

CHANGES ON DISTRICT BENCH

Judge Sears Takes Baxter's Equity Court on Advent of Bartlett.

LATTER PREFERENCES LAW DOCKET FOR START

Day May Be Transferred from Criminal Department, but Lawyers Stereally Protest Against the Proposed Change.

Judge E. M. Bartlett was at the county court house bright and early to assume his new duties as the successor of Judge Baxter on the bench of the district equity court number 5. Prior to his taking them up, however, a meeting of the judges was held to make a new assignment of judges to the various courts for the May term, at which Judge Bartlett identified his preference for a law rather than an equity docket, and accordingly, after the conclusion of the February term he will take Judge Baxter's equity court and the latter will take Judge Bartlett's place on the bench of number 5. There is also a rumor that Judge Day will be transferred from the bench of the criminal court to some other position.

The entire time of the criminal court was taken up with the arraignment of the new jury to serve the remainder of the February term and the granting of excuses for one reason and another. The present jury will be asked to serve but two weeks instead of three, as has been required of previous juries. In the afternoon the trial of Chambers, the colored man who is alleged to have killed his brother at the Des Moines hotel in South Omaha last fall, will be begun.

COMES TO SERVE SENTENCE

Anarchist Who Went to England Releases His Bondsmen from Dilemma.

NEW YORK, April 11.—William McQueen, the anarchist who is under a five-year sentence in New Jersey for inciting the silk trade riots in Paterson in June, 1902, arrived today on the St. Paul from Southampton, traveling under an assumed name. Tuesday he will surrender himself to the sheriff of Passaic county in order to serve his sentence, from which he had appealed in vain. McQueen left America while under $10,000 bail and in so doing is said to have caused his bondsmen not a little trouble, but this matter seems to have been satisfactorily adjusted. He says he means, if possible, to blot out the stain which has been placed on his name.

At the steamship pier McQueen was met by his counsel, Robert P. Geyer of Paterson and had a long conference with him. To reporters McQueen said his connection with the Paterson riot had been misrepresented; that instead of inciting the mob to violence he had used his utmost endeavors to pacify the people. He also denied that he was in any way at any time connected with Bressel, the assassin of King Humbert of Italy.

Asked if it was true that a movement was on foot in England to have his case brought to the attention of the United States government with a view of mitigating the sentence or dismissing the indictment, McQueen said: "Yes, but I am surprised to know that the information reached America ahead of me."

NO CHANGE BY BAXTER NOW

Rush Will Remain Assistant United States Attorney Until New Chief is Instructed.

No immediate change will be made in the personnel of the office force of the United States district attorney for the immediate present. Assistant District Attorney Rush will remain for the present to assist District Attorney Baxter. Stenographer John Lindsey tendered his resignation Saturday evening to Judge Baxter, but has been asked to remain in the office in his old capacity for another week. Former District Attorney Summers has introduced his successor, Judge Baxter, to the heads of the military departments at army headquarters.

Rev. J. A. Binagamen has returned from Lincoln, where he went as a member of a committee to investigate charges made against Rev. Joseph D. Underwood, pastor of the Zion Baptist church of that city. A stepdaughter has accused Mr. Underwood of being the father of her child. After a full investigation the committee found that Mr. Underwood is entirely innocent of the charge, the girl recanting her first statement, and giving the name of her seducer. Her second story is supported by her mother's testimony, and by letters. The girl says she was induced by relatives to accuse her stepfather.
