Ora and Burton Jones, who appealed from the sentence imposed on them by a justice of the peace in Rockford township for the theft of a ton of hay and whose bondsmen surrendered them, were released from the county jail yesterday. Judge Wheeler of the district court ordered that their own recognizances be accepted. It is said that the Rockford township justice exceeded his authority in sentencing the defendants to both a fine and jail imprisonment.

COURT HOLDS LAW IS GOOD

Judge McPhersen Rules on State Habitusl Griminal Act.

J. A. Gregory Must Stay in the Penitentlary for Twenty-Five Years and is Informed it Should Have Been for Life.

Judge Smith McPhurson of the United States court, in a decision handed down yesterday in the habeas corpus proceedings nstituted by J. A. Gregory to secure his release from the Fort Madison penitentlary, sustains the constitutionality of the state habitual criminal law, under which Gregory was sentenced to twenty years. On behalf of Gregory, it was contended that the law is unconstitutional, in that it in fact provided a second sentence for previous crimes expiated by the person mmitting them, by serving the sentence imposed for their commission, and, further, that it provided a punishment in excess of the punishment provided by law for the crimes separately.

In his decision Judge McPherson reviews Gregory's criminal career, and after reciting that the writ of habens corpus cannot the last day. used as an appellate proceeding by which the irregularities or errors, real or viewed, such matters being only determinable on appeal or by writ of error, says: From these authorities it will be seen

From these authorities it will be seen that a prisoner is convicted and sentenced for the one crime charged and is not convicted on account of or for the prior crime or crimes. But he is convicted of the crime charged and as belonging to a class of incorrigibles, beyond reformation, for whom punishment does no good; a class into which the accused has voluntarily brought himself, and as against whom society has the right to be protected by placing him for the balance of his life where he cannot prey upon the people. In this case it was for but twenty years, instead of for life, as it could have been.

In conclusion, the court, holding as it does, that the statute of 1898 is valid and that it is not an ex post facto law, even when construed as authorizing the pleading of a conviction of an older date than the statute, to the end of bringing him into a class of criminals designated as habitual, the writ must be denied.

COMPLAINT AGAINST A TEACHER.

Effort to Revoke Certificate of Crescent City Man. John F. Wall, teacher in one of the coun try schools north of Crescent City, is defendant in an action before County Superintendent McManus looking towards the revocation of his certificate. It is charged that Wall has acquired a general reputation such as to disqualify him to continue longer in the position of a teacher. It is alleged among other things that he has been in the habit of using tobacco in and about the school house in the presence of the pupils; that he frequented saloons and other questionable places and that he was in the habit of using improper language outside the school.

Mayor Morgan, members of the city ouncil and Fire Chief Templeton, in company with a number of the interested residents of the southern part of the city, looked over the ground yesterday afteroon for the purpose of selecting a site for the fire house to be installed in that part of the city south of Sixteenth avenue. > Place for the Incbriates. By a unanimous vote the senate adopted the bill creating a state asylum at Knoxville for the care and treatment of dipsomaniacs. The bill carries an appropriation of $125,000 and appropriates to the state for the purpose of the measure the state property already owned at Knoxville and known as the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind. The inebriates will be taken from the state insane hospitals and placed at Knoxville.

> The senate also passed a bill permitting the sale by the state of state house square, a block of land in Des Moines, situated on Eighteenth street about nine blocks from the capitol grounds. The square was given to the state several years ago by a gentleman named Stewart, who platted that section of the city, but it has never been used. In order to escape the taxation for paving and curbing, which is to come in another year, it was thought best to dispose of the property. The vote was unanimous.

A third bill which was passed by the senate today without opposition on the final vote gives the state power to sell or lease islands located within the banks of meandered streams. The Mississippi and Missouri rivers are excepted from the provisions of the bill.

Stock Shippers Get Passes. The house today decided upon giving the stock shippers of the state some of the relief which they have asked of the general assembly, and passed a bill prepared by a subcommittee to require that the railroad companies be required to furnish return passes to stock shippers. Before the bill was passed Mr. Hart moved certain amend ments, which, he stated, were agreed upon by the legislative committee of the Stock Shippers' association and the representatives of the railroad companies, and put in the form of a written and signed agreement. With these amendments the bill was passed. An effort to get the bill amended so as to give seventy-two hours, instead of thirty-six, for the starting back of the shipper was made, but this was opposed because it was not asked for by the shippers. The bill requires passes for the shippers or their agents, and one of the amendments requires the railroad companies to equip their cabooses with proper sanitary appliances.

Pass Garnishee Bill.

The bill for an exemption of wages from garnishment brought out an acrimonious discussion, participated in by Weeks, Temple, Jepson, Hart, Teter, Kendall and others. A bill was introduced by Mr. English to provide for the auditor state issuing licenses to insurance agents. Mr. Kennedy introduced a bill to provide that cities and towns may commence suits to have receivers appointed for water works, etc. A bill by Lumkin would give superintendents a right to appoint teachers' meetings and in case teachers attend their time shall not be taken out.
