Plans for Land Campaign. ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.-While the first line of defense against the Japanese advance from Corea is a strong position selected by General Kouropatkin, near Feng Huang Cheng, it is believed the Russians intend to hold out as long as possible at An Tung, which commands the Peking road. The place has many natural advantages for defense. Keneral Kuroki's army, according to Russian advices, is strung out along the road between Anju and Whu, its advances being severely impeded by had roads, which make it difficult to push forward the supplies, which are dragged by coolies, requiring eight days' march from Chong Ju to the Yalu. seventy miles the river is 500 fathoms wide and at Yongampo it is ice laden and barred by islands, where the Russian sharpshooters

COUNCIL BLUFFS GIVEN 29,171 PEOPLE

Twenty-Two States Only Rave Less Then a Million Inhabitants and Fourteen Exceed Two Million.

WASHINGTON, April 7 .- The census oureau today issued a bulletin which gives the estimated population of the United States for 1903, exclusive of Alaska and the insular possessions of the United States, at 79,900,389. This is an increase of 3,905,814 since the census of 1909. The population is estimated for 438 cities Having 10,000 or more inhabitants in 1900. According to these estimates New York is now a city of 3,716,130 inhabitants; Chicago has 1,873,830; Philadelphia, 1,367,716; St. Louis has just passed and Boston has almost reached the 600,000 mark; Baltimore has 521,313.

In the number of towns and cities having over 10,000 inhabitants Massachusttes is in the lead with forty-seven, centaining a total of 2,197,706 inhabitants. Considered by states, New York leads in population, with more than 7,500,000; Pennsylvania, 6,500,000; and Illnois has passed 5,000,000; Texas has over 3,000,000, having passed Missouri. But twenty-two states now have less than 1,000,000 inhabitants and fourteen exceed 2,000,000. The estimates are made in a bulletin giving estimates of population in 1901, 1902 and 1903 for all cities of 10,000 inhabitants or more in the United States.

New Census Method, An official bulletin accompanying the pulletin says the bureau of the census has decided to make annual estimates of population on what is known as the arithmetical method. This rests on the presumption that the annual increase for each year since the last census will be one-tenth of the decennial increase between the last two censuses. The country as a whole and a host of the states and cities are growing with a steadily increasing per cent of increase. As this condition has obtained in the United States for the last twenty years it is likely to hold good in the immediate future. The following are the estimates of the population in 1903 of cities given 25,000 and
