

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE. E. ROSEWATER, EDITOR. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year $4.00...

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION. There is little in the present situation to encourage democrats to hope for success in the coming presidential election.

A GOOD EXPORT RECORD. While domestic trade for several months past has not been so active as during the corresponding period a year ago, the statistics regarding the exports of manufactures make a highly satisfactory showing.

ROUND ABOUT NEW YORK. It took a New York jury less than two minutes last Monday to agree on a verdict for $75,000 against James N. Abel for trifling with the altitudes of Miss Anderson.

THE IDEAL RAILROAD SENATOR. Short Discussion on the Rise and Fall of Burton of Kansas. William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette, discusses in the Chicago Tribune the latest political tragedy in Kansas as follows:

THAT PAIN IN THE SIDE. There's nothing that will give such speedy relief and cure and at the same time strengthen the side and restore energy as an Alcock's Porous Plaster.

THE DELIVERING CARRIER. Omaha-The Bee Building, South Omaha-City Hall Building, Twenty-fifth and M streets, Council Bluffs-19 Pearl Street, Chicago-160 Trinity Building, New York-222 Park Row Building, Washington-50 Fourteenth Street.

It is an interesting fact in the situation that the so-called conservative wing of the democracy wants a candidate for president who will have the support of the trust magnates—a man as to whom the combinations can be assured that he will not be, if elected, particularly diligent or zealous in requiring them to comply with the laws and punishing them if they do not.

ADMIRAL DEWEY AND THE NEGROES. The story widely circulated to the effect that Admiral Dewey did not land at San Domingo because he was a colored man, is a lie and because the Marquis would have had to pass through a narrow stream over which the insurgents were firing on that day.

THE CHILDREN OF THOMAS L. WATT. The children of Thomas L. Watt, a millionaire horseman and banker of 16 Fifth Avenue, entertained the friends of their society on Friday afternoon recently at one of the most elaborate parties that have been given for little folk hereabout in many months.

THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE IS COMING TO BE regarded with something like veneration by New Yorkers. It has paid for itself in a thousand times, and it still nobly bears a weight of traffic five times greater than the designers promised.

PERSONAL NOTES. Dowie says King Edward has no religion to spare. This is taking a mean advantage. The king couldn't say the same thing about Dowie.

SMILING LINES. "What are the city detectives doing now?" "Oh, we have them hard at work investigating each other."—Chicago Post.

FOUNDRYING RUSSIAN ENMITY. The semi-official newspaper at St. Petersburg is a vigilant and persistent enemy of this country and has been doing all it can to create sentiment in Russia hostile to the United States.

NO THREAT TO PROSPERITY. Futile Attempts of Democrats to Create a Diversion. Democrats both in and out of congress are doing their best to belittle the importance of the Northern Securities decision.

ONE OF THE PETS OF NEW YORK IS the seasons grinder. Most of these street mechanics go around blowing bugles or cornets, though just why they announce their coming in this manner no one seems to understand.

SHARONK I, THE CHALLENGER. INTO WHICH Sir Thomas Lipton put $250,000, is being torn to pieces preparatory to going into junk dealers' hands.

SONGS MY MOTHER SANG. I hear them in the whispering winds, The forest's rhythmic strain, The chiming of bells, that sink and swell, The patter of the rain.

Easter Lilies Given Away! See Ad in Evening Paper. Browning King & Co. R. S. WILCOX, Mgr. "A wise man in a crowded street wins his way by gentleness." Quietly and gently.
