship's contractors."

This comes as an answer to a request by the chapter, which wished to present a silk flag. FEARS HIS END HAS COME Iowa Citizen Grows Pale When Police Surgeon Takes Hold of Him. F. W. Middleton of Modale, Ia., was found wandering around town at an early hour yesterday. He was carrying a burden of exhilarating liquors and there was a load of trouble on his mind. At the police station he told a rather inconsistent account of an alleged holdup, saying that two bold, bad men had stopped him, slugged him and then had taken $7 from him. One of his eyes showed evidence of having been in a mixup of some sort. When taken into the doctor's room Middleton had some misgivings as to the surgeon's intentions, thinking his eye was to be dissected for scientific purposes, and asked the reporters to convey the sad news of his end to his folks in Iowa.

Iowa Man Takes Hundred Shares of Mining Stock and Gets Thirty Days on Them. For the theft of 100 shares of mining stock from John F. Kennedy, J. C. Davis has been sentenced to thirty days' hard labor by Judge Berka. According to Kennedy's story he was out of work when he met Davis, who had a plan whereby both could secure employment in Iowa. Davis said he had credentials which he claimed would get both of them transportation to Iowa; Kennedy had a satchel which contained the mining shares. Kennedy wanted work and Davis wanted the shares, it is said. Davis induced his companion to get the satchel checked, but Kennedy thought it would be a wise precaution to abstract the shares first. Davis asked to see the mining paper, which he saw and kept, so Kennedy avers.

Weapon Said to Have Been Used on Husband by His Wife. Mrs. Maggie McDonald of the Cambridge hotel, Thirteenth and Capitol avenues, was arrested for cutting with intent to wound her husband, whom, it is stated, she stabbed with a knife, inflicting a severe wound of the hand. McDonald was arrested for being drunk. It is said they were having a domestic quarrel, which ended in the cutting. The injured man lost considerable blood before he was attended by the police surgeon.
