

SEEKS SAFETY IN PRISON

Paroled Convict Gives Himself Up to the Warden Voluntarily.

COULDN'T TRUST HIMSELF OUTSIDE

Taste for Tangletoe Too Strong for Peter Carroll, Who Returns to Penitentiary to Escape Temptation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 2.—(Special.)—Peter Carroll, sentenced to the penitentiary from Douglas county for three years for burglary, who was paroled to S. M. Melick some time ago, has returned to the penitentiary. Carroll went back voluntarily, so the report of Warden Beemer says, and the reason is that he could not resist the temptation to get on the outside of strong drink. A number of the convicts paroled here in Lincoln have recently been giving the Lincoln police considerable trouble, and as a result Governor Mickey is conducting an investigation. While a majority of the paroled ones have caused no trouble, Governor Mickey is seriously considering the advisability of granting the parole only to those prisoners who have families that are dependent upon them.

The report of Warden Beemer filed with the secretary of state today shows that on March 31 there were in the penitentiary 221 convicts. Of these 15 are employed by the Lee Broom and Duster company. During the month there were received sixteen, one was returned from parole, five were paroled and eight were discharged. Those paroled are: Oscar E. Jackson, Saline county; Henry Smith, Saline county; Fred Johnson, Saline county; John Burrell, Saline county; Harry Welch, Saline county; Michael Mosek, attempt to criminally assault, three and a half years, from Platte county; Eddie Mason, grand larceny, eighteen months, Nemaha county; William W. Allen, grand larceny, do great bodily harm, two years; John Anderson, possessing burglary tools, twenty-two months; Frank Curtis, same, twenty-two months, from Lancaster county; Louis Sorenson, grand larceny, one year; Albert Ed Smith, burglary, two and a half years; Henry Smith, burglary, one year; Fred Johnson, burglary and larceny, four and a half years, from Douglas county; Charles E. Holmes, grand larceny, one and a half years, from Jefferson county.

Ten prisoners were sent to the dungeon and made to forfeit good time for breaking the rules of the institution. The average cost per capita per day in the guardhouse kitchen was 34 cents and in the convicts' kitchen the average cost was 74 cents.

Booming Lincoln's Business.

Business men of Lincoln intend to form an organization of customers out in the state for the purpose of advertising Lincoln as a wholesaler and incidentally to do some more trade for the merchants here. At a meeting held last night in the Commercial club rooms this plan of organization was presented and practically agreed upon, though another meeting will be held April 9 to thoroughly go into the matter. The business men will work in conjunction with the railroads to get people to come here, the former to form an organization of out-of-town people to include at least 200 members and the latter to grant a special rate of one and one-fifth fare on certain dates for the members of the organization to come to Lincoln. The membership card will entitle the holder to the rebate in rates on the date named. M. Ackerman, who introduced the plan; R. M. Joyce and W. H. Honey were appointed to solicit more members, and E. E. Henkle, Charles Hermann and M. Waugh were appointed to perfect specifications for a permanent organization.

Muddle Over a Corpse.

The University of Nebraska and the Lincoln Medical college were on the brink of a "tiff" fight this morning and C. H. Hamley of the office of the state superintendent spent several hours of nervous apprehension, finally winding up in a blaze of righteous wrath all because someone trifled with him about the disposition of a cadaver.

Under the law it is the duty of State Superintendent Fowler, who is secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy, to designate to what college unidentified dead bodies are to be sent. By an agreement with the colleges the superintendent distributes the bodies in rotation and according to his rule this last one should have gone to the University of Nebraska.

Someone knew of this arrangement and also that the body was expected to arrive in Lincoln today. To start the ball rolling he called up Mr. Hamley, who was in charge of the superintendent's office, and said the cadaver had arrived and would be brought to the state house or to any place designated by the clerk. The caller was promptly ordered to take it to the university. In a short time another call rang in at the superintendent's office, and this time the caller was supposed to be at the university. He informed the clerk that the cadaver had arrived, but that the university did not want it and had therefore ordered the driver to take it to the state house. While Hamley was looking out the window expecting the arrival of the dead wagon someone else called up and represented himself to be the driver of the dead wagon. He was a very indignant man, according to the things he said, and he was very tired of hauling a cadaver all over town. He was then headed for the state house, he said, and would be there shortly. Hamley coaxed and pleaded, but the driver was firm.

In order that the cadaver would not be left on his hands Hamley called up the Lincoln Medical college and to the man in charge he presented the cadaver. About this time half a dozen inquiries began to arrive, presumably from the university, asking for the cadaver and inquiring as to many of the Lincoln Medical college, presumably demanding to know the cause of the delay in the arrival of their subject. Finally in his despair, seeing a fight pending between the two schools, Hamley called Dr. Carr of the Medical college and told him of his predicament and the doctor released him from his promise. About the time Hamley got the matter straightened out he learned that the cadaver was not expected to arrive here until late this evening.

Burlington's Shop Force.

Reports that have reached Omaha lately to the effect that the Burlington in Lincoln is systematically cutting down its force, is denied at headquarters most emphatically. An engine man at Lincoln was asked concerning the report and he, too, denied that the force was materially smaller than at this time last year. At the office of the superintendent of motive power it was reported that at Havelock, where nearly 60 men are employed, practically no change has occurred during the entire year. At none of the offices or among the employees could there be found any foundation for the report that the Burlington was having any trouble with its employees.

Probably the reason for the report that a systematic cutting down was in progress was due to the laying off of about 160 men since the holidays. A large number of these men were employed extra and are only used at times of a rush of work. Immediately after the holidays and just preceding much of the work of the company was stopped and consequently, as the road does every year, it let out a number of men.

Of the 160 men recently let out about ninety were of the supply department. Sixty of the ninety were coal shovellers employed to unload company fuel and when the work was finished there was nothing else for them to do. The remaining thirty were let out from the Salt Creek material yards. The work in these yards has been unusually heavy all winter, but becomes slack now because there is nothing doing in the line of improvements of roadbeds and track and there is little demand for material.

Of the remainder some were cut out of the section gang and a switch crew or two were cut off; some were cut off in the carpenter and bridge departments and the local roundhouse. A large number were let out of the bridge department because there is just at this time little work being done on bridges. In the train and engine departments, both passenger and freight, the reduction is said to be very small and not more than is customary at the dull season of the year. By reason of the slack business a number of men have been put on the extra list, though they have not been let out.

The freight department let out a number of men immediately after the holidays, but recently many of these have been taken back, and if there is any change in this department in the number of men employed the force is larger than it formerly was. In the headquarters and at the yard office and store department the services of a few office men have been dispensed with, but this is said to be simply the ordinary reduction during periods of dull traffic.

It is to be a social, fraternal and benevolent organization. Amusement, reading and friendly discussions are recorded as the objects of its formation. The home of the club will be at Lincoln park. The limit of the life of the organization is placed at ten years.

The Hallam Imported Percheron Horse company has filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The capital stock of the concern is placed at $5,000. Charles T. Burk, John Rippen, A. F. Schwake, John Brinkman, Albert Gieseler, C. F. Temple, Charles Hoe and Elbert Schneider are the incorporators.

SOUTHEAST NEBRASKA TEACHERS.

Closing Day More Largely Attended Than Any Other.

BEATRICE, Neb., April 2.—(Special.)—The closing day of the Southeastern Nebraska Educational association was the largest attended of any during the session, the enrollment being 280. The session yesterday consisted of short addresses by some of the members of the association followed with discussions on the various subjects. At the forenoon session an amendment to the constitution was adopted providing for the election of officers by a nomination committee consisting of a representative from each county in the association. A resolution was also passed recommending the executive committee to accept the invitation of the Beatrice Commercial club to meet in this city next year, and it is quite likely that the association will make Beatrice a permanent meeting place. Another resolution was also read and unanimously adopted by the association thanking the teachers and citizens of Beatrice for the cordial manner in which the members had been entertained during their brief stay in the city.

At the afternoon session the nominating committee reported on the election of the following officers, the report being unanimously adopted: President, W. L. Stephens, Lincoln; vice president, Olive Truss, Fairbury; secretary, Anna V. Day, Beatrice; treasurer, J. C. Waddell, Pawnee City. Executive committee, W. R. Hart, Peru; N. Sinclair, Nebraska City; W. L. Stephens, Lincoln; Anna V. Day, Beatrice. The meeting closed at 8 o'clock, and in all respects it has been one of the most important gatherings of the kind held in this city for many years.

The Crabtree Forensic club of this city tendered a reception to superintendents, principals and teachers in the auditorium of the library building from 8 to 9 p. m., immediately following the final adjournment of the association.

As a fitting close to the educational meeting the inter-high school debate was held in the First Presbyterian church in the evening. Eight schools were represented in the contest, and the question debated was, Resolved, That the United States is justified in its action toward the Panama republic. The respective champions appeared as follows: Affirmative—Beatrice, Samuel Rinker; Wynome, Miss Robertine Joiner; Pawnee City, Virgil Kirkpatrick; Wilber, J. B. Harvey; Negative—Falls City, Harry Gardner; Nebraska City, James Brown; Humboldt, Edward Hodapp; Fairbury, Ned Nash.

Each speaker was limited to ten minutes, and at the close of the contest the judges decided in favor of the negative, which announcement was greeted with applause. The judges were J. M. Howie of Peru, E. H. Clark of Lincoln, H. P. Fairbanks of Lincoln, and C. W. Doolittle of Lincoln. The following individual places in the debate were announced: First, Sam Rinker, Beatrice; second, Harry Gardner, Falls City; third, J. B. Harvey, Wilber; fourth, James Brown, Nebraska City. After the decision of the judges was announced many friends crowded around to congratulate the debaters. The music was furnished by the high school orchestra of this city.

Business Men Plan Summer Carnival.

HASTINGS, Neb., April 2.—(Special.)—Hastings will advertise another carnival this year, between June 27 and July 2. It will be under the auspices of the business men.

Settle Chairmanship Amicably.

Ross Hammond moved that the report be amended by making Holbrook of Maple Creek chairman of the delegation. Several points under points of order were announced and the following discussion followed, which was finally amicably settled with the selection of Holbrook as chairman of the state delegation, C. D. Marr of the congressional delegation and J. M. Kreader of the senatorial delegation.

We heartily endorse the administration of Theodore Roosevelt. Grounded on high moral principles, he is the first president who has conducted the affairs of his high office in obedience to the law and in the interests of the people. We confidently expect his perfect fidelity from every official and exposing and punishing the delinquent. We respectfully approve his faithful work in putting the building of the Panama canal, which will prove of incalculable advantage to the commerce of the whole world, and strengthen the projections of the coast line of our country. We confidently expect his election by an overwhelming majority.

We commend the administration of Governor Mickey and his faithful work and worthy of the support of the best citizenship of Nebraska. The good work in congress by our Congressman, J. J. McCarthy, and we congratulate him upon the certainty of a unanimous nomination and his election as a reward for his faithful and efficient service.

Declare Faith in Eaton.

We present H. M. Eaton, candidate for commissioner of public lands and buildings, to the consideration of the republicans of the state. As deputy he has proved his claim in all respects for the highest place. We declare our faith in his integrity and our knowledge of his qualifications for a creditable performance of official duties. The delegates to the state conventions are hereby instructed to do everything in their power to honorably secure his best efforts to declare our faith in his integrity and our knowledge of his qualifications for a creditable performance of official duties.

We endorse the recommendation of the central committee for a convention nominating for United States senator one who believes the plan to be suggested by expediency and be a guarantee of the whole world, and strengthen the projections of the coast line of our country. We confidently expect his election by an overwhelming majority.

Want the Roll Called.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted. After this action a delegate moved that the roll of wards and precincts be called on the adoption of the resolutions. The chair declined him out of order. Mr. Eaton thought the convention ought to pass on the resolution and he wanted the roll called. He was not aware, he said, that a vote had been taken. As a matter of fact a large number of the delegates were opposed to the senatorial resolutions.
