do Ba. 1054 Level Fairly Representative of Conditions, NEW YORK, March 19.—Today's market discosed a lively revival of speculation and closed animated and buoyant at the top level of the day. Not only was yesterday's reaction caused by the Sully failure more than wiped out, but net gains were established for the principal active stocks running from over 1 point to 2 points. St. Paul, Heading and Sugar were the largest gainers, but there was a very large absorption of Pennsylvania and Pacifics on a rising scale. The equanimity with which the market accepted the Sully failure was the motive for the spurt of bullish enthusiasm. The events in the cotton market were viewed, in fact, with some complacency in the stock market as promising a return to a price level fairly representative of condithe stock market as promising a return to a price level fairly representative of conditions of that stapic and likely to renew demand from foreign and domestic spinners. The decrease in cash reserves of the banks and the decline in the surplus which ordinarily cause a chill to speculative enthusiasm, were also taken in good part.

The continued ease in the money market leaves unopposed the advance in the foreign exchange reates, which continued today and approached near to the point at which gold would go out to Paris. Total sales or bonds, par value, $1,105,000.

The long-expected Northern Securities decision on Monday of this week unlocked the rigid bonds which have held the stock market in a state of stagnation many weeks past. The volume of dealings has risen to more than double that of last week and prices for the principal active stocks rose from the footen last week and *Offered. past. The volume of dealings has risen to more than double that of last week and prices for the principal active stocks rose from 2 to 5 points over last week. The fact of rising prices has had the effect in itself of producing more hopeful zentiment over the outlook for values.

The advance in the prices of various lines of iron and steel products is substantial evidence of the revival in that industry and of its turn from a descending course. The breaking of the drouth in the southwest renoves a cause for anxiety which was gaining cumulative force in speculative circles and the sharp reaction in the grain and cotton markets gives hopes of a renewal of foreign purchases. The February foreign trade statement revealed how far the decline in the demand had gone and how important a bearing it was having on the balance of trade. The approach of the period for the canal payment increases the importance of this factor in the exchange market. The expected decision by soft coal miners to accept the offered wage scale is regarded with satisfaction. The shutting down of some of the anthracite mines owing to the slackened demand is of counter effect. The bond market has improved with stocks and advancing bids have been recorded for some of the high grade investment bonds. United States new 4s coupon have advanced ½ per cent, the registered and 2s, old, ½ per cent on call since last week.

RECEIPTS FOR THE YEAR TO DATE. The following list shows the receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep at South Omaha for the year to date, with comparison with last year:

Chicago Great Western Cattle. Hogs Sheep

CATTLE—There were only a few cars of cattle in the yards this morning and not many of those were on sale. The market could not be quoted any more than steady. For the week receipts have been quite liberal, as there is an increase over last week of about 7,000 head and as compared with the same week of last year the gain amounts to about 5,000 head.

The market on cornfed steers has been rather uneven all the week, prices fluctuating up and down quite rapidly. At the The market on cornied steers has been rather uneven all the week prices fluctuating up and down quite rapidly. At the close of the week, however, the general market is not over 10@15c lower than a week ago. One thing that has helped out the market his week to quite an extent has been the liberal shipping demand, which went a long way toward off-setting the liberal receipts. The most of the cattle coming forward are only of fair quality, though occasionally a well finished bunch arrives. Good to choice cattle are quotable from $4.56 to $5.00 and a strictly prime bunch would bring a little more than that. Fair to good cattle sell largely from $4.25 to $4.60 and common to fair from $4.25 to $4.60 and common to $4.25 the same course as the trade on steers. There has, however, been an exceptionally good demand for choice lightweight helfers all the week and such kinds can safely be quoted steady for the week. Canners have also shown very little change. Good heavy cows and medium grades of all weights are generally 100015c lower than at the close of last week. Canners and cutters are selling largely from $2.00 to $2.40. fair to good from $2.50 to $3.15 and good to choice from $2.50 to $3.75, with something fancy in the cow or helfer line a little higher than that.

The bull market has been dull all the week. Bologna bulls have not been hard to dispose of at prices ranging from $2.50 to $2.5. Big fat bulls have been very slow sale at from $2.50 to $3.50, or, in other words, packers do not want to pay much more for good to choice fat bulls than they do for the belogna grades. It takes something fancy to bring $3.25. Occasionally a sale will be quoted as high as $3.50, or even $2.50, but that is usually a bull that was sold in with a load of steers and weighed separately. Veal calves have been in good demand all the week at unchanged prices. They sell largely from $4.50 to $5.50, with an occasional sale at $5.75.

The stocker and feeder market was active and higher the first of the week, but closed dull an lower, as the country failed to buy the cattle at the higher prices asked. The decline amounts to fully a quarter and in a great many cases the loss is even greater than that. Good to choice cattle are selling largely from $8.00 to $4.00, fair to good from $3.40 to $3.60 and common stuff from $3.40 down.

HOGS—There was a fair run of hogs here this morning, which makes he hops of the market has been downward most all the week, and with today's decline the average cost goes below $5.00 for the first packers continued their bearish factics at this market also. The market opened extending from $300 to $2.50 lower than yesterday's general market. Trading, though was so slow that the morning was well advanced before many hogs cross to this market, though, has not been very good, which in a large measure accounts for the limited demand, but still the prices paid heres considering quality, are in line with those paid at other points.

There have been very few feeders coming forward, though occasionally a thin bunch of lambs is offered that sell to feeders for more money than the killers will give.
