

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Taxpayers Getting Wise to Situation in Local Politics.

ED JOHNSTON RULE IS NOT WANTED

People Who Own Property Do Not Relish Idea of Turning the Assessment Over to Hecctor's Boss.

"What we want to know," said a well known democrat last night in talking over the political situation with a local reporter, "is who will have charge of the assessment when the Board of Review looks over the list as turned in by the tax commissioner."

This remark was brought about by the statement made at democratic headquarters that Ed Johnston is to be the boss if Hecctor is elected mayor.

Continuing in this line, this prominent democrat said: "Should Tom Hecctor be elected mayor, everyone knows that Johnston will remain in South Omaha and continue his old-time tactics."

The question of taxes is of vital importance to the city of South Omaha, and a voter last night, "and it behooves every taxpayer to stick to Koutsky and O'Neil, as by doing so there is a certainty that the assessments will be made properly and no partiality shown."

Among those who make wagers on the result of the election there was a difference in Hecctor affairs yesterday. For a number of days wagers had been laid that

SUNDAY GAME IN COLD WIND

Beats and Originals Play Ball Under Disastrous Conditions.

PA'S FAMILY WINS WITHOUT MUCH EFFORT

Thousands People Shiver in the Seats While the Teams Lam the Leather and Run the Bases.

A wind that would have been a credit to January instead of April whistled around the bleachers and grand stand at the Vinson street ball grounds Sunday, when for the second time this year the brand new Omaha team took to its cudgel and proceeded to thump a victory over the Fred Bradford's old-time Originals.

Two years ago when Frank Koutsky was elected mayor he received 3,115 votes. William Henry Leochner, the democratic candidate, received 1,486 votes. Sloane, the independent candidate, polled 67 votes. Salmon, the socialist candidate, received only 30 votes and J. C. Carley, the petition candidate, managed to get under the wire with 15 votes.

These figures show a total of 4,311 votes. It is expected this spring that the vote will reach 5,000 as the city has grown a great deal in the last two years.

Democrats Disgraced. The issue of the Western Laborer, published in Omaha, has this to say of the political situation in South Omaha: "After the election is over the union democrats of South Omaha should find out who invited the great labor crusher, Talking Delegate T. J. Mahoney, to come down to South Omaha with his Adamantine gait and insult them. On election day hand it to Mahoney's candidate and then rub it as to the cause after election."

At democratic headquarters it is given out as a matter of fact that Ed Johnston, the manager of the Hecctor campaign requested Mr. Mahoney to come to South Omaha and deliver an address in favor of the corporations. Mr. Mahoney is attorney for a number of the big corporations in the Magic City.

Permanent Teachers List.

The utmost interest is being shown in the school board campaign by the friends of good school government, and the indications are that both Mr. C. Rich and Mr. J. C. Knight will be elected by good majorities.

Only Lavery, Morrill and Beck remain on the board. If the democrats were elected it is predicted that Member Beck would be combined with the republican members of the board, and a great many people fear to have such a thing happen in the light of recent events.

One of the promises the republicans make which is most effective is the establishment of a permanent teachers' list, which was already started during the present year. They also favor, in the employment of teachers, giving preference to South Omaha young women, and this coming June it is expected that a large number of South Omaha girls who pass the examinations will be put on the force to stay.

As stated, the permanent teachers' list was practically adopted during the present year through the efforts of Morrill and Lavery, and should Rich and Knight be elected it will be put into effect at once.

It is this assurance of continued good school government that the people like. Many democrats assert that they will vote for both Rich and Knight because they believe that it will save them money in taxes and that the schools will be far better off. They also claim that Knight and Rich are the best bits for the school board of any of the candidates.

Republican Rally Tonight.

There will be a meeting of republicans at Frank's hall, Twenty-third and S streets, tonight. All candidates will be expected to be present, as this will be the closing meeting of the campaign. A number of local speakers have been invited to be present and deliver short addresses. Every republican interested in the present campaign is invited to attend this meeting tonight. This meeting will be under the auspices of the Swedish-American and the Norwegian-American Republican clubs.

Mexican Cattle Coming.

Forty cars of cattle from New Mexico arrived at the stock yards, these cattle are bound for the ranges in the north and northwest. Officials at the stock yards have advised that thirty trains of cattle from New Mexico and Arizona will go through here within the next few weeks. These cattle are unloaded here and fed and watered and given an opportunity of resting for a few hours before being shipped north. So far the shipments from the southwest have shown up well, the cattle standing the journey nicely.

Maize City Goals.

The best butcher's union will give a ball at Workman temple this evening. Tom Harris is out again after being confined to his home by a severe attack of the flu. Frank's file is home for a few days. He intends remaining here until after election.

No business of importance was transacted at the meeting of the library board on Saturday.

Class I. Talbot leaves this afternoon for Cheyenne to attend a meeting of the Northwestern Cattle Growers' association. The city council is billed for a meeting tonight. It is expected that an adjournment until the following week will be taken on account of the city election to be held on Tuesday.

Some cases in the city were arrested Saturday by Chief Briggs for illegal registration. Jay Lavery, chairman of the republican central committee, proposes to prosecute the cases in police court today.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird" at the Boyd.

Paul Gilmore in Isaac Henderson's play, in four acts, by this name, presented by Jules Murry. The cast: Paul Gilmore, Signor D'Orrell, Bennett Southard, Commander Lord Ronalds, E. N. ...

William Henderson, Harry Levin, Jack Howard, Harry Crandall, Bill Hopkins, Harry Crandall, Bill Hopkins, Mary Blake, Kathie Morse, Aunt Polly Higgins, Miss Germaine, Widow Cullum, Mrs. Mary B. Henderson.

Familiarity with "David Harum," both in the book form and in the acting version prepared by the Hitchcocks from the Westcott novel, is presupposed, and this will have to do solely with the company now playing at the Krag play in a most natural way. Mr. Turner, who leads the cast, is an actor of established ability, and brings to the part of David Harum the result of much original thought. When one star follows another in a role with which the creator has become so large an extent personally identified as in the case with Mr. Crane and David Harum, it is but natural to institute comparisons and to search out traces of imitation. Mr. Turner suffers little by comparison with Crane. He gives us an original and quite satisfactory conception of the character of the shrewd old horse trader, one that is well rounded and carefully explained, and this without copying from the Crane conception except in those little incidents wherein the limitations of the part absolutely force a single conclusion as to the values. Mr. Turner has a quaint humor of his own, and deals with the situations in which Harum found himself during the action of the Krag play in a most natural and sufficiently strong to give the comedy intelligently. Mr. Walker, who plays John Lenox a very manly young fellow, and Miss Morse's Mary Blake is also very good. Mr. Simpson has a proper notion of the character of General Wooley, and Miss Germaine's Aunt Polly is a clever piece of character work. As a whole the comedy is very well rendered without being enjoyed by the large audiences present yesterday. The bill will remain unchanged until after Wednesday evening, with the usual matinee on Wednesday.
