

REFUSED LIFE INSURANCE ON ACCOUNT OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

William F. Montgomery, the Largest Coal Merchant of Albany, N. Y. Was Refused Life Insurance on Account of Bright's Disease, but After Taking Warner's Safe Cure Was Accepted and Now Has His Policy.

Mr. WILLIAM F. MONTGOMERY, of Albany.

Mr. Montgomery is a living testimonial of what this great medicine will do for any man or woman who has kidney or bladder trouble.

If you have any symptoms of kidney disease write the Medical Department, Warner's Safe Cure Company, Rochester, N. Y., for symptom blank, interesting medical booklet, and free doctor's advice.

"Instead of writing this letter, I wish it were possible for me to see and talk with all those who are suffering from kidney troubles. I could tell them in one brief interview what your medicine has done for me, what I know it will do for them. I enjoyed vigorous good health up to a year ago, when overwork seemed to undermine my constitution. I paid little attention to the matter until it was brought home to me forcibly by an insurance examination. The slight improvement and growth in a month abdomen was entirely eliminated from the urine. I gained rapidly in strength and health and am now in perfect condition. My life insurance has been granted me and I feel that I owe my life to Warner's Safe Cure."

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10, 1904. Warner's Safe Cure has been used by me in adding doctors and prescribed in their practice, and sold by druggists everywhere, for over 30 years, as the certain cure for all diseases of kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that cure and leaves no dangerous after effects. 50 cents and one dollar a bottle.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES AND Imitations. They are worthless and often exceedingly dangerous. Ask for Warner's Safe Cure; it will cure you. WARNER'S SAFE PILLS move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure.

BANKERS' MEETING AT FREMONT

Discuss Subjects of Interest to the Profession.

FREMONT, Neb., April 22.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of group 2 of the State Bankers' association met in this city yesterday afternoon. The bankers were not very prompt in getting together and it was considerably past the appointed time when President Stevens called them to order in Masonic lodge hall. Rev. C. W. Weaver of the Presbyterian church offered prayer and Mayor Wols gave them the freedom of the city. Julius Beckman, cashier of the Fremont National bank, attended a welcome on behalf of the local bankers, which was responded to by Charles Perry, president of the First National bank of Wahoo. After the president's address the meeting adjourned until evening, when the annual banquet was served. The attendance was larger than during the afternoon session, about seventy-five visitors being present. After the banquet was disposed of President Stevens officiated as toastmaster. Toasts were responded to by J. F. Treney, president of the state association, Ira H. Williams, chairman of the Fremont National bank, Deemer, C. R. Gurney of Fremont and John Rush, national bank examiner, who spoke on the subject, "How Shall a Bank's Interest Be Protected from Foes Without and Foes Within?"

This morning L. V. Haskell, state bank examiner, read a paper on "The Country Banker, as I Know Him." He contrasted the loose and lax methods of banking which prevailed at an early day before state supervision and the conservative methods which now prevail. The country banks under his supervision, he said, were all carefully conducted and safe and secure. "Farm Leases" was the subject assigned to Charles A. Randall of Newman Grove. He did not have a very high opinion of the business capacity of the average farmer and believed that the owner's interests were not sufficiently protected. He thought a bond should be required of the renter to return the property in as good shape as when he took it. The forcible entry and detention law he also thought insufficient. W. J. Courtwright spoke at some length on the new revenue law. He thought it a great improvement on the old, but not perfect by any means. For half an hour he answered questions which had been propounded him by the bankers and considerable discussion followed.

Lieutenant Governor McGill of Omaha read a paper on "Needed Legislation." He spoke of the need of a uniform law on commercial paper and of the efforts that had been made to secure the enactment of such a law. It was one of the best considered and carefully studied papers that the convention had the pleasure of listening to and of an eminently practical nature. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, T. C. Stevens, Blair; vice president, Charles Perry, Wahoo; secretary and treasurer, W. E. Smalls, Fremont. The attendance at the meeting was the largest at any meeting of the group.

Robert West Goes Free. HOT SPRINGS, S. D., April 22.—(Special.)—Robert D. West, former agent of the Burlington & Missouri at this place, was tried in the district court, now in session here, for the embezzlement of $1,024.11 from the company while in its employ. The plea of insanity was entered by the defendant. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The case was of great interest, as the defendant was well known, and the various church organizations are interesting themselves in his behalf.

COMPANY IS NOT INSOLVENT

Bankers Union Loses on All Other Points at Issue.

SOME STRICTURES ON THE MANAGEMENT

Travellingmen Assemble at Lincoln for Convention, Transact Business and Also Have a Good Time.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 22.—(Special.)—In the opinion of the press of the Bankers' Union of the World the report that the company of the state in every allegation except one, and that was that the company was insolvent. The court said that under its present plan the company would be able to pay all death claims, if the plan was properly carried out. In the office of the attorney general it is held that the decision practically puts an end to the company, while Judge Field, attorney for the company, stated that the company would be able to comply with the decision.

The court passed upon the questions raised in detail. In the matter of appointing a receiver, the court held that quo warranto proceedings to oust the present officers should have been brought, and that if such proceedings were brought it would not deny that they may be sustained. The court held that the reports filed with the auditor by the company during the last few years were not in compliance with the law and that until this error was corrected the company would be enjoined from doing business.

The court held that directors were not elected by the members of the company and that until this error was corrected the company could not do business. The company was enjoined from doing any business until a stated salary to be paid the president is agreed upon and he is stopped from receiving commissions. The court found that the taking over of other orders had been discontinued before the action was brought, and merely expressed its disapproval of the plan. The court refused to compel the auditor to restate the company until all the errors were corrected.

In the matter of salary drawn by President Spitzer and Mrs. Spitzer, the court said: "The referee finds that from the organization of the Bankers Union of the World its president advanced various sums for its use. There is no evidence or tabulated statements of the amount drawn out by him. There is in evidence sufficient data to show that the amounts paid to him as salary (not including commissions) is $5,078.78. This means less than $1,000 a year that the president has received, and in commenting upon the referee's finding the court said: "The finding of the referee that there is in evidence no tabulated statements of the amounts paid to him, is to our minds more serious in its nature and consequences than would appear to be regarded by the referee. There should be no uncertainty in the accounts between a salaried officer and the society, and the auditor would undoubtedly be justified in refusing to certify to a society in whose transactions such uncertainty existed."

The company is enjoined from transacting business until it is shown to the auditor that this is corrected and that no claims of the president are entertained by the company except the regular and reasonable salary fixed by the board of directors. County Not Liable. The judgment obtained in the district court by H. M. Cameron, administrator of the estate of Joseph B. Gooch, against the county of Johnson, is set aside and the case reversed as to the liability of the county engine over one of the county bridges and the structure giving way beneath him, he was killed. This was on July 25, 1901. Suit was brought for $5,000 damages. The court says that a county cannot be held as the insurer of those who have occasion to use its bridges, and that if there are any defects, latent in character, and not discoverable from the ordinary tests and examinations, and if the county is not negligent in that regard, it is not liable.

Travellingmen in Town. The jolliest bunch of good fellows that Lincoln has entertained for a long time are now guests of the city and the bunch includes the delegates to the convention of the Nebraska division of the Traveling Men's Protective association. During the day about seventy-five delegates reached town, informally passed a resolution to relegate shop talk until the proper time and at once started out to have a good look at the elephant which is always to be found around Lincoln. This evening a reception was held at the Lindell, followed by a banquet given by Post C of Lincoln. An hour before the banquet, however, the convention was called to order by President A. V. Whiting, who delivered his annual address, and committees were appointed. At the banquet James H. Wintersteen was toastmaster and these men talked: Judge Holmes of Lincoln delivered the welcome address; R. F. Bacon, when he responded; H. M. Bushnell on "Advancement of the Commerce of the West"; W. J. McMillan on "Influence, Power and Responsibility of the Commercial Salesman"; Charles S. Hopper on "T. P. A.—What Is It, and Why Should We Be Members"; George E. Jenkins of Fairbury on "The Evolution of the Traveling Man"; R. F. Holgin read his report as secretary and treasurer. Hot shots from the minute men then followed. The convention will be in session tomorrow morning.

Too Much Cocaine. An unidentified young man dressed as a laborer was found unconscious in the basement of the Burlington depot tonight by Sergeant McWilliams, who was called by the effects of too much cocaine. He was taken to the police station and it is thought will recover. His cap had been purchased from the Boston Store, Omaha, and it is thought he came from Omaha this afternoon. He had nothing on him by which he could be identified.

Democrat Is Lucky. ALLIANCE, Neb., April 22.—(Special.)—The contest for county treasurer that has been hanging fire since last November between Alexander Multhead, republican, and Charles W. Brennan, democrat, was decided today in the district court by a drawing contest, Brennan capturing the lucky number. This was the legal settlement of the case, for out of a vote of more than 1,100 both were tie.

Are Hard After Healy. NEW YORK, April 22.—John J. Healy, who was arrested in Chicago at the request of the New York police, is wanted in this city for the alleged larceny of $238 on September 27, 1903, from the Central Alaska Exploration company. Anticipating efforts to fight extradition, the officers here have wired full information regarding the case to Chicago, and also have sent exemplified copies of the papers in the case.

Suspected of Bank Robbery. Men Under Arrest at Homer Appear to Tell Straight Story. O'NEILL, Neb., April 22.—(Special.)—The city marshal received a message today from the officials of Boyd county stating that two young men suspected of being the Napier bank robbers were riding on the blind baggage of an incoming passenger train, having boarded the train at Aikinson or Stuart and asking that they be taken from the train and lodged in jail. Accordingly Bennett Martin, the local marshal, hauled them in from the blind baggage when the train arrived. They gave the names of Otto Smith and John Balding, say they are not bank robbers or any other kind of robbers, but insist that they are hard working young men. They tell a very straight story in giving an account of themselves and they have every appearance of being on the square except that they were stealing a ride when they arrested. All the money they had in their possession amounted to less than $5. They say that at the time the bank robbery occurred they were working for Contractor James McDonough at Plum Creek at grading work and that they left Long Pine Tuesday night. It is not believed here by anyone who has talked with them that they are the guilty parties, but it was thought best to comply with the request of the county attorney of Boyd county and hold them until the arrival of the officials from Butte.

HELPS OUT SHORT GRASS COUNTRY. Passage of Kinkaid Bill Great Benefit to Country. ALLIANCE, Neb., April 22.—(Special.)—Northwest Nebraska is jubilant today over the news received from Washington that Congressman Kinkaid's bill providing for a full section for homesteaded purposes passed the senate yesterday and would be signed by the president in a few days. This new law applies practically to the whole of the Sixth congressional district, or the arid lands of Nebraska, and at once removes evils that have been detrimental to the proper advancement of this section. Bruce Wilson, secretary of the United States land office at this point, briefly summed up a few of the advantages of this new enactment in the following interview: "Yes, I have heard of the passage of Judge Kinkaid's bill; in fact, have just received a telegram from Senator Millard giving me information and in reply have congratulated both he and the judge for their very strenuous efforts in behalf of our people, for at one fell stroke they have eliminated evils that were harming us, for instance, the fence question is of greater moment to us here than our neighbors in other sections of the state could believe; in fact, it has become so serious that neighbor is pitted against neighbor. This will be entirely eliminated. The struggle for range, also, is a thing of the past, and who but those unacquainted with our ways in this direction, can say that this is a relief. The man now who has a small bunch of cattle can do justice by them on 60 acres, where heretofore he had to scheme and plot for his very existence, and in too many instances these schemes and plots were productive only of the fraudulent final foreclosures of the state, as shown by our land office records. Then, far and above all of this, it will be the means of encouraging and promoting thicker settlement, and this in itself is of such vast importance that the brief confines of an interview can not begin to tell of its merit; but those who have lived here, and as well those who have viewed our expansive and apparently deserted acres, can well understand."
