WASHINGTON, March 28.-The sundry civil bill was before the nouse today, but debate took a wide range. Mr. Gillett (Mass.) devoted considerable time to arguing some of the claims recently made the floor by Mr. Spight (Miss.) regarding the race question. He declared he had supposed that there were no social grades in the United States, but that every man pathy with himself. He defended the president for inviting Booker Washington to a man of a big heart, as well as birth, together.

breeding and cultivation. Mr. Clark (Mo.) made a speech on the tariff and declared unequivocally in favor of the tariff program of the democratic party as outlined by Mr. Williams, the floor leader of the minority. A strong plea for the tobacco growers was made by Mr. Trimble of Kentucky, who urged the removal of the tax of 6 cents a pound on raw tobacco in order that the producer might sell direct to the consumer.

Immediately after the house convened committee appointments:

Mr. Morrell (Pa.), committee on militia, chairman; Mr. Patterson (Pa.), military affairs, private land claims and enrolled bills; Mr. Alken (S. C.), pendions; Messrs. Bate (Pa.) and Bassett (N. Y.), disposition of useless papers in the treasury and other departments.

The house then went into committee of the whole for the further consideration of the aundry appropriation bul.

Gentlemen:—
I have a very bad case of throat trouble for six or seven years, and doctored continually without any good results. For two years I was under the care of specialists in that line, but at the end of that time I found my throat in as bad condition as before. A friend recommended Milks' Emulsion. I tried a box and have continued to use it for the past six months, it giving me the only relief I have ever had. Yours respectfully, Tillis Heppies, 317 N. Ninth St., October 15, 1902.

SENATE DISCUSSES PENSION BILL, Appropriation Bill for District of Columbia Goes Through. WASHINGTON, March 28 .- The genate today for three hours discussed the recent order of the pension bureau, making old age an evidence of disability, and then passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill. The discussion of the pension order was based on the resolution offered some days ago by Mr. Carmack, directing the committee on the judiclary to inquire into the authority of the executive branch of the government to make such an order.

Mr. Carmack contended that no such authority exists, but several republican senators argued that the order was in line with the regulation issued by Judge Lochren, commissioner of pensions under Mr. Cleveland, fixing 65 years of age as evidence of infirmity. They also declared that the new order would only have the effect of affording prima facie evidence of disability and not that of giving a pensio solely because the age of 62 years had been reached by the pension applicant. The following bills were passed:

Changing the counties of Lynn and Chariton in Missouri from the western to eastern judicial district of that state. Establishing a fish culture station in the state of Idaho. Authorizing the payment of pensions of inmates of government hospitals for the insane to the sup-intendent of that institutes

On motion of Mr. Gorman the senate authorized the printing of 18,000 extra copies of the decisions on the Northern Securities merger case.

Mr. Carmack's resolution directing the ommittee on judiciary to make inquiry into the right of the secretary of the interior to Issue the old-age disability pen sion order recently promulgated was then taken up by the senate and its legal phases discussed by its author. Referring to the disability pension law, he said that it re-

He characterized the order as a piece of executive legislation and criticised it as nority leader in a magizine article, the postanother instance of executive encroachment pon the prerogatives of congress.

Mr. Forager defended the order as raiseworthy one in purpose, and contended that the law gives the secretary authority to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of the statute. Mr. Foraker said his understanding of the order is that an ex-soldier does not necessarily come into pension at the age of 62, but that the fact of age is only an evidential fact which shifts the burden of proof to the government. The effect was to give a man of @ years a prima facie case before the de-

"I do not think the order extraordinary, said Mr. Foraker, in conclusion. "On the contrary, I consider it wise and prudent, and I believe that the president, the secretary of the interior, the commissioner of pensions and all who had anything to do with it are entitled to much credit." The pension resolution then was laid aside and the District of Columbia appro-

In Speech in the House He Presents Ideas Upon Which Party Would

Wage Presidential

Contest.

WASHINGTON, March 28.-Representalive Champ Clark of Missouri today added a comprehensive chapter to the campaign material of the democratic party for the coming presidential election in the delivery of a carefully prepared speech on the tariff question in the house. Mr. Clark said in opening:

"We go forth to battle with tariff reduction and genuine reciprocity, inscribed on our banner." He then drew a line of demarkation between the tariff ideas of the two parties and dwelt at some length on the "stand pat" declaration of the republicans. He called attention to the dissenting element of that party, who, he said, marched under the banner of the "lowa idea," and inferentially he classed this element as had the right to say it was a disgrace to in- democrats. He predicted the renomination vits Booker Washington to the White of President Roosevelt and conceded that the republicans "may be able, by hook and Kitchin if he had ever invited a negro to by crook to get together for this election. his table. Upon Mr. Gillett's answering but said there would be a "sloughing off of the party, which would amount to a split in the near future.

The recipracity speech of Representative blood that makes caste brought Mr. Slay- Dalzell, delivered in the house recently. was given considerable attention by Mr. The keynote of that speech, he declared to be this sentence, "Republican reciprocity is reciprocity in noncompeting articles and in nothing else."

This doctrine, he said, differed very widely from McKinley reciprocity, the foundation principle of which was expressed by President McKinley at Buffalo in these words: "We must not repose in fancled security, that we can forever sell everything and buy little or nothing." Charges Change of Front.

President Roosevelt had endorsed this McKinley idea of reciprocity, Mr. Clark asserted, by sending to the senate an extension of time for the ratification of the reciprocity treaty negotiated with France under the direction of President McKinley. This treaty contained scores and scores articles produced in France and Algerla and also in the United States, on which a reduction of tariff was provided

"If republican reciprocity on February 29, 1904." said Mr. Clark. "the day in which likened it to the mob rule spoken of by Mr. the gentleman from Pennsylvania made his speech, was what he declared it to be, then a vast change had come over the republican dream since those two republican presidents sent those treaties to the senate." The democratic position on reciprocity,

Mr. Clark stated, had been set forth by Mr. Williams, the minority leader. He said:

It is an authoritative scatement upon which we are willing to stand in the pending campaign and hereafter. It is. The democratic party believes that when on any articles that go to Cuba or any other people on the surface of the earth you get an agreement to reduce the burdens to their consumers by reducing the duties in their markets; you have conferred a benefit upon their consumers and also on the American producer because you enable the consumer in Cuba or elsewhere in any country entering into these reciprocal relations to get the product at a cheaper price. That enables them to buy more of our product. That enables those who have been buying it to buy more and enables those who have bitherto not been able to buy any to buy some, and that increases the volume of the conception of American products and benefits the American producer by enabling him to sell more goods at the old profit and thus both parties to the trade are benefited." Williams, the minority leader. He said:

Cites Action of Publishers The recent efforts of the American Pubishers' association, convened in New York to enforce the anti-trust law against the Paper trust and declaring itself in favor of removing tariff duties on pulp and white paper was discussed by Mr. Clark. This association, said he, was largely republican in membership, "but," added Mr. Clark, very much depends on whose ox is gored, and the Paper and Wood Pulp trust gores the ox of the publishers' association; hence this high kick. Of course the Paper and Wood Pulp trust is no werse than the Salt trust, the Nail trust, the Coal trust, the Lumber trust, the Beef trust and the whole brood of trusts. He declared that there is no free trade party in the United States, saying, "Whenever our stand-pat friends get into a hole they resurrect the "bogy man" of free trade and hold him in terror over the heads of the American people. Nobody knows better than they do that there is no free trade party in the United States and they ought to quit asserting that there is. We can all be honest even if we cannot be great." He quoted at length the democratic posttion as outlined by Mr. Williams, the mi-
