Demolition of Old Building to Begin at Once and Last Service Held Enster Sunday.

A temporary tabernacle will, in all probability, be put up by Kountze Memorial congregation to serve as a place of worship until a new church can be built to replace the present building at Sixteenth and Harney streets, on which the work of destruction will begin at once, Judge Neville hav ing paid the $90,000 for its purchase and

The services of Easter Sunday will be the last held in the building. A final reception will be given the evening of the following day, April 4. The destroyers will begin on the tower and such portions of the church as will not interfere with the Easter

The tabernacie will be in the neighborhood of Eighteenth and Harney streets. The church board is waiting to confer with the eastern owner of this property to se if terms can be made. The board will rent a hall for temporary quarters. The taber nacle, according to Henry G. Harte, will be of stucco like the exposition's buildings. Judge Neville has as yet closed no contract with anyone for a building on the church lots and cannot tell what sort of building will be put up. He, however, has offered the church board a bonus if the thurch is torn down in a shorter period than the contract time, June 4. John Harte is to demolish the old house of worship.

Judge Neville also may build this year Bros. He has for a long time had in mind the building of a hotel on this corner. He will either accept some one of the offers this summer he has had from various persons who wish to buy this corner, or put up a house for hotel purposes.

SENATOR BURTON ON TRIAL

Kansan Charged with Trying to Stop Fraud Order Against Grain Company.

ALLEGED HE SOLD INFLUENCE FOR CASH

Many Witnesses Summoned on Behalf of Government and Case May Occupy Court for Balance of Week.

ST. LOUIS, March 21.-The trial United States Senator Ralph Burton, charged with having received $2,500 from the Rialto Grain and Securities company to use his influence with the Postoffice department to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the Rialto company, was be gun before Judge Adams in the United States district court today. It is considered probable that the trial will occupy the bal ance of the week.

United States District Attorney Dyer and his assistants have been preparing the gov-ernment's side of the case for several weeks and the defense has been making preparation also for some time.

Among the government's witnesses who are here are William E. Cochran, chief postoffice inspector; William A. Jones, commissioner of Indian affairs; Edward Chatterton, private secretary to Commissioner Jones; George M. Smith of the Postoffice department, and Arthur T. Brice, cashler of the Riggs National bank, Washington,

Colonel D. P. Dyer, United States district attorney, made the opening statement for the government. After reading the indictment he said that the charge against Senator Burton was based on section 1782 of the Revised Statutes of the United States. He sald:

According to the statute it is unlawful for any senator or representative to accept pecuniary fees for any service rendered to any person or concern in any matter in which the government is either directly or indirectly interested.

Judge Chester H. Krum, leading counse for the defense, followed. He said that the recapitulation of the offenses charged in the indictment is whether certain sums were received by Senator Burton from the Rialto Grain and Securities company as compensation for certain services. He admitted the employment of Senator Burton by the Rialto company,

Admits the Checks. In regard to the amounts alleged by the government to have been received by Senator Burton as compensation for services be fore a government department, Judge Krum stated that according to Senator Burton's contract as general counsel he was to be paid each month in advance, and it was in accordance with that agreement that several checks were sent to Senator

Several witnesses were put on the stand to identify letters used by inspectors as a basis for the investigation of the Rialto company. After these letters were identified court adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Campaign.

WASHINGTON: March 22 -Outside of a few routine matters the house of representatives devoted the entire day to further discussion of the postoffice appropris tion bill, but disposed of only one page of the bill. Mr. Butler (Pa.) endeavored unsuccessfully to have passed an amendment designed to transfer back to the office of the first assistant postmaster general jurisdiction of the free delivery and rural deservices, which caused Mr. Moon a motive behind it all, and that certain members, chafing under the recent report ing. of the department are seeking to punish Bristow for discovering frauds in another bureau of the department. An amendment by Mr. Tawney of Mi nesota, which was agreed to, prohibits the postmaster general from ordering put out of postoffices telephone companies other than the Bell company. An amendment by C. B. Landis (Ind.), prohibiting the further rental of cancelling machines, was adopted after a spirited debate. Mr. Babcock (rep., Wis.), rising to question of privilege, called attention to an article which appeared in a New York paper yesterday, in which he is alleged to have improperly used the mails. He said the statements he referred to were copied from a campaign book issued in his district during the late campaign, which, he

OVERSTREET WANTED THE NAMES,

Had Been Eliminated with Consent of Postmaster General Payne.

WASHINGTON, March 22.-The Bristow investigation was continued by the house committee today. First Assistant Postmaster Wynne was on the stand, and said in answer to questions, that the first knowledge he had of the list of congressmen was through a statement made by Charles N. Waters, superintendent of the salary and allowance division. The statement was made in an explanation of the appropriations for separating service. He had said that about 900 of them had been discon-

On January 25 Chairman Overstreet of the postoffice investigating committee asked for full information with reference to clerk hire and of leases which had been made to members of congress. The postmaster general requested witness to produce the list, and Mr. Waters, who was sent for by Mr. Wynne, furnished the list. Witness called the attention of the postinaster general to the list and said the names ought not to be coupled with those of Beaver and Machen. Mr. Payne assented and they were climinated, the list being sent to Mr. Overstreet without them.

Mr. Waters also explained his work of preparing the list at the request of Mr. Wynne. Subsequently, at the request of Mr. Overstreet, the list was produced and retained by the investigating committee. After the examination of Waters the committee went into executive session.

INDIAN AFFAIRS IN THE SENATE. Senator Dick of Ohio Makes His First Appearance. WASHINGTON, March 22.-The senate spent the greater part of the day on the Indian appropriation bill. Mr. Lodge took exception to the provision exempting candidates for the position of Indian agency farmer from civil service examination and on his suggestion the amendment was passed over without action. Other features arousing discussion, were those relating to the designation of Indian school superintendents as Indian agents and authorizing the payment of claims made by Indian tribes on account of the difference between the value of payments made them in greenbacks and coin payments as required by the treatles.

Late, in the day Senator-elect Dick of Ohio appeared in the senate chamber the first time since his election. He went direct to Senator Foraker's seat and was cordially greeted, but their conference was out short by the cannouncement of an executive session, from which Mr. Dick, not yet having taken the oath of office, was excluded.

FINE MAY SELL THE CATTLE DEGREES FOR GREAT MEN!

County Tressurer. WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH LEGAL TAX

If Holst is Injured His Remedy Lies in Suit at Law Against the Bondsmen of the Treasurer.

Judge Baxter in the equity court delivered his opinion in the case of J. M. Holtz against the State yesterday afternoon, wherein the plaintiff asked for a restraining order to prevent County Treasurer Fink from seizing a number of cattle to satisfy a claim for taxes. The decision was favorable to the county treasurer. It was the contention of the plaintiff that the cattle did not belong to him, but that the real title in them was vested in Chicago parties who hold a mortgage against the animals. The claim was set up that the amount of this mortgage is greater at this time than the value of the pattle, and while in reality the cattle are held in the name of Holtz they really belong to the Chicago men who hold the mortgage. For this reason, the attorney for the plaintiff argued, it would be unfair to sell the cattle which belong to other parties in order to satisfy a claim for taxes assessed against Holtz. It was also asserted by the attorney for the plaintiff that the cattle are at the present time on feed; that they are only partially fattened, and that they would not bring on the South Omaha market, where Treasurer Fink said it was his intention to dis pose of them, nearly their true value, and that consequently the owners would be heavy losers through shrinkage and otherwise, to the extent of several thousands of dollars in case the stock was driven to South Omaha and sold. Judge Baxter in rendering his decision sald in part:

The first and paramount question to decide is, Whose cattle are they? The legal title in fact and in law lies in Holtz. When we settle that fact to start with the pathway is somewhat cleared. No matter if damage does result from the setzure of the cattle. The law plainly states that the court cannot interfere in the collection of taxes unless they have been illegally levied or assessed for some unauthorized purpose. There is no allegation in the petition in this case which states that these taxes have been so levied or assessed. The question, it appears to me, to be decided is, is the county treasurer pursuing the proper course to legally collect these taxes? If he is not, the plaintiff would plainly have a cause of action against him upon his bond. This affords a remedy for relief.

An injunction will not lie in this case according to law, and therefore a court of equity has no privilege to interfere. I shall find for the defendant, and no injunction under the present petition will be issued from this court.

This leaves the case in shape so that

This leaves the case in shape so that an appeal may be asked, or suit may be entered against the county treasurer upon his bond. No notice of appeal was given

INVESTIGATING LAND FRAUDS Land Boomers Likely to Be in Hot Water Within a Short Time.

The following article in the Bioux City Tribune shows conclusively what the Pierre boomers are doing, and it has become so notorious that the government has sent inspectors to Pictre to inquire into these Learning of the land frauds that are being perpetrated in the Pierre, S. D., district, the general land office at Washington, D. C., has sent one of its shrewdist inspectors and a special agent, who have taken up their headquarters at Pierre, determined to put a stop to the wholesale grab of the public domain. ber of entrymen who have filed upon in the past year, as well as some who While entrymen will be hauled over the coals to some extent, the inspectors propose to make it bot for some of the Flerre land agents, who are said to have misrepresented the law to immigrants, or rather to speculators, who have been sending dummy entrymen into the country with a view of getting control of a good part of the land. All this will be laid pure and within a short time, the inspectors say that a short time, the inspectors say that a step of the land. All this will be laid pure and within a short time, the inspectors say that a general shaking up is due.

Most of the alleged settlers now being brought there in droves, it appears that a general shaking up is due.

Most of the alleged frauds have been perpetrated during the past year, or since the capital question has been injected into the mixups for which South Dakota is famous. But the inspectors believe that the cupility of land agents and to do with the public lands. The capital fight, of course, has given the sgents an excuse to operate to a larger extent and at the same time to do this without much protest on the part of Flerre people, who under ordinary circumsiances would not countenance it. Therefore, the inspectors will likely encounter considerable opposition in ferreting out frauds. But it will be done.

According to the inspector, he trouble at Pierre is due to land agents, some of whom advertise that a married man can prove up on a piece of land without bringing his family to the tract in question. Then, too, other entrymen are told that they have early to make settlement six months after filing, put up a shack, stay in it over night, and then come back in eight months and prove up.
