United States Court Holds State Supreme in Merger Care.

VICTORY

LOWER COURT HAD NO JURISDICTION

ern Securities Could Not Re Reached by the State Laws.

WASHINGTON, April 11.-The United States supreme court today decided the case of the State of Minnesota against the Northern Securities Company and the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railway companies, involving the validity of the merger of the two railroad companies, holding that it is without furisdiction and reversing the decision of the court below. Justice Harlan, who delivered the opinon, said that the circuit court should not have entertained jurisdiction in the case, the effect being to remand the case to the ST. PAUL, Minn., April 11.—The supreme court decision in the case of Minnesota against the merger is considered by the state's legal officers as a virtual victory for the state, although it puts the litigation back exactly where it was when the suit was first begun. This was the original sult against the merger, begun before the federal government began its action. It was transferred from the state to the federal court. Judge Lochren, in the federal district court, took jurisdiction without much question and decided the case on its merits against the state. The United States supreme court now says virtually that Judge Lochren should not have assumed jurisdiction, much less decided that the merger was a legal corporation that could not be reached by the laws of Minnesota. The suit now goes back to the state courts. The attorney general's office, in view of the dissolution of the merger ordered by the supreme court, may decide to drop the Not a Criminal Proceeding.

In delivering the decision of the court Justice Harlan cited the facts bearing on the origin and history of the case, saying that originally the suit was instituted by the state in its own court, but that before an opinion could be reached there it was, on petition of the Securities company transferred to the circuit court for the district of Minnesota, by which court it was dismissed. Much controversy arose over the right to remove to the federal court, and after hearing the case argued once the supreme court ordered a second hearing on that point.

Justice Harlan called attention to the fact that the preceeding was for the purpose of enforcing both the state laws and the federal anti-trust act, saying that the circuit court could not have taken jurisdiction if only the state statutes had been involved. Taking up the federal law and analyzing its provisions he said it was clear that the case did not belong to any of the classes provided for by it. He said:

An additional rural route has been crdered established May 16 at Dayton, Webster county, Ia.; route embraces an area of Former Secretary Gées to St. Paul to Represent Hill in Court.

ST. PAUL, April 11 .- Elihu Root, former secretary of war, arrived here today to take up his work in connection with the matter to be argued before the United States court for the district of Minnesota tomorrow, as to whether the petition on the part of the Harriman interests for leave to intervene in the settlement of the Northern Securities company affairs shall be denied or granted.

He was driven to J. J. Hill's home for luncheon, after which he joined Francis Lynde Stetson of New York, John G. Johnson of Philadelphia, E. D. Grover, general counsel of the Great Northern railway, and W. Bunn, general counsel of the Northern Pacific, in the consultation room of the iegal department of the Great Northern While these gentlemen were ranged about long table with Mr. Hill at its head talking to them with upraised finger, a mersenger brought to the door a telegram giving the result of the United States supreme court decision in the case of the state of Minnesota against the Northern Securities company. How this message was received or what was said is not known, as neither accessible for an interview. The motion of E. H. Harriman and Winslow Pierce for leave to file a petition of intervention in the case of the United States against the Northern Securities company, will come to hearing before the United States court for the district tomorrow. The court will be composed of Judge Walter H. Sanborn, St. Paul, who will preside, Judge Amos M. Thayer of St. Louis, Judge William Vandevanter of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Judge William C. Hook of Leavenworth. The first question for consideration will whether Messrs. Harriman and Pierce will be permitted to file their petition. If that is decided in the affirmative, further proceedings in the regular order may be had. If it is denied, it will probably end the proceedings and the suit of the United States against the Northern Securities com pany will stand as it did before the motion for leave to intervene was filed.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY.

The Woman's club will celebrate the eleventh anniversary of its organization Saturday afternoon, April 23, with a reception at 2:30 o'clock in the club rooms. This announcement was made at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the club, together with other miscellaneous business that occupied the business hour. There will be no program aside from the music and each of the thirteen departments will appoint two representatives to act as an assisting commit

A note was read from Mr. Waterhouse of the high school in response to an inquiry by the educational committee concerning the introduction of civil service into the curriculum of the high school. Mr. Waterouse thought that while it might be introduced as a supplementary study, it was not advisable to displace any other study to make room for it. Considering the importance attached to this subject, the club roted, instructing its committee to do all in its power to have the study introduced.

Among other business was the endorse nent of the effort to preserve the Colorado cliff dwellings being made by the Cliff Dwellings association; a contribution to the und for the erection of a library building at Atoka, I. T., a plan supported by the Ploneer club, an organization of twenty women of that place, and the endorsement of the effort of the Civic Improvement league to prevent the placing of combination advertising and street sign boards on the street corners and to secure an ordinance regulating the erection of bill boards about the city. It was also decided to engage Mr. James Young, leading man with Viola Allen, for a lecture the afternoon of May 3 on "The Defense of Shylock." admission fee of 10 cents will be charged and the lecture held in the auditorium of the First Congregational church. The program of the afternon was presented by the department of English history, Mrs R. E. McKelvey, leader. It included a vocal duete by Mrs. A. L. Sheetz and Mrs. B. Donovan, Miss Hancock, accompanist a monologue by Miss Lilian Fitch and an address. "The Development of the English Government by the People," by Mr. C. E.

The musical department of the Woman's club will present a Liza Lehmann program Friday morning at 10:30 in the clubrooms.

The women of the First Congregational church have announced a sale and dinner for Wednesday in the church parlors.

The credentials committee of the local biennial board is evidently anticipating rouble through the change in the constitution at Los Angles by which the presi dents of clubs are no longer delegates to the biennial convention by virtue of their office. To be made delegates they will have to be regularly elected just as other delegates are. Mrs. Charles LeRoy Moss, chairman of the press committee, has issued the following announcement:

chairman of the press committee, has issued the following announcement:

Miss Taussig, chairman, reports that the credential committee for the seventh blennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has sent out letters of instruction and credential blanks to the presidents of state federations and to presidents of federated clubs. Since a president is no longer by virtue of her office a delegate to the convention an additional card was sent to each president, which will serve as her credential to the meetings of the council and will give her a seat in the convention, without, however, giving her the full rights of a regularly accredited delegate. In order to have a vote in the convention and to be seated with the delegates she must be duly appointed and accredited by her clib or federation.

Similar cards of admission have been sent to federation seefcturies and members of standing and special committees, who are also given seats in the convention, but are not entitled to vote.

The voting body of the seventh blennial is limited to the officers and directors of the General Federation and to regularly accredited delegates.

The hotel committee reports that early in Aprill it will distribute 10,000 or more blennial guides to the club women of the country. This souvenir booklet of sixty-four pages, ix7 inches, will contain news for visiting club women, indexes for local points of interest, invitations from institutions and organizations, the program of the seventh blennial as far as completed at the time the guide is issued and notices from

SEASONABLE FASHIONS

LADIES' BLOUSE AND SKIRT. Nos. 6073-6098-Never has there been a season when new, original ideas in blouses were so much in demand as at the present time. The shirt waist girl was never in a happier mood; she swings out of one season into another with the gratifying knowledge that the shirt waist has lost none of its vogue, but instead, something newer and prettier is being brought out each day. In the charming design shown here she will find much to admire. The blouse is made in the Russian style, although the opening is a little beyond the center front. The waist proper is finished by shaped bands, which are stitched in tucked style, the center one being in the front. This affords a place for a little. riginality in making. The waist might be made of a pale shade of flue cloth, the second band be of a darker shade and the last band will outline the design, and the effect will be most charming. A more simple waist would be to make the entire waist alike and trim with stitching. The sleeve is of bishop shaping, attached to an exceedingly pretty cuff, lengthened by shaped bands to correspond with the waist, The pattern is very simple, as the shaped bands are notched so that one will have no difficulty in placing them in proper position. The waist is made by front, in the small of my back. Reading adverback, sleeve, cuff, coliar, peplum belt and shaped bands. Any of the mercerized cottons, waistings of wool or silk will be sulted to the mode. A pretty idea would be to edge the bands with a different colored material, forming pipings or cording, which is very effective in the finishing of a waist. Among the new skirt models none are prettier than the flounce skirts. In the design shown here the skirt is supported by a five-gored foundation skirt, to which is attached the two circular sections. The mode is very pretty for separate skirt and may be decorated by braid, stitching or bands. The flounce skirts are the newest style and hid fair to be the most popular in a long time. It is a style that is especially suited to the light, clinging materials that are so much in vogue at the
